Dedication

To everyone walking through a season of waiting,
this devotional is for you.

For the one praying for answers that haven't come yet, for the heart learning to trust when nothing seems to move,
for the soul growing weary but still holding on in faith, may these pages remind you that God has not forgotten you.

He is working in the stillness, writing your story with purpose, and preparing blessings far greater than you can imagine.

You are not behind. You are right on time in His plan.

With love and prayer,

Claudia Lucero

Introduction

“Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding.” – Proverbs 3:5

Waiting is one of the hardest parts of faith. We love when God moves quickly when prayers are answered, doors open, and life falls into place. But what about when He doesn't? When the answers seem delayed, when heaven feels quiet, and when your heart whispers, “How much longer?”

It's in those seasons that God teaches us the deepest lessons of trust.

This devotional was written for those moments, the quiet, unseen days when you're doing everything right, but nothing seems to be moving. It's for the believer who's holding on to a promise, praying through uncertainty, and learning to find peace in the waiting.

Over the next 30 days, we'll walk together through Scripture, reflection, and prayer to discover how to:

- Trust God's timing when life feels out of control.
- Find peace in the process, not just in the outcome.
- Recognize God's hand even when His voice feels silent.
- Wait with faith, not fear.

Each day includes a Bible verse, a heartfelt reflection, a question to help you connect with God personally, and a prayer to guide your conversation with Him. Go slowly, let each truth sink in. Some days will bring comfort; others might stir conviction. But all will draw you closer to the heart of the One who is never late.

Waiting isn't a punishment, it's preparation. It's where God shapes your character, strengthens your faith, and deepens your dependence on Him.

As you begin this journey, my prayer is that you'll stop seeing waiting as wasted time and start seeing it as holy ground.

Because God does some of His most beautiful work in the seasons we'd rather rush through.

So, take a deep breath. Lay down your timeline. And trust that the One who holds time itself knows exactly when and how to fulfill His promises.

You're right on time in God's story.

With love and prayer,

Claudia Lucero

How to Use This Devotional

This 30-day journey was designed to help you draw closer to God as you learn to trust His timing, rest in His presence, and find peace in the waiting. Each day offers Scripture, reflection, a heart-focused question, and a prayer to guide your conversation with God. Take your time. Allow these moments with the Lord to settle deeply into your spirit.

Here are a few simple ways to use this devotional:

1. Begin with Prayer

Start each day by inviting the Holy Spirit to speak to your heart. Ask God to calm your mind, open your understanding, and show you what He wants you to see in this season.

A tender prayer to begin might be:

“Lord, prepare my heart to receive Your truth today. Help me trust Your timing.”

2. Read Slowly and Reflect

Take your time with each day’s Scripture and reflection.

Let the words sink in.

You don’t have to rush. God often speaks in the quiet, unhurried moments.

3. Answer the Reflection Question Thoughtfully

Use the space provided or a journal to write your responses.

This isn’t just about reading — it’s about connecting with God on a personal level.

Writing helps you process what He’s teaching you and recognize where He’s moving in your life.

4. Pray with Intention

Each prayer is crafted to help you draw nearer to God.

Read it slowly or use it as inspiration to continue praying in your own words.

Let your heart be honest, open, and vulnerable before the Lord.

5. Revisit as Needed

Some days will speak to you more deeply than others. Feel free to return to those pages as often as you need. God can use the same Scripture to speak in fresh ways depending on the season you're in.

6. Move at Your Own Pace

While this devotional is structured for 30 days, feel free to go slower if needed. What matters is not completing it quickly but allowing God to transform your heart through each truth.

7. Let God Lead the Journey

As you move through these reflections, surrender your expectations and let God work in the hidden places of your heart. He has something beautiful to reveal through this devotional, something meant just for you.

A Final Invitation

Make space in your day, even if it's just a few quiet minutes to meet with God. Trust that He will speak. He will guide. And He will carry you through every moment of waiting with grace, strength, and perfect timing.

Acknowledgments

First, I give all honor and glory to God, the One who teaches us to trust, to wait, and to rest in His perfect timing. Every page of this devotional was written through His grace, His leading, and His quiet whispers in the waiting. Without Him, these words would not exist.

To my family, thank you for your love, encouragement, and patience as I poured my heart into this devotional. Your support has been a constant blessing, and your faith has strengthened my own.

