

Supported by:

Office for Product
Safety & Standards

MOUTHING BEYOND THREE

Many sensory-seeking children and young people continue mouthing objects well beyond age 3, yet toy safety regulations are designed for typical development and assume mouthing stops by 36 months.

Mouthing Beyond Three offers free workshops this October to support you in navigating this challenge.

Safe play for all

ToyScope

Mini First Aid

Lou's Legacy CIC

Wonder Neurodiversity CIC

PUBLIC EVENT

About Our Event

Join us for a free, supportive event created by families, for families and professionals. These events bring together real expertise, lived experience, and practical strategies to help you feel more confident in keeping everyone safe while honouring their sensory needs.

7 Oct 2025 (10am)
St Helens

14 Oct 2025 (10am)
Liverpool

Event Highlights

Meet families ◀

Hear Andrea's story that reminds us that vigilance matters at every age

Learn strategies ◀

Learn to assess toys beyond age labels and identify hidden risks

Gain confidence ◀

Practise emergency response with hands-on first aid training

RESERVE YOUR TICKET

Instagram
@Toy.Scope

Website
toyscope.org

