

How I Went From 100k In College Debt To Lapping My Own Corporate Sales Income By Posting “Dumb Little TikToks” As A Part-Time Side Hustle (Without Ever Having Made Content Before, Without A Following, And Having No Idea How To Start)

Yo Bro. It's Drew. You've probably just found out about TikTok Shop through me and you're here to see what it's all about, how it works, and if you can make money with it.

Perfect.

Here's what i'm going to cover:

- 1) What Tiktok shop is & how average people are making stupid money with it
- 2) Why sales reps (you) are uniquely designed to succeed with it
- 3) Why it's the best option to start making money online right now by FAR

Simple & easy.

But first... here's a little bit about me so you know i'm legit + can see that I was in your exact situation

The cash scheming began in college...

My story is kind of wild but I genuinely believe anyone can replicate it.

I was basically you. Decent with people (but wanted to get better), wanted to get rich & have fun. And even before I went college, I knew I wanted to make money and eventually do something on my own. Here's me scheming:

So yes I did want to get rich in college. But obviously in college i didn't know what to do, so i just ended up majoring in business and skillmaxxing my charisma, social life, frat skills etc while i figured it all out. Because if you want to get rich, then obviously just major in business. (joking).

I Then Got A Full-Time Corporate Sales Job At A Fortune 25 Company While I Figured Out My Next Move TO *Actually* Get Rich

Me On The Left

Soon after graduating, I got a corporate sales job at a fortune 25 company.

Did I like it? Eh, not really.

When I got there - I immediately knew I didn't want to be there forever, and I REALLY wanted to figure out a way to make money online (and a lot of it). I was ambitious, but kind of directionless.

So as I was working, I was figuring out ways to make even more... until i eventually just got tired of working a job & actually made the decision to figure out the online money thing forever.

I Then Decided It Was Time To *Actually* Print, But I Didn't Know What The Best Option Was For Me. So I Started Researching.

Long story short I knew it was “time” (to print) so i started researching what was out there. I looked at a TON of businesses i could have started, and when doing so, i realized this:

In order to make money with a BUSINESS, i needed a TON of skills that I didn't realize I needed that I really just didn't have the patience to learn. I had to:

- 1) know how to create an actual product,
- 2) Know how to build all the tech required for me to actually be able to get the product up & online
- 3) Generate traffic to it
- 4) Build the sales process for it
- 5) Fulfill on it
- 6) Do all the customer service, accounting, refunds, taxes, etc.

I realized it was a LOT. And that sort of demotivated me for a bit, so i kept looking.

I then asked myself “man... is there anything where I don't have to do all of this OTHER stuff...?” Is there another, simpler way to make money?

So after looking at all of the different business models that online gurus were selling to me, I realized i didn't really want to do ANY of them.

Why?

Because they all looked too complicated, took too much time, and i didn't even really trust any of the people that were selling it anyway.

I KNEW i needed a simpler way, and that's when i learned one of my most important "money understandings" to date...

I realized "running a business" was actually "hard mode" for making money online, and i didn't HAVE to do that (nor did I really want to do all of that anyway)

One of the wildest realizations that i had while researching everything was that a business is basically 'hardmode' for making money online.

Why?

Because with a business you have to do 100 different things. And when i realized i could actually make money online without starting a business, just doing ONE thing (if it was the right thing), that was a HUGE unlock for me.

When i started out in my money-making journey, i automatically thought "oh if i need to make money, i have to own a business!". But that's not actually true, because there are MANY ways to make money without owning an actual business, and when I fully realized this (and realized how much simpler this was than what everyone else was doing), I IMMEDIATELY started looking for what I could do that would allow me to simplify everything so i could make money as quickly as possible.

I then FINALLY found TikTok Shop....

But There Was Still One Major Issue... (my own doubts/hesitancies)

Now this is when it starts to get interesting & where the cash finally started coming in (but not without some issues at first, of course).

Eventually, I FINALLY found TikTok Shop. Now If you don't know what TikTok Shop is, it's just a marketplace that has a ton of products (supplements, clothes, etc) that are available for anyone to sell. You just grab phone, start selling, make money. It's super simple.

But once I found out that TikTok Shop existed & was a thing, i originally got super excited for the money I could make (because I saw regular people making $10k per month... $20k per month... even like $50k per month), but i was also hesitant for a very different reasons:

- 1) I had never made a piece of content before in my life (or even filmed myself ever)
- 2) I didn't have a following/audience so i didn't understand how i'd even get views
- 3) I didn't want to be an influencer and was worried about people I knew IRL seeing my stuff

So because of these things (which you may be feeling as well), i ended up waiting on the sidelines for a bit, but while I did, people way dumber/way less talented than me were CONTINUALLY putting up crazy numbers right in my face on TikTok Shop. And because of this, and because I knew i could do it deep down if i just got over my b.s. fears, i actually ended up reaching out to someone and asked them about my concerns to see if i could actually just get over these issues & actually start printing on the internet in the simplest way possible.

