Shout out to my parents, Leah and Allan Lipman, who inspire me to keep on offering these free webinars. It's been 6 years!

Seniors need help learning to use tech.

There are some great resources!

Much more is needed

- ElderTech Advisors
- Tech Concierges
- Small in person groups to learn together

Why learning tech is important for seniors

Stay connected with loved ones

Access helpful resources

Provide cognitive and social stimulation

Maintain independence

Tips for Teaching Tech to Seniors

Teach one or two skills at a time

Go slowly and don't assume anything

Allow plenty of time to practice

Warn about what may go wrong

Talk about when the skill may come in handy

Provide visuals for future reference

Live Text is a new function for iOS 15 that allows you to capture text that appears in your Camera app or on a photo in the Photos app.

Imagine you are viewing a new recipe in the printed newspaper and you would like to make a shopping list from the ingredients of the recipe. And you want to be able to keep that shopping list in the Notes app.

With Live Text you can point the camera at the text and your iPhone will read the text.

It is an amazing function.

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Tech for Senior website. The header includes the site name and navigation links: Home, Privacy Policy for TFS, Learning Chromebooks, APCUG Presentations, Tech for Seniors, and About. The main content area features a large 'LIVE STREAM' graphic with a Wi-Fi symbol, a central title 'Tech for Senior' with the tagline 'Providing technology information to Seniors', and a Facebook follow button with the text 'Follow us on facebook' and the URL 'https://www.facebook.com/techforsenior'. A smaller section on the right encourages watching TFS-Live on Facebook. The footer includes a 'Tech for Seniors' logo with photos of the hosts and a detailed event announcement for 'Tech for Seniors' hosted by Ron Brown and Hewie Poplock, occurring every Monday from 9-10 AM PT / 12-1 PM ET, broadcast with ZOOM. The website URL 'https://www.techforsenior.com' is also present.
