

A Report from the 'In The Hole' Series

How to Turn $9 into a Goldmine

Or ... How I turned $9 into $17,538.64 and How Duplicating My Success You Too Can Pretty Much Guarantee You'll Never Need to Worry about Making Money Online Again

*Yes, that's me doing beekeeping :)

*As I will mention my grandma in this report, I thought why not include a picture with her :)

Thomas Freeman here

When you don't have to report to anyone when you work, you can go to the countryside and help your grandparents in the middle of week (or whatever you want to do) like I did :) Nice, huh?

Back to business ... how I turned $9 into thousands.

I didn't know anything I do now. Really. No clue. But I made hundreds and soon also thousands working two to three hours per day.

I will repeat.

I had no clue what I was doing, and all this was new for me, but I soon realized this was too easy.

All I did was send three to five messages per day and spend 20 minutes on my PC compared to when others were working eight to 10 hours just to make barely one third or one fifth of what I was making.

And this was thanks to an information product I bought for $9.

Soon I realized that anyone can create or set up an information product.

Very few people make a living from doing so; yet I have been doing exactly that for more than 10 years.

It has worked since 2012 when I started and it continues to work up to this very day you are reading this report (...2024 or even 2055).

For example, my partner, Arthur, made literally almost $100 this morning (and he does most days too) from doing so.

I made a little over $179 this morning (remember, it's only one third of the way through the day still...)

I'm sharing this because I realized a long time ago that the more I freely share with my readers and subscribers the more money I make by gaining their trust (hopefully I will gain yours also).

It makes me smile because I know for a fact that some of you will be able to quit your job because of this info (if you act on it).

Best,

Thomas Freeman

INTRO

Looks almost real, huh? lol (me and my wife)

In my childhood I loved to buy lottery tickets and still today I prefer “easy” money (who doesn't?), but I am happy to work hard if I don't know the smart way.

I want to show you that you don't need to be special (or smart) to make easy money and compared to lottery tickets your chances of making money online are few million times better (yes, that's not a typo).

I have worked 70 hours as a construction worker without sleeping a second so I know what hard work is (and plenty of other jobs that you could categorize as “hard work”).

So ... back in 2010–2012 I was broke. My company went bankrupt. I was thinking of insolvency. My account was frozen. The bank literally took my car from a friend's garage (they told me they would just look to see if it was there. Yep. I was naive).

I took numerous quick payday loans.

Going to the supermarket was easy because all I could buy was potatoes. So I didn't have to think what I would buy, I had an amazing FOCUS (yup, funny).

I was open to different ideas just to increase my wealth.

One day, browsing the internet, I found an article about how a young guy made a million dollars just by setting up a website where he sold pixels.

That's it.

Each pixel for $1, total one million pixels.

One pixel is just a small square.

Totaling 1 '000' 000 USD.

Anyway, the guy behind this (Alex Tew) continued his online journey and had made many millions with a meditation app called CALM, which is now valued at $2 BILLION.

Nice, huh?

That's it. It's that simple.

The guy made one round million. I thought, It's not fair,
LOL.

He made one million basically by doing “nothing” when I was hoping to get a job where I could make $500 up to $1,000 per month, hopefully working only "nine to five".

Anyway, I told this story to my childhood friend and he really got fascinated about these online opportunities. The important thing to mention is that for a few years we were doing things online, trying to make millions with online trading, (stocks, currency, forex, etc.).

So overall we knew there was an opportunity out there.

We just could not get anywhere no matter how hard we tried. Sure, we didn't have any special education. But hey... We believed there must be an opportunity for people like us.

We both were basically university dropouts who did not finish school (not because we couldn't, just lack of interest). We were just two friends who wanted a bit more freedom to do what we wanted. And for that, we thought we needed a bit more money.

We were dreaming about how cool it would be if we could earn online $1,000 or even $1,500; that would open all doors for us.

In 2010–12, we were earning a really great salary in our country. Also, there was an economic crisis and things were cheaper than today.

Anyway, we were constantly looking and trying different ways to make money online.

