Have you ever thought, “If only our family understood where to begin the college-admissions journey – where do we begin?” If so, this might provide the most essential information you read regarding this topic.

Here's why...

HAVE YOU EVER SAID ANY OF THESE THINGS?

-  We don't know where to begin figuring out college choices
-  We don't know where or how to find a resource to narrow down college choices
-  We don't want to make the wrong choices, miss deadlines, and make mistakes
-  This process is totally overwhelming, why can't we find help?

IF YOU CAN RELATE TO ANY OF THAT,
THEN THIS IS GOING TO BE LIFE-CHANGING

for You.

What You're Going To Get ...

In this report you are going to discover the top 5 ways to navigate the college admissions journey!

Before I unpack the specifics, I want you to consider for a moment the results of doing nothing. Ignoring a problem doesn't make it go away; it makes the problem worse!

How bad could it get?

Well, if you ignore beginning the journey, these are the long-term results you are very likely to get:

- 🕒 A huge box of unwanted college materials full of information – most of which does not coincide with the interests of your family or your student.
- 🕒 No idea what schools to visit or apply to, or when these things should happen.
- 🕒 Your child missing scholarship and financial-aid opportunities.
- 🕒 Going to a college that is not a good fit academically where you/your child cannot be successful or happy.
- 🕒 As parents, you realize you made the choices instead of allowing your child to take the journey he/she has earned through good grades, test scores, and hard work.

Why Should You Listen To Me?

With over twenty years of university-enrollment experience at two of the top-twenty universities in this country – Northwestern University and Vanderbilt University – I completely understand the complex college-admissions process. There are so many choices, steps, deadlines, and decisions for desired outcomes, and my system simplifies the journey, lessening the anxiety and frustration for both students and parents!

Additionally, as the mother of three sons who went to college, I experienced every outcome within my own family, so I completely understand the anxiety, frustration, overwhelming emotions, and heartbreak of denial – as well as the utmost joy of acceptance at the school of choice. My sons attended the University of Notre Dame, the University of Montana, and the University of Southern California.

Each had a unique journey within our family, so believe me when I say, “I understand!” It is rare for students as eighteen-year-olds to know what they want to do when they graduate from college. Assisting them as they navigate the pathway is critical to their future; the emotional roller coaster of this process is one that requires care – care for the students, AND care for the parents.

Where to begin?

Figuring out the beginning of the journey is complex or not, depending on your expectations for outcomes – having the initial conversation as a family is critical, but also speaking with a counselor or consultant will add great clarity for starting down the pathway. There are free tools available for all students to assist with this part of the journey, but many counselors still do not know they exist – let's look at these tools together and get started on the pathway to college.

Working with...

Amazing Journey College Counseling™ will enable the entire family to enjoy the journey, to have discernment and control over the process, and to relieve the pressure and stress-load on your family – and especially on the student – during an already busy school year. It IS possible to get children into college and still maintain family harmony. Let's find the schools that have the best fit for the family's circumstances, as well as the student's dream!

Writing...

a dynamic college essay is critical to the application process. Often students feel they have nothing to say – believe me, they have LOTS to say; however, HOW they say it makes all the difference! Knowing how to approach this part of the application is so important, but it seems overwhelming to most students. Amazing Journey College Counseling™ can assist with the nuances of writing a compelling essay – one that has the ability to make the student stand apart from the thousands of other applicants. Giving a student autonomy in this process is crucial and assisting parents through this transition of dependency to autonomy for their children is something we do best. Unless a parent plans on going to college with their child, this is where the journey truly begins.

Finding...

the funds and financial aid to make a student's dream come true is a huge part of the pathway – without the funds, the journey ends. Amazing Journey College Counseling™ has experience and insight when it comes to finding funding, which may include grants, scholarships, loans, and work study as part of a financial package. Have no clue what this means?

The sooner a family looks at this part of the journey, the more likely the outcome will be a happy one. No one wants their child to be admitted to their dream school only to tell them they cannot go due to finances. There are programs that provide scholarships, aid, and great opportunities, but many times they require engagement during junior year, and scholarship applications are due at different times than other applications.