To my friends and my faith community, thank you for your prayers, inspiration, and testimonies. Many of the truths in these pages were shaped by conversations, shared experiences, and the way God has moved in your lives. Your faith has encouraged mine.

To every reader who picks up this devotional, thank you. Thank you for trusting me to walk with you through this season. My prayer is that each day brings you closer to God's heart, deeper into His peace, and closer to the beautiful plan He is unfolding in your life.

May this devotional remind you that you are never waiting alone. God is with you, working in every detail, and carrying you through every moment.

With gratitude and prayer,

Day 2 – The Purpose in the Waiting

Scripture: “The testing of your faith produces perseverance.” – James 1:3

Reflection:

Waiting isn't wasted time, it's preparation time. God uses the waiting to shape our character and refine our faith. While we focus on what we're waiting for, He's focused on who we're becoming. Every prayer, every tear, every quiet moment in the waiting has purpose. The process may stretch you, but it's also strengthening you for the promise ahead.

Reflection Question:

What might God be teaching you during your current season of waiting?

Prayer:

Lord, thank You for reminding me that waiting has purpose. When I grow impatient, help me remember that You are working behind the scenes. Teach me to grow in faith, humility, and endurance while I wait. Let this season prepare me for the blessings You have ahead. Amen.

Day 6 – Faith Over Feelings

Scripture: “We walk by faith, not by sight.” – 2 Corinthians 5:7

Reflection:

Feelings change, but faith remains. Some days, you may not feel strong or hopeful, but faith isn't built on emotion, it's anchored in God's promises. Choosing faith over feelings is an act of spiritual maturity. It says, "God, even when I don't feel it, I still believe You are good." Faith keeps your eyes fixed on the eternal when emotions try to pull you into the temporary.

Reflection Question:

What promise do you need to keep believing in, despite how you feel?

Prayer:

Lord, help me to walk by faith and not by sight. When my emotions waver, ground me in Your truth. Let my heart be anchored in Your Word and my hope rooted in Your promises. Strengthen my faith to keep believing, even when feelings fade. Amen.

Day 7 – Surrendering the Timeline

Scripture: “Commit your way to the Lord; trust in Him, and He will act.” – Psalm 37:5

Reflection:

True peace comes when you stop trying to control the outcome and trust God with the timeline. Surrendering your schedule doesn't mean giving up, it means giving God permission to move in His perfect way. When you release your plans, you make space for His miracles. The waiting becomes less about “when” and more about “Who.”

Reflection Question:

What specific situation do you need to surrender completely to God today?

Prayer:

Father, I give You my plans, my expectations, and my timeline. Help me to rest in Your perfect wisdom and trust that You know what's best for me. Teach me to let go of worry and hold tightly to Your promises. I believe that everything will unfold beautifully in Your time. Amen.

End of Week 1: You're learning to trust God's timing with peace and surrender. Next week, we'll explore how waiting grows faith, strengthens patience, and builds endurance, turning trust into transformation.

Week 2 – Growing in Faith Through Delay

Day 8 – Faith That Waits

Scripture: “Let us hold unswervingly to the hope we profess, for He who promised is faithful.” – Hebrews 10:23

Reflection:

Faith doesn't remove the wait; it transforms how we endure it. God's promises are never empty He fulfills them in the perfect moment. While the world rushes, faith stands still and believes that what God started, will finish. Waiting strengthens our spiritual muscles, teaching us to trust what we cannot yet see.

Reflection Question:

What promise are you holding onto right now that requires you to wait in faith?

Prayer:

Lord, give me the strength to wait with faith and hope. Help me hold tightly to Your promises when doubt tries to creep in. Let patience replace frustration and peace replace fear. Remind me that You are faithful and that every delay has purpose. Amen.

Day 9 – Strength in the Stretching

Scripture: “My grace is sufficient for you, for My power is made perfect in weakness.” – 2 Corinthians 12:9

Reflection:

The waiting season stretches you; it tests your endurance and reveals what you truly believe about God. But every stretch makes room for new strength. When your own power runs out, His grace begins to overflow. Instead of fighting the stretching, embrace it—it’s God preparing you for something greater than you can imagine.

Reflection Question:

How have your challenges stretched and strengthened your faith?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for using this season to grow me. Even when it feels uncomfortable, I know You are shaping my heart. Give me strength to endure and faith to see the purpose in the stretching. Let Your grace fill every weak place in me. Amen.

