Red loved her digital hoodie that could play music and take selfies.

Her mom asked her to deliver cookies to Grandma's smart home.

“Remember, no chatting with strangers,” said Mom.

Red zipped her hoodie and smiled, “Got it!”

Got it!

On the path, her smartwatch beeped from a mysterious account.

It said, "Come take a selfie with me!"

Come take a selfie with me!

Mysterious Account

Red paused and remembered her mom's advice.

Remember, no chatting with strangers!

She called Grandma via video instead.

Grandma clapped and said, "Well done, smart girl!"

Well done, smart girl!

Red learned being safe online keeps you safe offline. THE END.
