

English Pronunciation Coaching

Speak clearly. Communicate confidently. Be remembered.

PRIVATE COACHING

Alejandro Zuluaga
Pronunciation Coach

Meet Alejandro

For years, I believed pronunciation was about talent.

It wasn't.

It was awareness, repetition, and learning how spoken English actually works.

Today, I help professionals sound clearer, more natural, and more confident in high-stakes environments.

My coaching combines pronunciation training, fluency development, mindset work, and intentional practice so progress becomes sustainable — not temporary.

Most professionals don't need more English.

They need to stop speaking from fear.

It's not about having a bigger vocabulary.

→ Stop translating

It's not about memorizing more rules.

→ Start communicating

It's about finally trusting your voice.

→ Lead conversations — naturally

- ☐ When you understand how spoken English actually works, everything changes. That's what this 12-week journey is designed to give you.

What Changes During The Process

Four dimensions of transformation — each one building on the last.

Clarity

Learn to hear and produce the sounds most Spanish speakers miss. Precision at the phonetic level transforms how you're understood.

Rhythm

Understand how native English actually flows and connects. Master stress, linking, and the music of the language.

Confidence

Stop monitoring every word while speaking. Build the internal trust that lets you communicate freely and spontaneously.

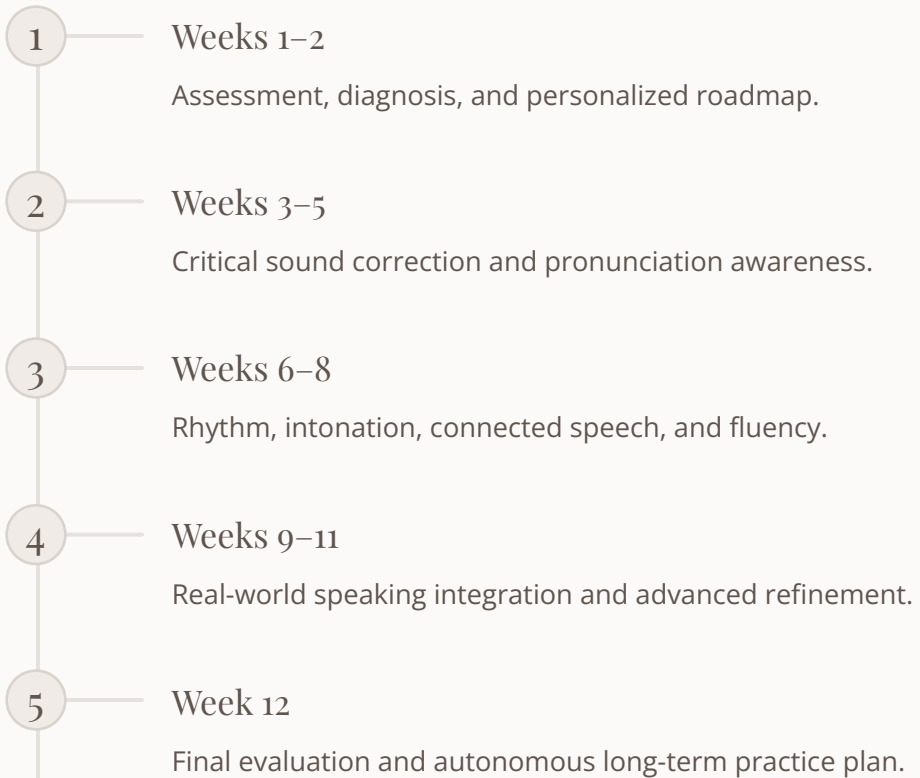

Presence

Communicate with calm, authority, and natural expression. Be the person in the room who commands attention effortlessly.

The 12-Week Process

A structured, phase-by-phase journey from diagnosis to full autonomy.

Every phase is designed with intention. Every session moves you forward.

Why This Approach Works

Sustainable progress requires more than drills. It requires a complete system.

Diagnosis First

Every journey begins with a precise assessment of your current patterns — no guesswork, no generic advice.

Targeted Correction

We focus on the specific sounds and habits that are actually holding you back — not a one-size-fits-all curriculum.

Intentional Repetition

Real change comes from structured, deliberate practice — not passive exposure or random study.

Mindset Integration

Confidence is built alongside skill. We address the mental side of speaking so progress sticks under pressure.

Who This Is For

This coaching is for you if...

- You're a professional who uses English at work and want to sound more natural and authoritative.
- You feel your accent or pronunciation is limiting your impact in meetings, presentations, or calls.
- You're tired of overthinking every sentence before you speak.
- You want a structured, personalized path — not another app or generic course.

You'll walk away with...

- A clear understanding of how spoken English actually works — rhythm, stress, and connected speech.
- Corrected pronunciation habits that feel natural, not forced.
- The confidence to speak without fear in any professional setting.
- A long-term autonomous practice plan to keep improving on your own.

What Students Are Saying

Real transformations from professionals across the world.

“

Before starting this coaching, I often struggled to express myself clearly in meetings. Alejandro helped me understand the American vowel and consonant sounds in a way that finally made sense. The live feedback was incredibly precise. Now I speak with much more clarity and confidence in professional settings.

Paula H.

Financial Analyst · Colombia

I enrolled because I kept being misunderstood when speaking English on international projects. This coaching gave me a strong foundation — from IPA to connected speech and -s endings. My pronunciation and communication have improved dramatically.

Dedicated Coach

Alejandro Zuluaga — committed to your transformation.

BEGIN YOUR TRANSFORMATION

Your Voice Changes Everything.

This is not just pronunciation training. It's the process of becoming someone who communicates clearly, naturally, and confidently in English.

No more overthinking.

Speak in the moment — not from a script running in your head.

No more speaking from fear.

Replace anxiety with the calm that comes from genuine skill.

No more hiding behind "good enough."

You deserve to be heard — clearly, fully, and on your own terms.

Begin Your Transformation

Your Voice Deserves to Be Heard

This is not a course. It is a guided, personalized process — designed around your voice, your patterns, and your professional goals.

If you're ready to communicate with clarity and confidence, the next step is simple.