Day 10 – The Blessing of Patience

Scripture: “Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer.” – Romans 12:12

Reflection:

Patience isn't just about waiting—it's about waiting with joy and faith. It's easy to be patient when things are easy; it's holy to be patient when things are hard. When you choose patience, you're declaring, "I trust God's timing more than my own." Patience turns the wait into worship.

Reflection Question:

What does patient faith look like in your current season of waiting?

Prayer:

Lord, help me to wait with joy and peace. Teach me to trust Your timing even when I'm tempted to rush. Fill me with patience that comes from Your Spirit and confidence in Your plan. Thank You that every moment of waiting is working for my good. Amen.

Day 11 – God’s Timing Builds Endurance

Scripture: “But the one who stands firm to the end will be saved.” – Matthew 24:13

Reflection:

Endurance is born in the middle of the wait. It’s easy to believe when the promise is fresh, but real faith stays steady even when it’s tested by time. Each day you continue to trust, even without visible change, your faith grows deeper roots. Endurance doesn’t just help you finish—it strengthens you to finish well.

Reflection Question:

Where have you seen God build endurance in your life through waiting?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for the gift of endurance. When I grow weary, remind me that You are strengthening me for the long run. Help me stay faithful, consistent, and hopeful even when progress feels slow. I trust that You will complete what You have begun. Amen.

Day 12 – Don't Give Up

Scripture: “Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up.” – Galatians 6:9

Reflection:

It's often darkest before the breakthrough. When you're tempted to give up, remember that God is still working, especially when you can't see it. The waiting is never wasted. Every act of obedience and every prayer sown in faith will reap a harvest in due season. Keep going; you're closer than you think.

Reflection Question:

What truth helps you keep going when you feel like giving up?

Prayer:

Lord, when I feel tired and ready to quit, fill me with fresh strength. Remind me that my perseverance honors You. Help me to stay faithful, knowing that You will bring forth a harvest at the perfect time. I will keep believing, keep praying, and keep trusting You. Amen.

Day 14 – Faith That Moves Forward

Scripture: “Now faith is confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see.” – Hebrews 11:1

Reflection:

Faith doesn't freeze in fear, it moves forward in trust. Sometimes God doesn't give you the whole picture because He wants you to walk one step at a time. As you take small steps of obedience, you'll find that His light meets you along the way. Faith doesn't need to know the destination; it just needs to trust the direction.

Reflection Question:

What step of faith is God asking you to take today, even if you can't see the full path?

Prayer:

Lord, strengthen my faith to keep moving forward. Help me walk with confidence even when the road ahead feels uncertain. Remind me that You go before me and light every step I take. I trust that as I move in faith, You will make the way clear. Amen.

End of Week 2: You're learning to let your faith grow deeper and stronger in delay. Next, in Week 3, we'll focus on finding peace and strength in the middle of waiting, learning how to rest, worship, and trust God in every quiet season.

Week 3 – Peace and Strength in the Waiting

Day 15 – Be Still and Know

Scripture: “Be still, and know that I am God.” – Psalm 46:10

Reflection:

Peace begins when striving ends. God invites you to stop trying to fix, figure out, or force what only He can do. In stillness, you remember that He is God, and you are safely held in His hands. The waiting is not a pause in His plan; it’s a place where trust deepens. Be still, breathe, and let His peace settle your soul.

Reflection Question:

What would it look like for you to “be still” in this season of waiting?

Prayer:

Father, teach me to be still in Your presence. Quiet my anxious thoughts and fill me with peace. I release my need to control and choose to rest in You. Help me remember that You are working even when I can’t see it. In Jesus’ name, Amen.

Day 16 – Peace in the Middle of Chaos

Scripture: “You will keep in perfect peace those whose minds are steadfast, because they trust in You.” – Isaiah 26:3

Reflection:

Peace isn't found in perfect circumstances; it's found in a steadfast heart. When chaos surrounds you, fix your mind on God's promises, not your problems. True peace isn't the absence of trouble; it's the presence of God in the middle of it. As you trust Him more deeply, His peace begins to guard your thoughts and emotions.

Reflection Question:

What thoughts or worries do you need to surrender to find peace today?

Prayer:

Lord, thank You for being my peace. When life feels overwhelming, remind me that You are still in control. Help me keep my mind on Your Word and my heart anchored in Your promises. Let Your peace rule where fear once lived. Amen.