To be honest, we even got heavily into the MLM method, which was advertised as 10% daily income.

You know, when you don't have experience in something new, you often simply don't know whether what you are doing is good or not.

This is really common with making money online.

So we barely made $10 or $20 per week for many months, but we made something and that was what kept us doing something. And we began to research into more opportunities.

Sure, we gave up that MLM because we found later that it was really a scam. But that's how your experience comes, right?

Later on...

I remember it was a sunny 2012 summer day and we met on the street.

And my friend says he thinks he's found an interesting opportunity that seems quite easy and could work tens of years from now and he already made $50 this week online just barely spending a few minutes at his PC.

That was something that got my full attention.

As you can imagine, $50 a week and doing something on the PC for a few minutes seemed very promising for me.

You can get real money without having a boss and doing work when you want. Wow, that was something I really dreamed about.

Especially knowing I could make not just $50 a week but, as you will see later, also $500 and even four-figures per week and just working barely one to three hours per day whenever I want.

The BASICS

I wanted to share with you the basics I started with, the same basics that helped my mom and a friend of mine to start to see sales from Day 1.

Yes, I got my own mom to succeed from DAY 1 with online marketing.

Yes, the friend I helped to set up everything saw success from DAY 1.

And, hopefully, you will be happy that someone like me reached out to you somehow to show you that there are opportunities out there even for regular people like me and you.

I will give you an overall view of how this works and how you can start to achieve the same $50 up to $100 + days by working one or two hours per day.

I could talk about numerous consulting customers, but I believe if you can help the ones who are the closest to you that matters even more in life.

As I said, the same principles helped my mom and a friend of mine to get off the ground online, right?

There will be a picture of my mom, her newly built house and the car she recently bought thanks to the online marketing.

I just asked her to take that picture :)

What matters most?

Not the car or house but that she can live a better life on her own terms.

All thanks to the online marketing she started.

My mom and my friend started literally from scratch and
I'm going to show you the exact formula.

Is there a shortcut everyone can get?

(like the one my mom and friend and other private customers got)

It depends.

If you follow someone who has done it and you really trust that person, then yes.

However, if you need to build that shortcut yourself without any previous experience, it could be challenging and there is a 5% chance you will succeed.

Try to build a bridge over a river without experience and let's see how far you will get with that. It's the same here.

Anyway, for me, this (following my friend) was a shortcut because I just needed money, a bit more money, AND I trusted him.

I'm going to share with you an actual strategy that works really, really well.

It's so powerful and trustworthy I would give it to my grandma and my kids if they needed it.

This strategy is for everyone who has never ever made any money online or isn't yet making very much or wants to take their earnings to a level where it starts to approach their salary.

It's for those at "floor level" who want to ride the lift a bit higher.

The internet is just waiting for you to give it a gentle nudge and take advantage of the earning and freedom potential you see around you, but maybe you are not part of it just yet.

OVERVIEW

...or how my $10 investment is worth $18,332+

What was that thing I started with?

I bought a PLR product for $9 and made more than $17,538 by reselling it but NOT in the way most wannabe online entrepreneurs do it (and fail, unfortunately).

$9 -> $17,538

Interesting, right?

Remember, I had NO experience with digital products or online marketing but still made $17,538+...

....with this simple FIVERR DOMINATION report type eBook

As Easy As Opening A Can Of Soda!"

Introducing...

lution to making money on-demand with no previous experience, s vestments! In fact, all you need is just 30-60 minutes a day, to bank

...that was just a starting point for me.

I guess many of you know what PLR stands for, but in case not, here it is.

PLR (private label rights) are products (eBooks, software, graphics, videos, and courses, etc.) made by others and where you can acquire licenses to own them and later modify and customize them.

So yes, I bought it for $9 and got ownership rights. I mean, come on.

$9 for a product (in this case report type) which was made by someone else and you get ownership rights. That's insane.

Usually you will find PLR products are sold in a bundle like in the picture below:

Opt-in page, some workbook, access on mobile/laptop, maybe some special app even and some video courses with checklists.