Here's what I asked/what I was concerned about, and here's what he said that put my fears to rest for good (and maybe you can relate). Just going to list out what I asked and what he said.

Me: "Can i actually do this & make money with this? I've never made a piece of content before in my life"

Them: Yep. Doesn't matter. The skill of content is super easy to learn, and it's the only thing you'll actually need to learn, unlike a business where you need a massive skillset. Thousands of people less smart than you were able to learn it without any issues, so you'll be fine.

Me: "I don't have any followers or content experience, is that a problem?"

Them: Nope. Everything is algorithm-based now and followers don't even matter anyway. As long as you learn how to make good content, you'll get good views, and you'll end up making good money.

Me: "I don't want to be an influencer / i don't want my friends seeing what I post"

Them: The good news is you won't become an influencer, you'll just learn to get views. Plus if you don't want to show your face, there are a bunch of faceless options with ai as well. So however you want to run it up, you can.

Me: "i dont even think I have enough time with work"

Them: Most people do this after work and have zero issues. You only need about 1-3 hours per day, and can batch the videos & work it all into your schedule.

So after he answered all these for me, i realized it was pretty straightforward and there was nothing to worry about. So I said F*** it, and jumped in...

And to my surprise, once I jumped in, I actually started making money right away (but it still wasn't as much as I wanted to make)...

So yeah. Basically AS SOON as I jumped in, I started making money right away. $500 here... $1k there... but nothing crazy. But even so, it worked.

But as someone who's ambitious (and you can probably relate to this), I wanted to make more. I knew my natural potential was way higher than what i was actually earning, and I wanted to utilize every resource that I had available to me to maximize it, and I realized doing everything alone was highly inefficient.

I didn't want to spend 3-6 months learning how to actually earn as much as I wanted to make... I wanted to learn how to print NOW.

And That's When I Took The Leap To Speeding Things Up.. And It Paid Off BIG TIME

I knew I wanted results asap, and i knew i didn't want to wait. So I knew I needed a mentor/mentorship to help me. I mean my logic was pretty simple.

My logic:

If someone else is making $100k/month doing something and they are around my age... and they are just a normal person like me and aren't super special or magical...

then they clearly know stuff i don't know and have secrets I don't have because they are doing stuff i'm not doing....

So why would I not just pay them to tell me what those are & help me/speed things up if they are offering it...

To me it was very simple logic. And it paid off monstrously.

I found CC, Jumped In, & everything just took off (and I was finally able to get out of debt)

When looking for someone to help me - I found Creator's Corner Owned By Jimmy Farley. And when I actually researched who was running it, the results they had & the reputation they had, this was the most obvious decision of my life.

My brain was like "you're telling me i can just pay some cash to surround myself with people making way more than me who are also willing to teach me everything they know?"

Uhhh... count me in. So I joined.

And Man... I can't underestimate how aggressively my progress took off after I joined CC.

Once I joined CC (Creator's Corner), it was basically like an income cheat-code. My income auto-exploded to $10kmo.... $20k/mo..... $30k/mo..... 50k/mo....

And in my BEST month, i did over $175,000+ in 30 days. And a LOT of that credit was due to the Creators Corner mentorship & everything that it taught me. I was immediately surrounded by ambitious young people (many are now my super good friends), who all wanted to make money, and who WERE all making money, and when you're in the right environments and are learning from the right people... success is almost inevitable.

Money printer go burrrr:

Date	Earnings	Service Fee
Dec 9 11:30	$18,432.32	$0.05
Dec 2 6:23	$6,672.99	$0.05
Nov 30 0:0	$10,626.39	$0.05
Nov 25 6:3	$3,014.59	$0.05
Nov 23 2:3	$14,627.53	$0.05
Nov 16 10:5	$11,155.77	$0.05
Nov 12 11:0	$10,073.99	$0.05
Nov 7 11:1	$7,629.32	$0.05
Nov 3 1:3	$9,824.49	$0.05
Oct 30 0:4	$11,764.37	$0.05
Oct 25 0:5	$14,493.08	$0.05
Oct 22 11:3	$17,966.85	$0.05
Oct 19 10:3	$23,389.09	$0.05

This allowed me to pay off $100k+ of debt, live my dreams, and get a sick apartment in Miami.

I then Put My Brokie Hometown Friend On..
And He Now Makes $10–$20k/mo Working A Few Hours Per Day

This is Connor. A kid I knew from my hometown.

