

THE BIG COMEBACK

A True Story of Faith, Football, and Redemption

Author: Jimmy Woods | Genre: Narrative Nonfiction / Sports Memoir / Leadership | Word Count: ~89,000 (Complete)

After fifteen years at one school—including four as head football coach—a veteran educator and coach loses his career, his identity, and nearly his purpose. His office is boxed up. His whistle is silent. The game that once defined him now feels like an accusation.

What follows is not a story about chasing wins, but about reclaiming worth. When a small-town program offers him another chance—not as a head coach, but as an assistant—he steps back into football humbled, unsure, and searching for meaning. The team is fractured. The community is wounded. And the boys in the locker room need more than a playbook.

The Big Comeback is a deeply human sports memoir that transcends football. It explores leadership after professional loss, quiet faith that endures without spectacle, and the power of brotherhood to restore both men and communities. Through grueling practices, philosophical clashes between coaches, locker-room conversations, and moments of grace, the author rebuilds not just a team—but himself.

Written with the emotional intimacy of Friday Night Lights and the moral weight of When Pride Still Mattered, this book speaks to coaches, educators, parents, faith-driven readers, and anyone who has ever had to start over when the life they built suddenly disappeared.

Comparable Titles:

- Friday Night Lights — Buzz Bissinger
- When Pride Still Mattered — David Maraniss
- A Coach's Life — Dean Smith

Status: Complete, revised manuscript | Author Platform: 40+ years in education and coaching; strong regional and national coaching network; active speaking and leadership presence

For the full proposal and complete manuscript, please contact:

hello@thebigcomebackbook.com