Or simple PDF eBooks, but they might have a bundle of opt-in pages, sales pages, etc. included—you need to check this more in detail.

Or you can get all this in the form of articles you can use to make an eBook.

Here are the 15 articles you get for almost nothing right now:

Basically you can find EVERYTHING you can imagine.

It's there: If you like healthy eating and fitness; automotive; you're a relationship person; finances (trading, crypto, etc.) is your thing; you like to talk about kids; you love gardening; your hobby is fishing; you love to travel; you love pets
It's all there for you.

Productivity, Mindset, DIY, Yoga, Vegan, Cooking, Self-improvement, etc. -

Everything is there for you to start profiting (you will get there).

This is not only applicable for digital products.

You see white label products everywhere: Tesco, Walmart, Target, LIDL, RIMI, Maxima, AMAZON etc. (depending on which country you live in).

PLR is for digital, white label—for digital and/or physical products.

Those GIANTS have either their own private label or owned-brand products and they source the products from well-known brands to produce their own self-owned products.

To say it clearer, the rice pack you buy from BIG BRAND, which costs $3 per pack, you may get from the supermarket's self-owned (private label) brand, which usually will be available in the bottom shelf 2x cheaper...

Supermarkets just don't need to promote their self-owned brand products because they can sell them for much cheaper just to attract customers.

Let me tell you a simple example of how powerful this is.

On Amazon, there are 158,000+ private label products.

Can you imagine 158,000 private label products?

This is profitable and many do not like this for many reasons.

That is the reason there was a lawsuit for AMAZON.

Here is an excerpt from the “Committee on the Judiciary” AMAZON documents where they answer how many private label products they own...:

Responses to Questions for the Record following the July 16, 2019, Hearing of the Subcommittee on Antitrust, Commercial, and Administrative Law, Committee on the Judiciary, Entitled “Online Platforms and Market Power, Part 2: Innovation and Entrepreneurship”

October 11, 2019

- 9 Please identify the number of private label products offered by Amazon in total and broken down by product category.

Amazon currently offers approximately 158,000 private brand products (some of which have additional variations, such as color and size) across 45 brands in the Amazon store in addition to some private brand products sold by Amazon Fresh, its online grocery store available in select metro areas.

See full document here

Crazy, right?

A lot of e-commerce shops you buy something from are selling white label products.

You as a seller don't need to know how to manufacture it or even produce content for an eBook or daily planner or even a course on how to do XYZ...

It's that simple.

Anyway, today we're going to focus on digital products but I wanted to mention also a bit about other opportunities like physical products so you're aware of all this (in case you were not).

Today we are not here to talk about physical products, but more about digital ones because you literally can start with a few $10s out of the pocket.

You read it right. You can literally start with a few $10s and if you do it right you can make thousands from that (that is not a typo, yes, thousands).

Do you know any other business where you can start with such low investments?

Most people have no idea how this is done, but you're here to learn about it (wise choice to be honest).

Keep reading :)

STRATEGY

... What did I do after I invested $9?

Yes, this involves a bit of work, but it's something you don't need any experience to complete even if you're someone with ZERO knowledge about how to make money online (like me when I made my first $10,000).

I will even give you simple suggestions on how to outsource all this so you're hardly doing any work yourself.

So, here it is - my simple approach strategy.

1. Interest research (Skip this and fail within seven days)
2. Buy PLR for $5–$25 (I'll show you how and where)
3. Customize it. (I'll show you how to delegate or do it yourself with the help of AI)
4. Promote it (I will give instructions)
5. Start to see sales every morning (enjoy the fruits)

I'll do my best not to go into too many small details so as not to confuse and "paralyze" you with information overload. Keep this in mind please.

My strategies are something I do myself and have encouraged my consulting customers to do for 10+ years who pay me sometimes thousands and you will get the same here (except not my accountability and special cases for you).

The basics have NOT been changed—the basics are still the same.

But today you have AI and you'll be surprised how quickly you can get things done thanks to it.