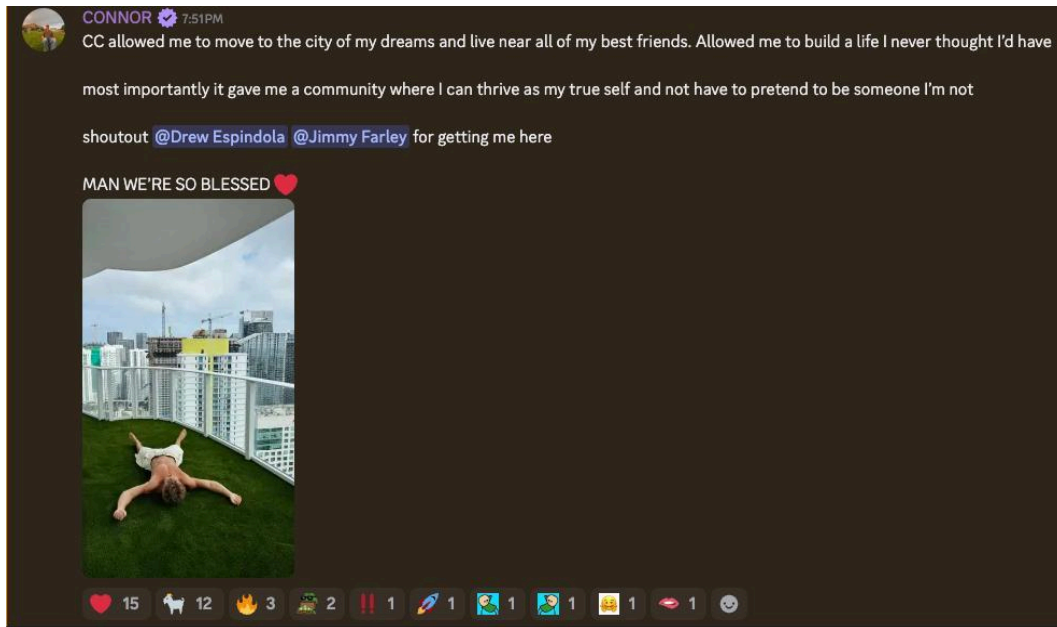

Connor had a very similar situation to me. He went to college out of state to study finance, had to take out student loans so he could pay for school, but school was too expensive so he had to transfer somewhere cheaper and find ways to work to pay tuition.

He then saw I was making money online and reached out to me so he could quit door dashing 6 hours a day. He was grinding. I then told him about creators corner and how obvious of a no brainer it was to join but because he was a brokie, he refused. So he just tried to figure it out on his own... for MONTHS... with no success.

Long story short - he wasn't able figure it out on his own. So he did what I did (finally paid up and joined CC) and then almost immediately he started making 5k/month pretty fast doing this part time as a student once he learned the actual sauce.

He then decided to just go all in on this instead of applying for jobs and now consistently makes 10-20k month working a few hours a day, has complete freedom to do whatever it is that he wants, and lives with me here in Miami.

Now...

At this point - i've seen HUNDREDS of people try on their own and fail - so let me quickly tell you about the biggest realization i had to make this ACTUALLY work, and why i think this realization will be super exciting to you.

Here it is:

TikTok Shop (And Making Good Money With It) Is Literally Just.... Sales. That's It.

If you remember from the list of stuff I was concerned about... one of the biggest concerns I had was regarding "making content" / "being an influencer" etc. I thought it was some secret skill only special people could do.

Nope. It was literally just sales.

The EXACT same thing I was doing at my corporate sales job... I just... did to the camera, with a product. And boom. BIG money. And it was actually THAT simple.

Totally normal people are printing with TikTok Shop....which is why anyone with sales knowledge/skill has a serious advantage...

Once I realized being good at TikTok Shop was literally just about being good at sales (and that it IS literally sales)... I began looking at everyone else's sales skills around me... and there wasn't anyone who was especially gifted or special. They were just running the process Creator's Corner gave to them, and were making a bunch of money.

But after studying myself, I realized one of the biggest reasons why I had such quick successes was due to my previous sales experience. And that is also why Connor struggled. He didn't. I had already learned to sell, he had to go through the process of learning. And what I learned was that my skill of sales translated directly into me running it up on TikTok Shop and being able to hit $100,000+ months so quickly. It was just my skill of sales, focused into selling a product online.

And this all ties back to my original point:

SUPER average people are making a bunch of money with Tiktok shop. But If you have sales skills or experience of ANY sort, you are in an EXTREMELY good position to start - and you are the exact type of person I want to help (if you think you might be able to make this work).

So If you think you're ready to level up... I want to help YOU make $$ with TikTok Shop

So at this point - you now know how TikTok shop changed my own life & how crazy of an opportunity it is RIGHT NOW to make a bunch of money. You also know how after making it, i put my hometown friend on and HE started having success as well, as someone with zero experience and having no clue what he was doing. Just a willingness to learn.

So if YOU are sitting there reading this thinking "man i could probably do this..." or "this sounds like a pretty good opportunity, Drew... I think i might want to try it..." then you're exactly how I want to help.

If you're someone who considers themselves ambitious & you think you're ready to take your income to the next level... and are actually serious about doing so... then watch this next video, let's chat, and let's see if you're a good fit to start running it up.
