

Improvers Level Syllabus (CEFR A1)

The Improvers level develops learners' confidence in everyday communication by guiding them through practical themes such as shopping in street markets, describing people, talking about daily routines, interacting in bars and restaurants, imagining ideal neighbourhoods and discussing skills and past experiences for job suitability. Learners practise essential skills like comparing options, expressing preferences, asking for and giving information, sequencing events and justifying opinions. Across the course, they work with key grammar areas including demonstratives, el/la/los/las + adjetivo, interrogatives, tener que + infinitivo, gustar, cuantificadores, posesivos, presente de indicativo (including irregular and pronominal verbs), sequencing expressions, poner and traer, pronombres de OD, prepositions and adverbs of place, and structures such as saber/poder + infinitivo and the pretérito perfecto. Vocabulary expands through topics such as clothing, everyday objects, family, personality, music, daily activities, food and cooking, city services, professions and personal qualities. Pronunciation and intonation are reinforced throughout, with focused practice on la erre, la entonación en preguntas y narraciones, la che, la jota and the sounds /p/, /t/, /k/ to support clearer, more natural communication.

Upon successful completion of the Improvers level, learners will be able to shop confidently in Spanish, ask for and compare products, and express preferences clearly using accurate vocabulary and structures, describe people clearly, talk about likes and relationships and use key structures accurately when presenting someone, describe your daily routine clearly, talk about frequency and time, and compare habits, order food confidently, describe dishes and ingredients and talk about eating habits, describe places in detail, express preferences about neighbourhoods and give clear directions and describe skills and experiences confidently, compare candidates effectively and choose the right person for a job, using accurate and natural Spanish throughout.
