

Squirrel's Big Farm Adventure

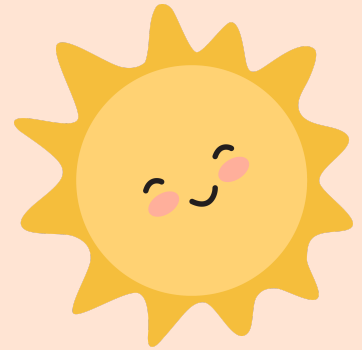

This book belongs to:

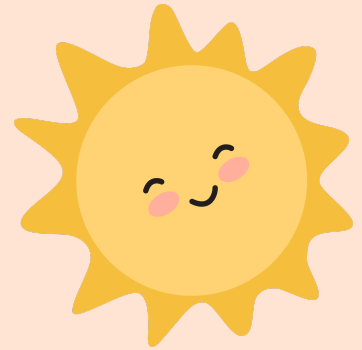

Squirrel woke up early
on the farm.

He peeked out of the barn and saw the bright sunshine.

"Today, I want to go
on an adventure!"
Squirrel said.

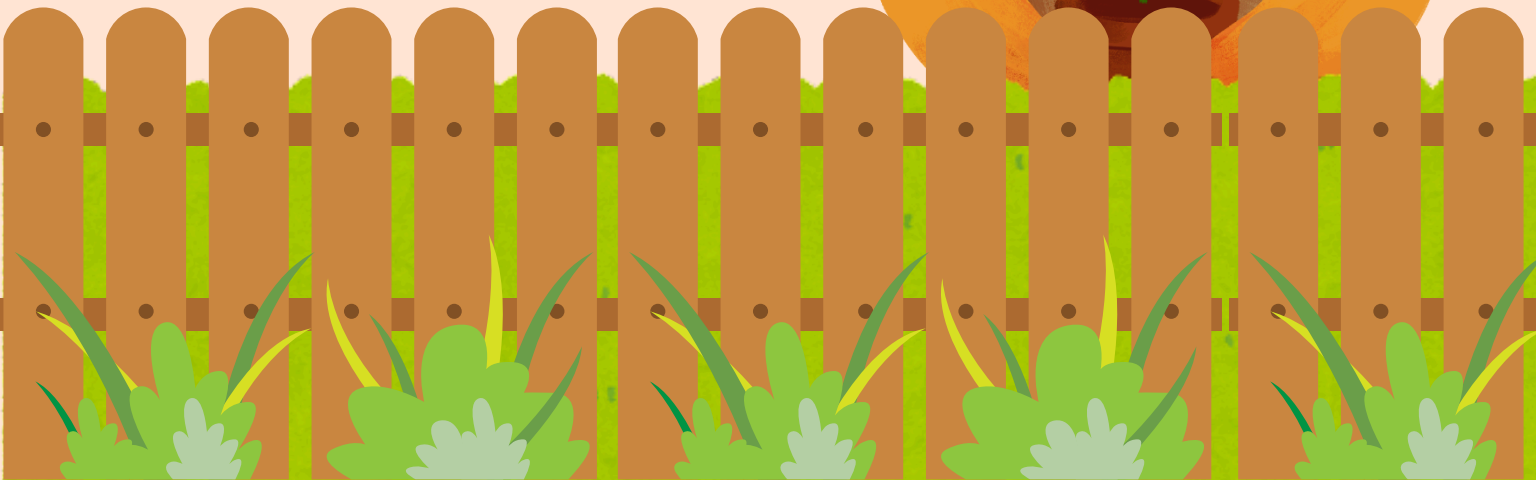

He scampered out,
past the haystacks.

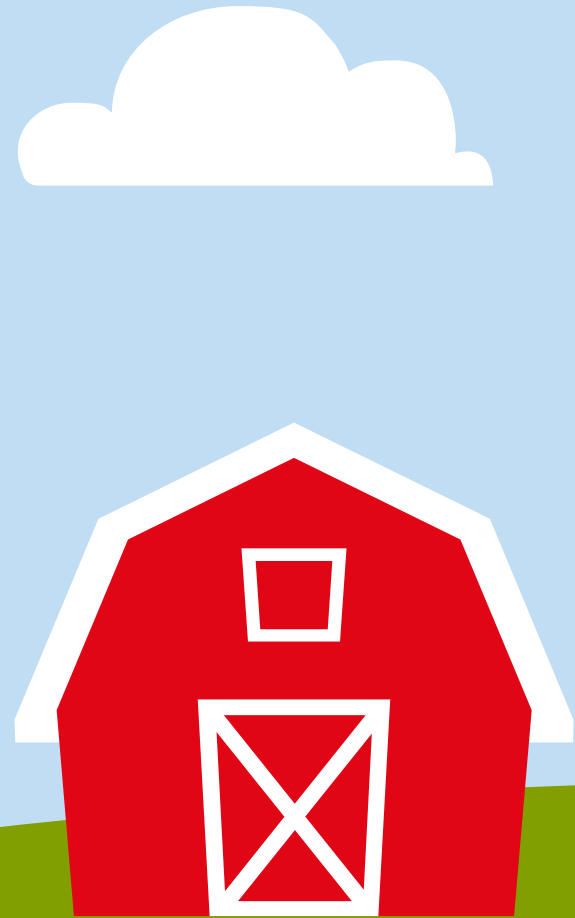

On the way, Squirrel
met Bird.

"Where are you going,
Squirrel?" chirped
Bird from the fence.

Together, they met Beaver.

Beaver was busy
stacking wooden logs
by the barn.

"Can I join your adventure?" asked Beaver.

"Of course!" Squirrel
and Bird cheered.

The friends passed the mooing cows.

They laughed, sang, and played as they walked across the farm.

At last, they saw the big red tractor.

It looked bigger
than they ever imagined!

The friends gathered near the tractor and gazed at the farm.

They saw the barn, the green fields, and animals everywhere.

"This is the best adventure ever!"
Squirrel cheered.

The friends
rested under a big tree and watched the sunset glow.

THE END.

