

Income Disclosure Statement for Master Resell Rights Digital Product

The following Income Disclosure Statement is provided to give you a realistic understanding of the potential income and earnings associated with the use and sale of the Master Resell Rights ("MRR") digital product. Please read this Statement carefully before engaging in any activities related to the MRR product.

1. No Guaranteed Income: 1.1. The income and earnings potential mentioned in any promotional materials or communications related to the MRR product are for illustrative purposes only. 1.2. The actual income and earnings you may generate from selling or using the MRR product are dependent on various factors, including but not limited to market conditions, your marketing efforts, and the demand for the product.
2. Individual Results May Vary: 2.1. The income and earnings of other individuals mentioned in testimonials or success stories related to the MRR product are not guarantees of what you will achieve. 2.2. Each individual's success in using or selling the MRR product is based on their unique skills, knowledge, experience, and dedication to their business.
3. Assumption of Risk: 3.1. Engaging in the sale or use of the MRR product involves inherent risks, including but not limited to business and financial risks. 3.2. You acknowledge and agree that you are solely responsible for any risks associated with your use or sale of the MRR product and that the original owner of the product is not liable for any losses or damages incurred.
4. No Income Guarantees or Promises: 4.1. The original owner of the MRR product makes no guarantees or promises regarding the income or earnings you may achieve through its use or sale. 4.2. Any statements or representations made by the original owner or its affiliates regarding potential income or earnings are not to be interpreted as guarantees or promises.
5. Professional Advice: 5.1. It is recommended that you seek advice from qualified professionals, such as accountants or legal counsel, to evaluate the potential income and tax implications associated with the use or sale of the MRR product. 5.2. The original owner does not provide professional advice and disclaims any responsibility for decisions made based on information related to the income potential of the MRR product.

By engaging in any activities related to the MRR product, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to be bound by this Income Disclosure Statement. If you do not agree with any provisions of this Statement, you must refrain from using or selling the MRR product. For any questions or clarifications regarding this Income Disclosure Statement, please contact the original owner at Sasha Segal info@dassiesegal.com