

The Frog Prince and the Friendship Chat

A frog built a friendship chat in the swamp.

No one joined because he looked slimy.

A kind princess signed up one day.

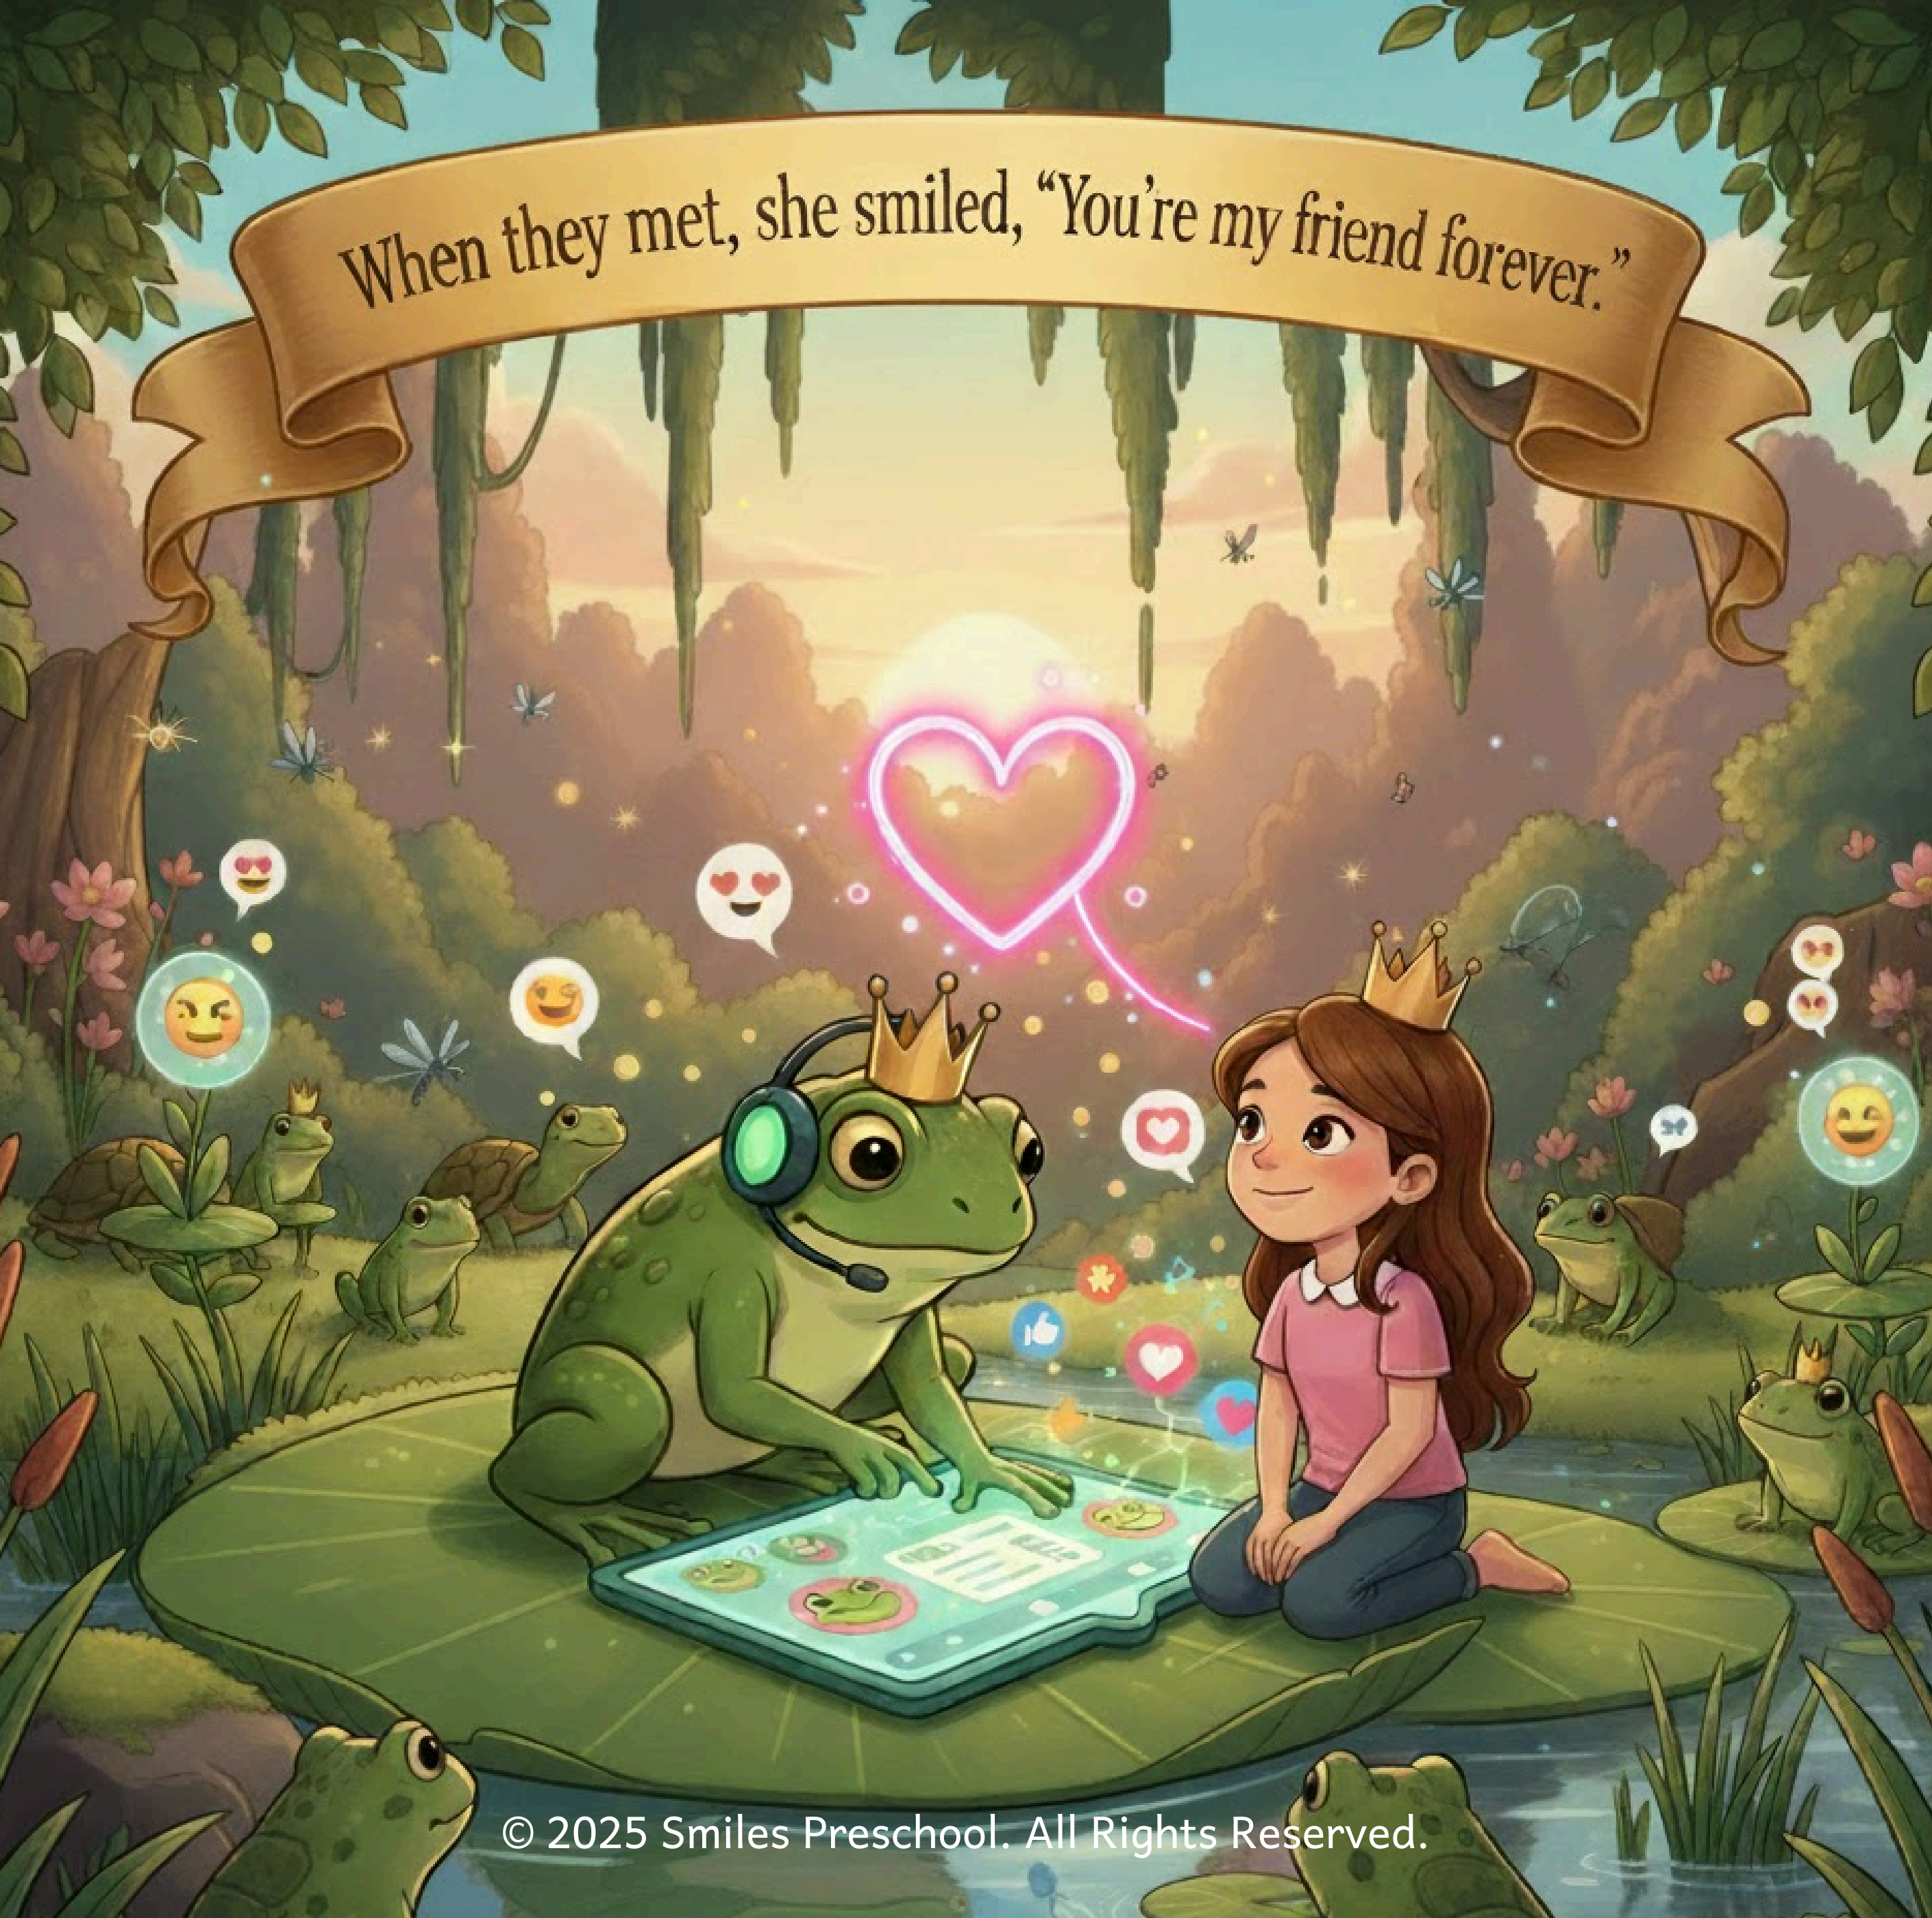

They played games and shared jokes online.

She didn't care he was a frog, just that he was kind.

When they met, she smiled, "You're my friend forever."

Her kindness broke the spell.

He became a prince again!

The frog prince hugged her gratefully.

They started a kindness club for everyone.