I'll show you the exact steps that will save you hundreds and will get you results much quicker so you can even try 10 x almost without risking any money.

I haven't heard of any other business in the world like this. Enjoy.

What differentiates those who succeed with info products?

I started a conversation about this a few paragraphs back.

And let me give you a bit more as this is really important if you want to succeed.

You must understand the following if you are going to be successful.

There is so much information available on the internet at the moment that it is virtually worthless unless it's tied in with personal experience and opinion.

Let me give you an example.

You want to read about results, opinion, and experience and not generic, e.g. "101 ways of making money online."

I don't know anyone who would even make anything from that kind of article. Don't waste your time.

They are boring.

You want to know "How Andy from the neighborhood lost 13 lbs. in two weeks running 10 minutes."

Or (another example)

"How a 76 yr. old guy from London sending one email each day makes $230+ each day in survival and fishing niche."

No one is interested in your AI generated theory but real personal examples with unique opinions (YOUR opinion).

That is why case studies like those above work so well and you read/watch them with interest as they are tied into personal experience and opinions.

Believe me, you watch FB and IG because of other people's personal experience as it creates interest in our brains and generates dopamine and makes us want to scroll more and see more.

Perhaps if I hadn't been interested in changing something in my very first PLR product I may have been one of those million failures who never made money online.

Don't make this mistake just because you may be lazy or "have no time".

Stop talking about this B.S.

That will make you look awful in the long term and your mind will come up with additional tens of reasons (logical, of course!) why you couldn't do it.

Leave it for others, okay?

Most wannabe online entrepreneurs try to sell NON-customized versions and just hope this will sell and I found this accidentally because I just "wanted to look smarter" (thank God this worked out at least once in my life).

So this is exactly the first step that I did when I bought this $9 product, I customized it.

To be continued....

Before we continue...

Could this be you trying to understand what I wrote? lol

I'm here showing you an overview of how I made thousands (and soon how to add much more like tens of thousands) from the same product.

And most important, how you can replicate all of this. Even if you only have a few hours, you can do this by yourself with almost no additional costs.

The only cost you may have would be $9 of the product you buy or whatever money you paid for it to get ownership and your time of course (maybe it's worth skipping TV for one, two evenings, huh?).

Really. Where else have you seen a simpler and more cost-effective way to start something?

You could even try 10 to 20 times and that would not break your bank account, right?

But the outcome could be 1,000x or much more like I will show you.

For you, it should also be no-brainer to try “100” times until you succeed because the starting costs are so low. But I will leave this to you to think about :)

I remind you that the 5 Strategy Steps outlined here can be done merely sitting in a warm place in front of the TV for a few evenings with wine/beer.

1. Interest research (Skip this and fail within seven days)
2. Buy PLR for $5–$25 (I'll show you how and where)
3. Customize it. (I'll show you how to delegate or do it yourself with help of AI)
4. Promote it (I will give you instructions)
5. Start to see sales every morning (enjoy the fruits)

Hopefully you already have a small overview of how this may work and I believe the future seems already brighter, huh ? :)

My goal here is to show that you can do it even if you are super busy and have just 20–40 minutes per day to work on something.

This changed my life. Is it going to change your life too?

Choosing INTERESTS you care about

Have you seen many people quit dieting and workouts?

How useful would it be if someone checked in on your New Year's resolution a few months later, huh?

One thing I know for sure.

They lack motivation because even if the new thing seems interesting it's hard to keep engaging when small problems occur.

I know it, I have been there and will get there again. Unfortunately.

That's why it's really important to choose something that's interesting for yourself because you plan to work on it for the next few days/weeks and it needs to be sufficiently motivational to finish.

If you like fishing, probably you should choose fishing and a related niche.

If you like running, you should choose something related to it.

Choose directly or not directly.

For example, running does not mean just running.

There is equipment that people use, there are special foods, there is training all about running, breathing, etc.

Be specific because this will help you to sell it easier.

You should choose something you are interested in

Look at what YouTube videos you watch, what TV shows you watch, what you read most, what you can talk about all day long with friends, etc.