Day 17 – Finding Strength in Weakness

Scripture: “The Lord is my strength and my shield; my heart trusts in Him, and He helps me.” – Psalm 28:7

Reflection:

When your strength runs out, God’s begins. Waiting can feel exhausting, but it’s in your weakness that His power shines brightest. You don’t have to carry the weight of every unanswered prayer; He will sustain you. Trust Him to renew your energy, restore your joy, and give you the strength to keep believing one more day.

Reflection Question:

Where do you need God’s strength to carry you right now?

Prayer:

Father, I admit that I am tired and need Your strength. Fill me with Your power and renew my heart. When I feel weak, remind me that You are strong in me. Help me to lean on Your strength instead of my own. Thank You for never failing me. Amen.

Day 18 – Worship While You Wait

Scripture: “I will bless the Lord at all times; His praise will continually be in my mouth.”
– Psalm 34:1

Reflection:

Worship is your weapon in the waiting. Praise shifts your focus from the problem to the Promise Keeper. It invites peace to replace frustration and turns waiting into a time of intimacy with God. When you worship through your worry, heaven moves on your behalf. Your song of praise declares, “Even here, even now, I trust You.”

Reflection Question:

How can you turn your waiting into worship this week?

Prayer:

Lord, let my worship rise above my worries. Help me to praise You not only when life is good but especially when it’s hard. Fill my mouth with gratitude and my heart with joy. I choose to honor You in the waiting because I know You are faithful. Amen.

Day 19 – God Is Working Behind the Scenes

Scripture: “My Father is always at His work to this very day, and I too am working.” – John 5:17

Reflection:

Even when you can't see it, God is working behind the scenes. He's aligning hearts, opening doors, and preparing blessings that you don't yet know about. The silence doesn't mean inactivity, it means strategy. God never stops moving; He just moves in ways you can't see yet. Trust that your miracle is already in motion.

Reflection Question:

Where do you need to remind yourself that God is working, even if you can't see it?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for working in the unseen places of my life. Help me to trust Your process even when progress feels invisible. Strengthen my faith to believe that You're arranging everything for my good. Thank You that Your hands are never idle and Your heart is always toward me. Amen.

Day 20 – The Peace of Surrender

Scripture: “Cast all your anxiety on Him because He cares for you.” – 1 Peter 5:7

Reflection:

Peace doesn't come from figuring things out, it comes from handing them over. When you surrender your worries to God, you make room for His peace to enter. The moment you stop trying to carry what was never yours to hold, the burden lifts. Surrender isn't losing, it's trusting that God can do far more with your situation than you ever could.

Reflection Question:

What is one thing you need to release into God's hands today?

Prayer:

Lord, I give You the things that weigh on my heart. I release my fears, worries, and expectations into Your capable hands. Help me trust that You care deeply about every detail of my life. Fill me with Your peace as I rest in Your promises. Amen.

Day 21 – Renewed Strength for the Journey

Scripture: “But those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles.” – Isaiah 40:31

Reflection:

Every time you choose to hope again, God breathes new strength into your spirit. Waiting can feel like walking uphill, but hope lifts your heart to higher ground. When you fix your eyes on Him, weariness turns to endurance. God doesn't just want you to survive the wait, He wants you to soar through it.

Reflection Question:

How can you renew your hope and strength in God this week?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for renewing my strength when I feel weary. Help me to keep my hope anchored in You. Lift my heart above discouragement and remind me that I am never walking alone. Give me the endurance to keep moving forward with faith. Amen.

End of Week 3: You've learned to rest in God's presence and find peace even when the outcome is still unseen.

Next, in Week 4, we'll close the devotional by focusing on walking forward in hope and fulfillment, trusting that God's promises will unfold in His perfect time.

Week 4 – Walking Forward in Hope and Fulfillment

Day 22 – When the Answer Finally Comes

Scripture: “The Lord has done great things for us, and we are filled with joy.” – Psalm 126:3

Reflection:

When God’s promise finally unfolds, joy floods your heart. Suddenly, every tear, delay, and prayer makes sense. The waiting wasn’t wasted; it was preparation for this moment. But remember, the greatest blessing isn’t just the answered prayer; it’s the deeper faith you gained through the journey. Celebrate what God has done, and worship Him for who He’s always been, faithful and true.

Reflection Question:

What has God recently done that reminds you of His faithfulness?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for Your goodness and faithfulness. You never forgot me, even when I couldn’t see the way forward. I’m so grateful for what You’ve done and for who You are. Help me to always praise You, not only for the answers but for the waiting that made me stronger. Amen.

