WELCOME

Hi There!

Writing a genuine, warm welcome and the simple act of saying thank you can go a long way when starting your new client relationship.

A welcome message to a new client should be brief, but intentional. First, be sure to say thank you.

This additional space is where you can expand on why this was created, by whom and for what purpose. You can include details like the knowledge gaps it aims to address, and how it can get them to their desired goals

You can also include your professional background, coaching experience, and why you are the right coach for them or help them achieve the goal from this lead magnet. It can be formal or conversational - it's up to you!
