

The 10 Biggest Wedding Planning Mistakes

– And How To Avoid Them

01

NOT BUILDING IN BUFFER TIME

Things always run late and it snowballs fast. Add 15–30 minutes of buffer between key parts of the day.

02

Skipping a Timeline Run-Through

Not everyone knows where to be when. Share your timeline with vendors & bridal party ahead of time.

03

Missed photo and video opportunities

You can't remember all the photo/video combinations in your head. Provide a shoot list to your photo/video team before the wedding.

04

Trying to Do Too Much on the Day

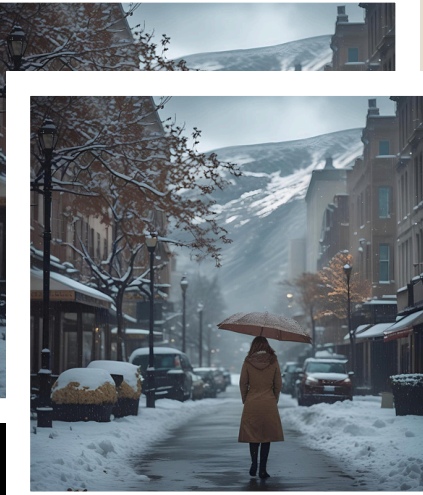

Tight schedules and too many locations= stress and less joy. Simplify your timeline and focus on connection, not perfection. party ahead of time.

Not Having a Plan for Bad Weather

05

Rain, heat, or wind can totally change your day. Have a solid backup plan with your venue and photo/video team.

Forgetting About Audio for Your Vows or Speeches

06

Bad audio = bad video, even if it looks great. Use a professional filmmaker who records clean, clear audio.

Trying to Please Everyone

07

You can't and you'll burn out trying. Stay focused on what you two want.

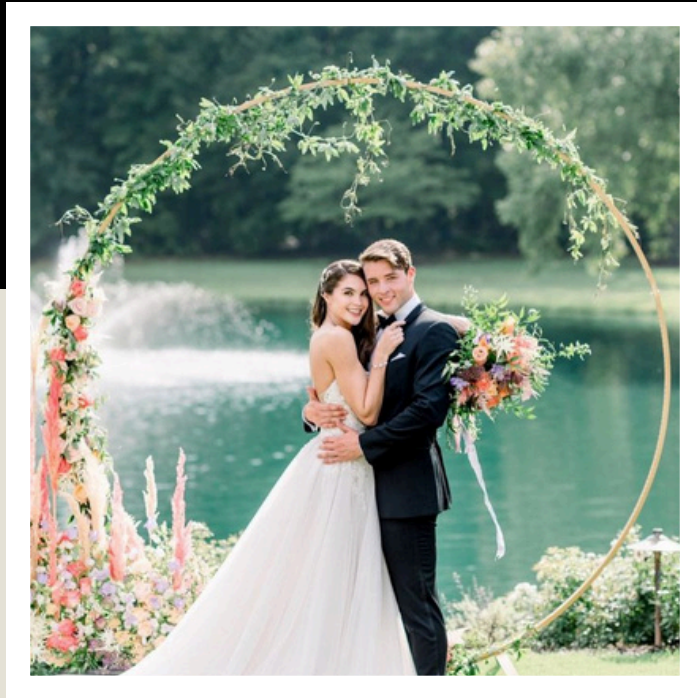

08

FORGETTING WHAT'S IMPORTANT

Not leaving time for just the two of you. The day flies by. Couples often say they barely saw each other. Schedule 10-15 quiet minutes after the ceremony or at sunset.

09

OVERLOOKING TRAVEL TIME BETWEEN LOCATIONS

Driving eats up more time than you think. Build in extra minutes + prepare for traffic or parking issues.

10

Not Hiring a Professional Photographer and Videographer-(us!)

Photos are amazing but video lets you hear voices, laughter, and emotion forever.

Invest in a video you'll want to watch every anniversary and show your future kids someday. If video matters to you, choose someone who can capture more than moments someone who knows how to tell your story with light, sound, and heart. (And yes if you're still looking, I'd love to help.)