Look around you. What you do in the morning, what you do in the evening.

Perhaps there is something you are really interested in and passionate about in your routine.

Maybe you know everything about toothbrushes and how the right toothbrush makes your teeth better?

Crazy narrow niche-specific ideas like this work.

Go niche—go for the DETAIL that isn't available anywhere else, if you want.

It's highly unlikely you can go TOO niche, again despite what herd marketing says.

If you think you can go TOO niche, think again:

WOW, that's a small market, right? (Or is it, LOL?)

The following are real products:

-BOMBPROOF YOUR HORSE

-WHO CARES ABOUT ELDERLY PEOPLE?

-DOES GOD EVER SPEAK THROUGH CATS?

-HOW TO DISAPPEAR COMPLETELY AND NEVER BE FOUND

-KNITTING WITH DOG HAIR: BETTER A SWEATER FROM A DOG YOU KNOW AND LOVE THAN FROM A SHEEP YOU'LL NEVER MEET

-MANIFOLD DESTINY: THE ONE! THE ONLY! GUIDE TO COOKING ON YOUR CAR ENGINE!

You get the idea?

If you think your product idea is too niche or too specialist you're probably wrong (although I'll show you how to test this to be sure later in this chapter).

If you are someone who likes fishing or gardening, it will be SUPER hard for you to keep motivated to talk and work on your “sports” product about, e.g. running.

Don't make this mistake

Remember, I was just interested overall in how to make money online and that's why I chose very generic topic like "how to make money with fiverr.com".

So writing down your interests would be useful

Also, don't worry if you are not sure if this is the right thing or not because, at this stage, it does not matter.

Your job at the stage you're at now is just to do something and see what worked or didn't work for you. It's that simple.

It's like warming up before running or stretching a bit when we wake up.

Can you choose a niche you are not fully interested in?

Yes, don't worry about this. Just choose something IF THAT IS THE CASE.

You can always change (because this does not cost you much at all) and the good thing is it almost does not cost anything in this income methodology.

But it helps if this is your hobby or something you're interested in already or you're interested to learn more in the future.

How much time should you spend on your interest research?

You can do this in 30 minutes, but some people take one to seven days. Really, try to write up what you can in 30 minutes, at least three to five things. And that should be good enough really.

Again, good enough is good enough.

“...but I'm worried I don't know enough”

The beauty of this white-label report business is that even someone like a 90-year-old grandma could buy rights and sell the product without knowing much about the product itself.

Because you can easily go through the product details when you start to sell it or ask your friend AI to give a summary in two minutes of the product OR if you have a bit of time you can just browse online to learn more on the subject and, believe me, in two weeks you'll already know much more than most people and you'll be easily called an expert who is just ONE–TWO steps ahead of their audience (BUT this is only needed if you're afraid of selling something and you're not an expert).

Let me give you an example from my mentor Tony of how he became an expert in two weeks...

Some years back, when Tony was looking to buy a small second-hand yacht, he set his sights on a specific model, “the Westerly Centaur”.

It was a basic and straightforward boat, ideal for teaching his kids to sail and spacious enough for short trips.

In just two weeks, Tony became almost an expert on this model.

He read extensively from websites, blogs, forums, and user groups, soaking up every detail.

He even went for a test sail, visited marinas, and spoke directly with current owners.

Through this immersion, Tony learned how to differentiate between versions by the shape of the portholes, the particular weaknesses to look for (like potential leaks in the coachroof lining), and the performance of various pre-installed engines.

By the end, he knew enough to write a reliable buyer's guide for the Centaur model or find a PLR product to customize it based on what he knew.

This rapid, focused learning made him knowledgeable in a small niche, demonstrating how quickly one can become proficient with dedication and targeted research.

As you can see, this approach illustrates how deep, focused research and real-world exploration can turn you into an "expert" in a really short time and because you just were interested in a particular "object".

(...you may start to think)

“But I have never sold anything online.”

And?

Me too (when I started), but it didn't hold me back from making HUNDREDS within days online (and soon thousands).

