

Goldilocks Breaks into a Smart Home

Written by Gracie Ann Lara · © 2025
Smiles Preschool. All Rights Reserved

In a quiet forest of the future, where trees whispered beside glowing solar panels, stood a cozy little cabin. It shimmered softly, half made of wood and half of glass — a smart home, tucked between the pines.

One sunny morning, a curious girl named Goldilocks wandered through the forest. She wore a yellow hoodie, denim overalls, and carried a tablet that helped her explore.

Her tablet beeped. "Unknown signal detected," it said. Goldilocks followed the sound until she found something amazing — a house that seemed alive!

It had no doorknob, no chimney, and a glowing blue ring beside the door. "Wow," she whispered. "Is this one of those smart homes?"

Unlock door

She tapped her tablet. The ring lit up and a voice said, "Hello, guest. Welcome home." With a whoosh, the door slid open by itself!

A futuristic kitchen scene with a round wooden table in the foreground. On the table are three bowls of steaming yellow soup. The kitchen has white countertops, blue-lit cabinets, and a large window with a view of a city at night. A digital display is visible on the wall. The lighting is warm and ambient, with soft music and a honey-cinnamon scent mentioned in the text.

Inside, the lights brightened automatically.
Soft music played, and the air smelled like honey and cinnamon.

On the counter were three steaming bowls of Porridge. Each had a glowing name tag: PAPA, MAMA, and BABY.

Papa

Mama

Baby

Goldilocks tasted the first one. "Yikes! Too hot!" she cried,.

Papa

She tried the second.

"Brrr! Too cold!" she said, shivering.

Mama

Then she tasted the smallest bowl. "Mmm... just right!" she said with a smile, and finished it all up.

Baby

A futuristic living room with three chairs and a large window. The room features a dark wood floor, a large window with a view of a forest at night, and a modern coffee table with a glowing blue interface. The chairs are a dark grey, a glowing blue, and a yellow. The room is lit with warm, ambient lighting.

Next, Goldilocks wandered into the living room. There were three shiny chairs that looked like they came from the future.

She sat in the biggest chair. It reclined all the way back — whoa! — too far!

The second chair started to vibrate and hum. "Too rumbly!" she laughed as it jiggled her all over.

Then she tried the smallest chair. It glowed softly and hugged her just right. "Ahh," she sighed. "Perfect."

Meanwhile, deep in the forest, three grizzly bears were walking home from their picnic. Papa Bear carried the basket, Mama Bear hummed, and Baby Bear skipped happily.

A futuristic smart home interior. A young girl with pigtails, wearing a yellow hoodie and blue overalls, stands in the center with her arms raised and mouth open in a yawn. To her left is a wooden staircase with glowing blue steps. In front of her is a large, glowing blue beanbag chair with a futuristic control panel on a table. To her right is a brown beanbag chair with a blue cushion. The room has large windows showing a night sky with stars and a cityscape. There are shelves with potted plants and a digital display on the wall. The overall atmosphere is cozy and high-tech.

Back inside, Goldilocks yawned.
"This smart home is so comfy,"
she said. "Maybe I'll take a nap."

Upstairs, she found three beds, each with their names glowing screen above it: "Papa Bear," "Mama Bear," and "Baby Bear".

Too hard! 🤖

She jumped on the biggest bed.
"Oof! Too hard!" she groaned.

Papa

Mama

Ba

She flopped onto the middle one. "Too soft!" she giggled as it sank beneath her.

