3 Simple KDP Book Paths You Can Start With

When starting with KDP, most beginners get stuck because they don't know what type of book to create.

Here are three simple paths:

1. Journal Books

- Simple to create
- No complex design required
- Ideal for first-time creators

Example: Gratitude journal, daily planner, habit tracker

2. Puzzle Books: Sudoku / Word Search

- High demand in many niches
- Fun and repeatable format
- Great for themed books

Example: Easy Sudoku for adults, gardening word search

3. Kids & Kindle Books

- Creative and flexible
- Can be text-based or illustrated
- Suitable for storytelling or learning

Example: Alphabet books, simple guides, short beginner ebooks

You don't need to do all of them.

Pick one path and start simple.

Choose Your First Book Idea

Sudoku	Puzzle lovers	Easy Sudoku for Adults

Simple Rule

Your first book should be:

- Easy to create
- Clear to understand
- Focused on one audience

Important

Your goal is not to create a perfect book.

Your goal is to publish your first clean book and learn the process.

Before You Create: Quick KDP Validation Checklist

Before you start creating your book, check these:

- Is the idea easy to understand?
- Can people search for this on Amazon?
 - Are similar books already available?
- Can you make it slightly more specific?
 - Is the target audience clear?
- Can you realistically create this book?
 - Is the title simple and clear?

If most answers are “yes”, you’re ready to move forward.