My mom (yes, my mom) saw results from the first day she started and she had no idea what an eBook was.

I asked my mom and her husband to take a picture with the house and car they bought thanks to online marketing and thanks to my introducing them to online marketing.
(Now they have transitioned to other niche but are still online—nice, right?)

You can even book a house for your trip here on AirBnB and talk with them about online marketing - Link here. As I said - It's all real.

Or...

My friend had no idea he could set up an online business in a few hours and with less than $100 and now he can afford to travel whenever he wants and take his family with him.

On the backseat: A friend of mine with his wife; they can go on vacation basically whenever they want thanks to online marketing, which I introduced him to.
P.S. All our five children stayed at home with a nanny :)

Who's the guy in the middle?

That's my friend who I followed when he made only $100 :)

Today? Investments everywhere—real estate, finance markets, cars...

Nice, right?

It all started with $100 income.

I have literally consulted so many different people who just had no idea they could make money online with such a simple approach.

We all started with ZERO experience in selling things online.

I have consulted people from different niches and seen them all succeeding.

Accountants, warehouse workers, sales agents, taxi drivers, business owners, retirees, managers, IT people, carpenters, students, berry pickers, factory packers, construction workers, movie producers, gardeners and many more.

As I said, you don't need any previous experience to succeed with this simple income model.

Yes, you don't even need to hold any university degree to become successful. (Ask me how I know this!) in case you are worried you're too 'smart'.

Where to get a good product to CASH-ON (aka duplicate)

In my case it was easy—I got information from a friend about what to get and where to get it.

For you?

It will be even easier. I'm going to show you too with what to start, nothing held back.

P.S.

Truth you may know already, but it's worth reminding yourself.

My uncle, 20 years ago, said, "The internet is garbage." When I asked what he meant by that, he said, "Most information is useless there."

I really thought he was totally wrong—dumb shit guy to say something like that.

Oh my, how much I was wrong...

And really the same applies when searching PLR.

There is so much PLR garbage, more than you can imagine, and if you don't have anyone who can guide you, I'm sorry for you. Really.

It's like leaving a chicken in the forest. The end will come quickly.

If you search Google with PLR, you will find a ton of resources saying 1000s of PLR products...

It's all great, except we're not here for information but TRANSFORMATION and when you have so much to choose from, that makes things even worse.

Instead, here are a few good PLR places I suggest to people

PLRPUMP - Great resources from Kate, Geoff and Sussie

MasterPLR - Also owned by Geoff and Sussie

Plr.one - Britt Malka writes daily and offers a lot of products

Exclusive - PLR store with a lot of products

Unstoppableplr - Worth checking

PLR.me - A lot. I like to use this resource for ideas.

InternetSlayers - JR is the owner here and you can count on her (quality!)

PLR Database - Check it out

PLR Mines - Check it out

BPS - Check it out

If you can't find your niche here, try to google "PLR + [your niche] f.e., fishing"

Keep in mind that many PLR products are really not worth selling, really.

But you need to be ready for that and just buy a few.

The really good thing is they cost almost nothing and you can try many without worrying how much you spent because you will pay maybe a few $10s only.

That's the beauty.

When you find one PLR that resonates with you...

Ask yourself again, is this going to give any value to my readers?

Is this information good, really good?

Or almost good?

If you answer yes, then do those few things I mentioned in "What I did after I bought it" and you are good to go.

Or outsource all that for a few $10s if you just don't want to do that.

It couldn't be easier thanks to all those freelancers waiting to do work for you. So let's move on...

CUSTOMIZATION

Let me tell you a little story...

A while back (back then), I hired a freelancer to tweak a sales page for me. Just a bit of customization—nothing fancy but so that it looked different.

Basically I said to the freelancer, “Make it unique; different graphics, different formatting of texts, etc. Whatever you can come up with would be great.”

In a couple of days, boom, the results were in. The cost? A laughable $30–$50.

Fast-forward to today and AI can whip that same page into shape in minutes—for FREE (I'll show you HOW, keep reading).

Yes, free.

