

Acts of Service

Expand Your Team

We're all about making your team stronger without the fuss. Let's team up and make things happen effortlessly, boosting your crew's skills and creativity!

Create Custom Learning

Let us craft something tailored just for you – because one size definitely doesn't fit all in the world of learning. Or pants. Or hats.

Save Some Dough

Making great learning shouldn't break the bank. With competitive pricing, we can make your goals a reality without the budget blues.

Activate the AI!

Add a sprinkle of AI to make your learning smarter and more efficient. Embrace the future with us! (Also, please fight by our side when the machine revolution comes.)

Buy Some Time

When deadlines loom, we have your back. Immediate access to a community of over 800 talented freelance IDs means we'll get the job done pronto!

We're on a mission to reimagine L&D, making it exciting, engaging, and downright un-boring. Take your learning from “blah” to “heck yah!”

Convert Something

Whether it's making in-person training virtual or turning instructor-led learning into an online self-paced course, we do that! We can remix just about any learning ya got.

Translate Something

Use our translation services to make your courses resonate globally! Everyone deserves to learn in a language they truly understand--cookies.

Make Big Plans

We're not just here for today; we're your partners in planning for a successful tomorrow! We can help you map out a year of growth, goals, learning, and parties.

Meet the Right People

We're all about making meaningful connections. If we can't tackle your challenge directly, we'll bring the right people to the table. We're popular like that.

Meet Craig McMichael, our Director of Client and Community Engagement! He would love to connect with you to learn more about your needs and how IDLance can make your life a little bit easier.
