Sunny the little star
lived high up in the night sky.
He loved to twinkle and shine bright.

But Sunny sometimes felt lonely.
He wanted to know
what was down on Earth.

One night, Sunny whispered to the moon, "Can I go explore?"
The moon smiled and said,
"Be careful, little star."

Sunny floated down, down, down.
He landed softly in a grassy meadow.

A bunny hopped over and said,
“Hello, shiny friend!”
Sunny giggled, “Hi, bunny!”

Next, a butterfly fluttered by.
“Your light makes the flowers happy,”
said the butterfly.

Sunny felt so warm inside.
He liked helping his new friends.

But soon, the sky grew darker.
The moon whispered,
“Time to come back, little star.”

Sunny said goodbye to the bunny and butterfly.
“I’ll visit again someday!”
he promised.

Back in the sky, Sunny twinkled brighter than ever.
He learned that even a small star
can bring big happiness.
