

10 Questions to Bring Your Family's Stories to Life

Choose one question. Listen with curiosity. Let the memories unfold.

01 What was your childhood home like, and what do you remember most about it?

02 What's one family tradition you hope the next generation continues?

03 Who taught you something that still guides you today?

04 What's the story behind a favorite family recipe?

05 How did a family nickname begin?

06 What's a moment from your younger years that still makes you laugh?

07 What helped you through a difficult season in your life?

08 What's a decision you're glad you made?

09 What would you like the younger people in our family to know?

10 What's a story about you that we haven't thought to ask?

A few gentle tips

Find a quiet spot and ask permission before recording. Keep your device close enough to hear clearly and make a short test recording. Try asking, 'What happened next?' Give your loved one time, and respect anything they prefer to keep private.

Keep the conversation going.
