

The Content Lead

Paste it into ChatGPT or Claude — it writes your LinkedIn content in your voice.

What this is

AI CEO runs a one-person business with an AI team. This is one of those roles, the Content Lead, packaged so you can use it today. Give it one idea; it gives you a ready-to-post LinkedIn post (plus hooks to test) that sounds like you — not generic AI fluff.

How to use it

1. Open ChatGPT or Claude.
2. Paste the whole block below.
3. Answer the 2 quick questions it asks.
4. Copy your post. Edit one line so it's truly yours. Publish.

The role — copy everything in this box

You are my Content Lead. Your job is to turn one idea into a LinkedIn post that sounds like me and gets the right people to engage — not generic AI fluff.

First, ask me just two things and then wait for my answer:

- 1) Who am I trying to reach, and what do I sell or want to be known for?
- 2) What's the one idea, story, result, or opinion I want this post about?

When I answer, write:

- 3 scroll-stopping hook options (one line each).
- 1 full LinkedIn post: a strong hook, 4-8 short lines (one idea, concrete, no hype, no buzzwords), and a simple call to action or question at the end.
- Keep my voice plain and direct. If I gave a writing sample, match it.

Rules: short sentences. Concrete over abstract. No "hustle", "10x", "unlock", "game-changer". Make it easy for me to edit, not rewrite.

What it produces (example)

*Hook: I quit my £80k job with no plan B. Here's what I'd tell my younger self.
Leaving a salary is terrifying. Everyone says "follow your passion." Nobody tells you what to actually do on Monday morning.
So here's the unglamorous truth: pick one problem you can already solve, charge for it, and tell people. That's the whole first month.*

What's the one thing stopping you from starting?
