

INCOME DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

We at Master Resell Mama believe in transparency and want to ensure that all potential distributors and customers are fully informed of the income potential associated with our products and business opportunities.

The following income disclosure statement represents the earnings of our distributors during the previous fiscal year. This data is not a guarantee of income, and should not be considered as such.

Master Resell Mama makes no guarantee of income or earnings. Any income or earnings statements are estimates only and are not representative of the earnings of our entire distributor base. Your success in earning income will depend on your personal efforts and skills.

The income disclosed represents the gross income earned by distributors, before expenses and taxes, during the previous fiscal year. The income of our distributors varies greatly, and many distributors do not earn a profit.

We encourage all potential distributors to carefully consider the income potential and associated risks before joining our business opportunity.

If you have any questions regarding this income disclosure statement, please contact us at kendryah@masterresellmama.com

By joining our business opportunity, you acknowledge that you have read and understand this income disclosure statement.