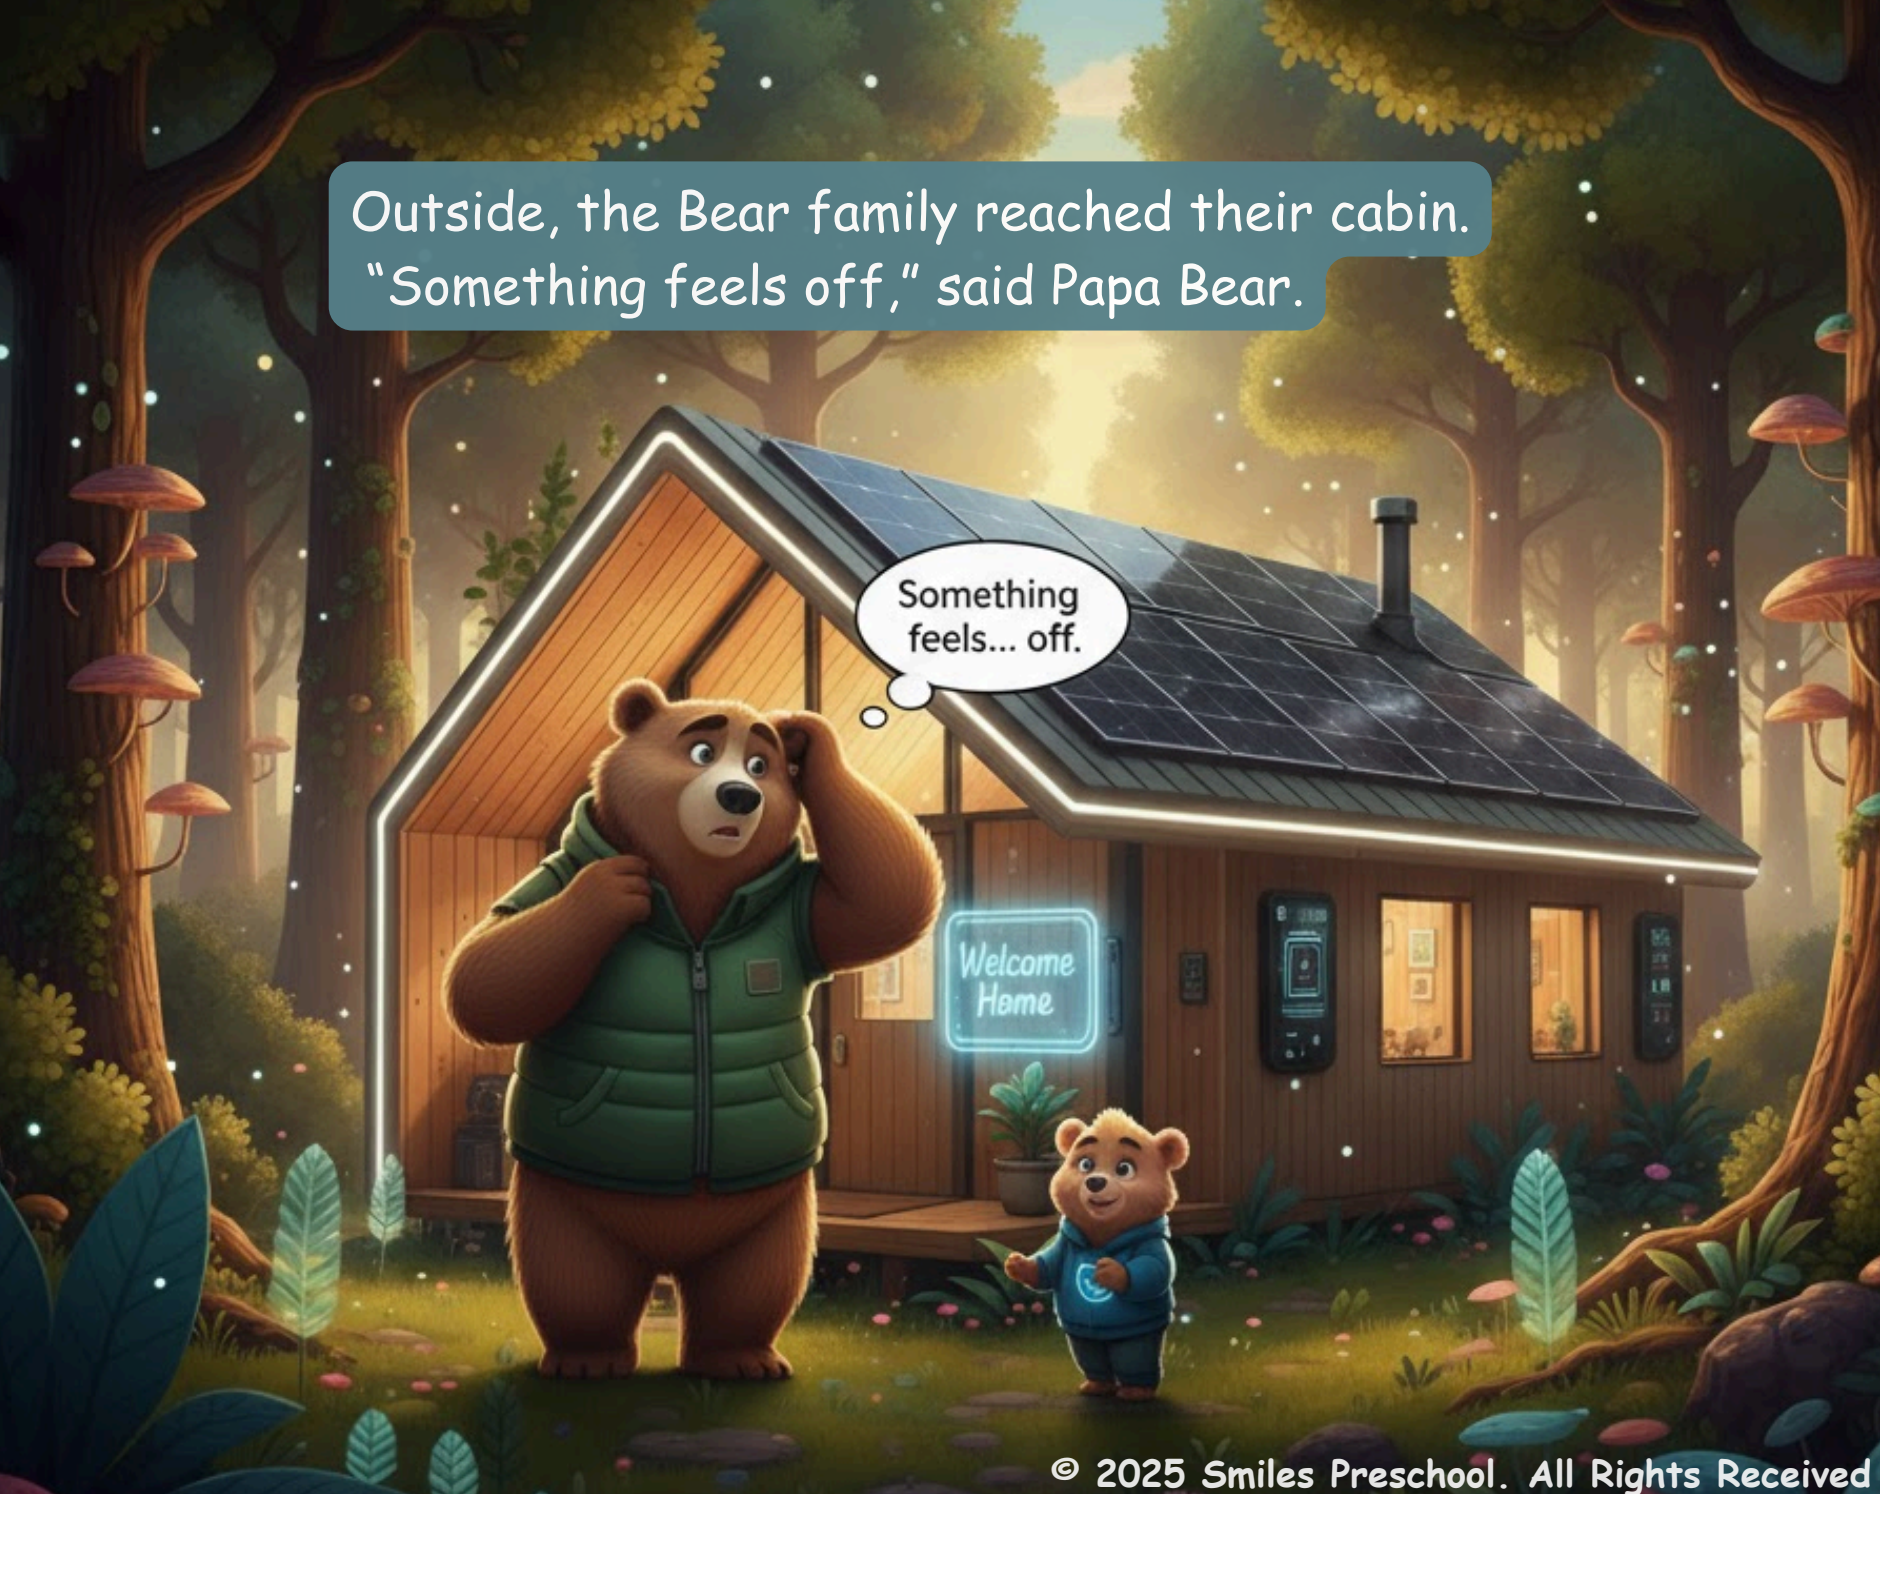

Papa

Too soft!

Then she tried the smallest bed. It adjusted to her perfectly. "Ahh... just right." Before she knew it, she was fast asleep.

Outside, the Bear family reached their cabin.
"Something feels off," said Papa Bear.

Something
feels... off.

Welcome
Home

But when they got closer, the smart home lights turned red. "Warning," said the door. "Intruder detected."

INTRUDER
DETECTED!

Papa Bear sniffed the air.
"Someone's eaten my porridge!"
he growled.

Someone's eaten
my porridge!

Mama

A brown bear wearing a purple puffer jacket sits at a round wooden table in a modern, futuristic kitchen. On the table are three bowls of steaming yellow soup. The kitchen features white cabinetry with blue LED underlighting, a white countertop with various kitchen items, and a large window with a view of a forest. A speech bubble above the bear says "Mine too!". A futuristic control panel is visible on the wall to the right. The scene is lit with warm, golden light from pendant lamps and recessed ceiling lights, with a soft bokeh effect of light spots.

Mine too!

Mama Bear gasped. "Mine too!"

"And my chair's all wobbly!"
cried Baby Bear.

And my chair's
all wobbly!

They crept up the stairs, the lights flickering softly with each paw step.

There, in Baby Bear's bed, lay a small girl with golden curls, snoring gently.

Goldilocks stirred. Her eyes fluttered open. "AHH!" she squeaked when she saw the three bears staring down at her.

She leapt from the bed and dashed downstairs. "Goodbye!" she shouted as the doors opened automatically for her escape.

Maybe some homes are too smart to sneak into.

From the doorway, the bears watched her disappear into the glowing forest. Papa Bear sighed. "Maybe our home's too smart."