

Beginners Plus Level Syllabus (CEFR A1)

The Beginners Plus level helps learners expand their communication skills by talking about their relationship with Spanish and Hispanic culture, expressing intentions, explaining reasons and describing what they can do in different languages, while also learning to describe places, express existence and location and talk about weather and climate. Learners practise discussing learning goals, sharing language experiences, giving geographical information, identifying where things are and comparing regions. Grammar work includes gender, definite and indefinite articles, the presente de indicativo of regular verbs, common uses of por, para and porque, as well as hay, estar, the superlativo, quantifiers such as muy and mucho/mucha/muchos/muchas, and interrogatives like qué, cuál/cuáles, cuántos/cuántas, dónde and cómo. Vocabulary development covers languages, classroom and leisure activities, weather, climate, geography, country facts, cardinal points and the seasons, while pronunciation and fluency are strengthened through work on enlaces de palabra and acentuación.

Upon successful completion of the Beginners Plus level, learners will be able to express your motivations for learning Spanish, talk about your language abilities and use basic structures accurately to describe your connection with the Spanish-speaking world, describe places accurately, ask and answer questions about geography and use key structures to talk about climate and location with confidence.
