

Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy applies to all products and services provided under the Studio Syty brand, including sales made through the Systeme.io platform.

We only collect personal information necessary for order fulfillment and communication, such as your name, email address, and payment details. This data is used exclusively to process orders, manage customer relationships, and fulfill legal obligations.

We never sell or share your personal data with third parties. Your data is securely stored via the Systeme.io platform and Stripe payment processor.

You may request access to or deletion of your personal data at any time by contacting us at: studio.syty@outlook.com
