My Accredited Scope of Practice

My accreditations support different aspects of the work I do with clients. Together, they provide the professional foundation for the transformational coaching, mindset and NLP-based work used throughout my coaching process.

1. Change & Transformation Coach Associate

Supporting meaningful transformation from where you are to who you choose to become.

This accreditation supports my work in helping clients recognise where they are, clarify what they want to achieve, and explore the beliefs, perspectives and sense of self that may influence their progress.

The focus is not only on reaching a goal, but on becoming the person who believes they are capable of creating and living that outcome.

2. ICR Coach Associate

Professional recognition as a coach registered with the International Coaches Register (ICR).

3. Negative Emotional Therapy Practitioner® Associate

Working with negative emotions and associated beliefs through NLP-based practices.

This accreditation supports my work with clients in exploring negative emotional experiences through guided NLP and visualisation techniques.

These techniques work with subconscious processes to explore experiences, emotional patterns and associated beliefs - including connections the client may not consciously recognise - with the aim of creating a different experience in relation to the emotion and what has become associated with it.

4. Neuro-Linguistic Programming Practitioner® Associate

Using NLP strategies to support meaningful changes in thoughts, beliefs, emotions and behaviour.

This accreditation supports my use of NLP techniques, including guided visualisation and subconscious processes, to explore how clients experience themselves, their challenges and the outcomes they want to create.

NLP strategies may be used to work with beliefs, emotional responses, confidence, internal patterns and goal setting - helping clients not only define what they want, but develop a stronger internal connection with the person capable of creating and living that outcome.

5. Life Coach® Associate

Supporting personal growth, direction, motivation and meaningful action.

This accreditation supports my work in helping clients gain clarity about where they are and where they want to go, set meaningful goals, explore their options and take responsibility for moving forward.

Through coaching, motivation, accountability and mentoring, I support clients in applying agreed exercises, reflecting on what they discover and recognising how new insights can translate into meaningful change in their everyday lives.

6. Transformation Coach® Associate

Professional recognition of my practice as a Transformation Coach registered with the International Coaches Register (ICR).

Working Within My Scope

I work within the boundaries of my professional training, competence and accreditation. My coaching and NLP-based work are not presented as psychological, psychiatric or medical diagnosis or treatment. Where a client's needs fall outside my professional scope, I will communicate this openly and, where appropriate, encourage support from an appropriately qualified professional.
