

My List of PROBLEMS

Look deep within yourself and reflect on the things that bother you.

Write them out one by one as you think of them. List out every problem you can think of, from the minor to the major. Study the list and look address each problem individually, to divide and conquer rather than cower in fear

[illegible]