And don't worry, I'll show you exactly how so you can copy this without spending a single penny.

Believe me, you've enough skills to either ask a freelancer for help or craft the perfect AI prompt to get exactly what you want 😊

After I got the sales page back, I dug into the product it was selling—a mini PDF report about Fiverr.com.

I read through it, added my own spin, and even tweaked a few paragraphs.

Copy, paste, done.

But with today's tools, even that can be automated.

AI can do the heavy lifting while adding your unique flavor.

I'll show you how you can.

At the same time, I even tried myself the product

(It was a mini pdf report about fiverr.com).

Why did I invest my time to try the product and things they teach there?

Back then, I just thought it was interesting to read and try myself.

In reality, that separated me from Day 1 from those who do not make money online.

Remember I said most people never make any real money with PLR products?

One of the most popular reasons is they just buy rights and never personalize the product and then wonder why nothing online works.

Putting your product out there within 100s of the same products with no changes and then you're surprised that nothing works? Uh...

I'm giving you shortcuts so don't be that lazy bastard trying to come up with tens of excuses (sure, all logical for you) just NOT to do something, okay?

Anyway...

After that I described my own experience in my own words how to do certain things.

Sure, it took me a few hours.

But you?

You don't need to do this yourself anymore.

Today, you can just add a job on the website www.upwork.com "edit my PLR, customize, and make it unique" and within 24 to 48 hours you will get people to choose from to do the work and your costs will be anywhere from $50 to $150 to do the task you require so you don't need to do this yourself (if you don't want, right?).

All you need to know is what you want to do and it'll be done, e.g., as I said to freelancers, something like this: "Make it unique; different graphics, different formatting of texts, etc. Whatever you can come up with would be great."

REALLY, it's worth it (here's just a small sample from my FIVERR DOMINATION website, it worked great).

That means for $50 – $150 you could have your own product in just a few days without lifting a finger.

Or you can simply give the right prompts to ChatGPT / AI to customize it for you without investing any money.

You just need to give the right prompts and you can have it done for free.

Yes, totally for free.

Again, it's so simple, but as the saying goes, "If you don't know, then you don't know."

Let me give you a quick example of how I often start conversations with chatgpt and you'll see it's a bit different.

Here's the trick. Don't say, "customize my sales page." Instead, write like this:

I'm going to customize my sales page which I bought together with the product. I need to make it more personal. Please let me know what facts you would like to have from me

Making a sales page more personal is an excellent idea! To tailor the content and make it resonate with your audience, it helps to include personal details and experiences. Here are some facts I'd like to know to guide you in crafting a personalized sales page:

1. Your Story:

- Why did you choose this product?
- What problem were you trying to solve when you found it?
- How has this product personally impacted or benefited you?

2. Your Audience:

- Who are you targeting with this product? (e.g., parents, entrepreneurs, hobbyists)
- What common challenges do they face that this product solves?

3. Tone and Style:

- How do you want to come across? (e.g., friendly and relatable, expert and trustworthy, inspiring and motivational)

4. Specific Outcomes:

- What are the tangible results this product delivers?

If you think it is hard to answer those questions, then only say that you want to customize your sales page and write something about your typical day, about your life struggles, what you like and enjoy, some thoughts about life and your job, etc.

And it will be enough to have some kind of outcome already.

Couldn't be easier, right?

And that could be done within one to two hours or the simplest version in just five minutes.

For God's sake, don't tell me you don't have five minutes to get the job done.

Really, it's that easy if you don't overthink it and can follow someone who has done it.

I KNOW what you might think now...

"You said only 'this and that' but what about 'this and this and also this and this'?"

Here's the truth.

Remember at the start of this report I mentioned I'll give you only what you need? I know what you need and you need only a bit because information overload is the problem that may paralyze you. You need the basics to get out your very first online "thing". You don't need anything else.

And still the basics are what will make you hundreds and thousands, just as it does for me, my mom, my friend and my consulting customers.

After you have done everything we talked about, it's time to turn the grill on ... or, simply said, “put it all together”

Now you should have given up two to three hours of your time for this and you should have done the first four.