Day 23 – Living in God’s Timing Every Day

Scripture: “The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord, and He delights in his way.” – Psalm 37:23

Reflection:

Once you’ve learned to trust God’s timing, you start to live with peaceful rhythm. You stop rushing, comparing, or forcing what isn’t ready, and begin walking in step with Him. God’s timing isn’t just for big miracles; it’s for everyday moments. When you surrender your plans and let Him set the pace, you experience true peace.

Reflection Question:

How can you slow down and align your daily rhythm with God’s pace?

Prayer:

Lord, help me to walk in step with You each day. Teach me to trust Your timing in both small and big moments. Calm my hurried heart and help me listen for Your direction. May my days reflect the peace that comes from living in Your rhythm. Amen.

Day 24 – Trusting Again After Disappointment

Scripture: “The Lord is close to the brokenhearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit.” – Psalm 34:18

Reflection:

Disappointment can make it hard to trust again, but God meets you right where you are. He doesn't rush your healing; He gently restores your faith. What you lost doesn't define you; what God is doing next does. When you give Him your pain, He gives you purpose. You can trust again, not because the future is certain, but because He is.

Reflection Question:

What is one area where you need to trust God again after disappointment?

Prayer:

Father, heal my heart where disappointment has lingered. Help me believe again, even when it's hard. Remind me that You are near and that Your plans are still good. Restore my faith where it's been shaken and give me peace that only You can bring. Amen.

Day 25 – His Promises Still Stand

Scripture: “For no matter how many promises God has made, they are ‘Yes’ in Christ.”
– 2 Corinthians 1:20

Reflection:

Time cannot erase God’s promises. What He has spoken over your life still stands firm. His Word never returns empty, and His timing never fails. When you feel forgotten, remember, God’s silence is not His absence. The same voice that spoke the promise is still working to fulfill it. Keep standing, keep believing, and keep your eyes on Jesus, the Promise Keeper.

Reflection Question:

Which of God’s promises do you need to stand on today?

Prayer:

Lord, thank You that Your promises never change. Even when time passes and I grow weary, You remain faithful. Strengthen my heart to hold fast to Your Word. Help me to stand on Your truth until I see Your promises come to pass. Amen.

Day 26 – Purpose After the Process

Scripture: “And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love Him.” – Romans 8:28

Reflection:

Every delay, detour, and disappointment had a purpose. God used the process to shape you into someone stronger, wiser, and more compassionate. What once felt painful now carries divine purpose. Your story will one day encourage someone else who’s still in their waiting. The process wasn’t punishment, it was preparation.

Reflection Question:

What lesson or strength did God develop in you during your waiting season?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for bringing purpose out of pain. Help me see how You used every season to grow me. May my story bring hope to others and glory to You. I trust that nothing I’ve walked through was wasted. Amen.

Day 27 – The Testimony in the Timing

Scripture: “They overcame by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony.” – Revelation 12:11

Reflection:

Your story of waiting is a testimony in progress. When you share how God came through, you inspire others to hold on a little longer. What once brought tears will soon bring encouragement to someone else. God’s timing doesn’t just fulfill promises, it builds testimonies that point others to His faithfulness.

Reflection Question:

Who can you share your story with to encourage them in their own waiting?

Prayer:

Lord, thank You for turning my waiting into a testimony. Give me boldness to share how You’ve worked in my life. Let my story bring light, faith, and hope to others. May every part of my journey bring glory to Your name. Amen.

Day 28 – Walking in Gratitude

Scripture: “Give thanks in all circumstances; for this is God’s will for you in Christ Jesus.” – 1 Thessalonians 5:18

Reflection:

Gratitude turns waiting into worship. When you thank God even before the answer comes, you invite His peace into your heart. A grateful spirit sees the beauty in every season, because every moment is part of His plan. Gratitude doesn’t deny the hard things; it declares that God is good through them.

Reflection Question:

What are three things you can thank God for right now, even as you wait?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for all that You’ve done and all that You’re still doing. Teach me to live with a heart full of gratitude. Help me to see blessings in every season and to thank You for both the waiting and the fulfillment. Amen.

Day 29 – Walking Forward in Faith

Scripture: “We live by faith, not by sight.” – 2 Corinthians 5:7

Reflection:

Faith doesn't end when the waiting season does, it carries you into the next. Now that you've seen God's faithfulness, keep walking forward in confidence. New seasons will come, but the same God who guided you before will lead you again. Keep your eyes fixed on Him, one step of trust at a time.

Reflection Question:

What new step of faith is God inviting you to take next?

Prayer:

Lord, thank You for carrying me through this season of waiting. Help me walk boldly into what's next with faith and courage. Keep my heart steady and my steps guided by Your Word. I trust that wherever You lead, Your timing will be perfect. Amen.

Day 30 – Right on Time

Scripture: “He who calls you is faithful; He will surely do it.” – 1 Thessalonians 5:24

Reflection:

Every promise, every prayer, every moment of waiting led you here, to a place of deeper trust. God’s timing has never failed you, and it never will. You are walking in His purpose, and the best is still ahead. Trust Him daily, love Him deeply, and walk forward knowing this truth: God is never late, He’s always right on time.

Reflection Question:

What have you learned about God, and about yourself, through this journey of waiting?

Prayer:

Father, thank You for showing me that Your timing is perfect. I’m grateful for the lessons, the growth, and the faith You’ve built in me. Help me to continue trusting You in every season ahead. I believe that You are faithful, that Your promises still stand, and that I am right on time in Your plan. Amen.

End of Week 4 | Day 30 Complete

You’ve walked through waiting, found peace in the process, and stepped into a deeper trust in God’s perfect timing.

May this devotional remind you that every pause has purpose, every delay carries destiny, and every moment in God’s hands is right on time.

A Final Prayer & Encouragement for Your Journey

Dear friend,

You've made it to the end of this 30-day journey, but the truth is, this is only the beginning. The lessons you've learned in waiting are seeds of faith that will continue to grow long after these pages close.

Waiting is no longer something to fear, it's now a place to meet God. You've learned to trust Him when He is silent, to find peace when things don't move, and to believe that His timing is never late. Every moment of waiting has drawn you closer to His heart, and that's the real miracle.

When new seasons come and they will, remember what you've discovered here:

- His timing is always right.
- His promises never expire.
- His love never runs out.

So, keep walking in faith. Keep trusting His process. Keep resting in His presence. The same God who walked with you in the waiting will guide you in the fulfillment.

A Final Prayer

Father, thank You for walking with me through this journey of trust. You have taught me to wait with peace, to surrender with faith, and to believe that Your ways are higher than mine. Help me carry this truth into every part of my life, that You are always working, always faithful, and always on time. When fear whispers that I've been forgotten, remind me that I'm held in the palm of Your hand. May my faith continue to grow, my heart remain steadfast, and my hope stay anchored in You. I trust You completely, Lord. My life, my timing, my future, they're all Yours.

In Jesus' name,
Amen.

Encouragement to Carry Forward

Every prayer you've prayed is heard.

Every tear you've shed is seen.

Every moment of waiting is preparing something beautiful.

You are not behind, you're right on schedule in God's story.

Walk forward with peace, knowing His perfect timing will always lead you exactly where you're meant to be.

About the Author

Claudia Lucero is the founder of Faith Grows Co, a brand dedicated to helping women deepen their faith, strengthen their walk with God, and find peace in every season especially the waiting ones. Through her devotionals, books, and online encouragement, Claudia inspires readers to trust God's perfect timing and discover the beauty of His presence in everyday life.

As a writer, faith encourager, and homeschooling mom, Claudia's heart is to remind others that God is near, God is faithful, and God is working even when life feels still. She writes from a place of personal experience, seasons of waiting, surrender, breakthrough, and learning to trust God's heart above her own understanding.

Her hope is that every devotional she creates becomes a gentle companion to the weary heart, a spark of hope for the discouraged, and a quiet reminder that no one waits alone, God is always with us.

Thank You Page

Dear Reader,

Thank you for spending the last 30 days walking through this devotional with me. I pray these reflections, Scriptures, and prayers met you right where you are and reminded you that your season of waiting is valuable, purposeful, and beautifully held in God's hands.

If this devotional has encouraged you, please consider sharing it with someone who may also be walking through a quiet or uncertain season. Sometimes one small reminder of God's faithfulness is all someone needs to keep going.

Your support means so much, not only to me but to the purpose of Faith Grows Co. May God bless you, strengthen you, and continue guiding you in His perfect timing.

With love,
Claudia Lucero