1. You recognized your interests (30 minutes)
2. You chose your niche (30 up to 60 minutes)
3. You found a few PLR white label products (60 to 90 minutes)
4. You customized it and made it more personal (30 to 120 minutes)
5. Get an audience to sell it to (next thing to do)

I want to mention a few things (literally I'll repeat myself) but, okay, about number four.

How you will do it (yourself or you will pay someone) is up to you.

But from helping customers throughout the years I have found that most people stagnate on this for too long. And the way I help to overcome it is with interesting examples that will hopefully motivate you too.

If you really stagnate for whatever reason at Nr.4, rethink the following.

The product you found... Is it good enough? If you feel the answer is yes, try this.

Change only the cover of it and the title

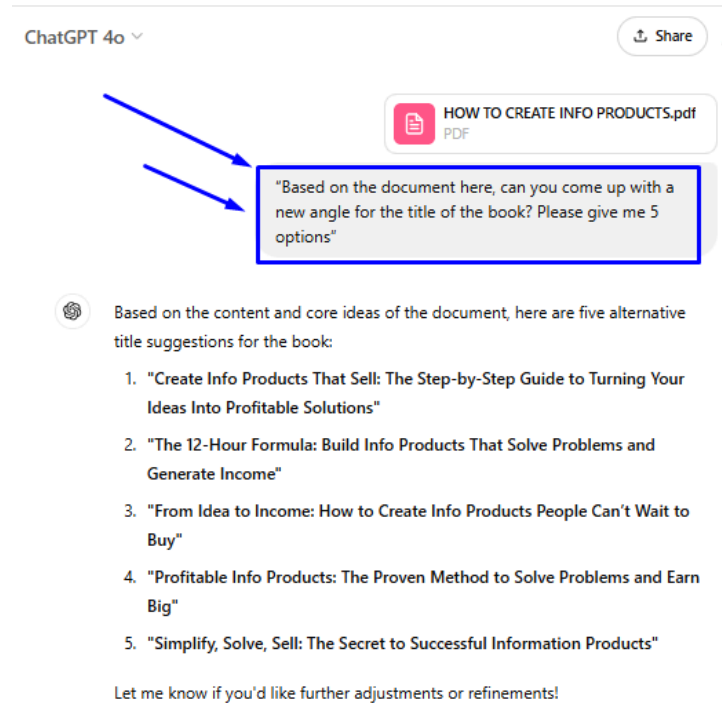

(Make it different and more interesting)

First, go to chatgpt and ask it to come up with an engaging angle for the book.

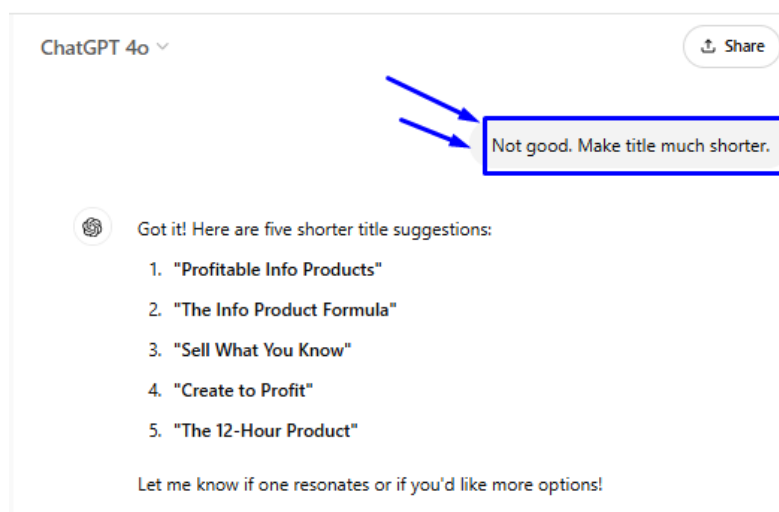

Upload the document there and write a prompt:

“Based on the document here, can you come up with a new angle for the title of the book? Please give me five options”

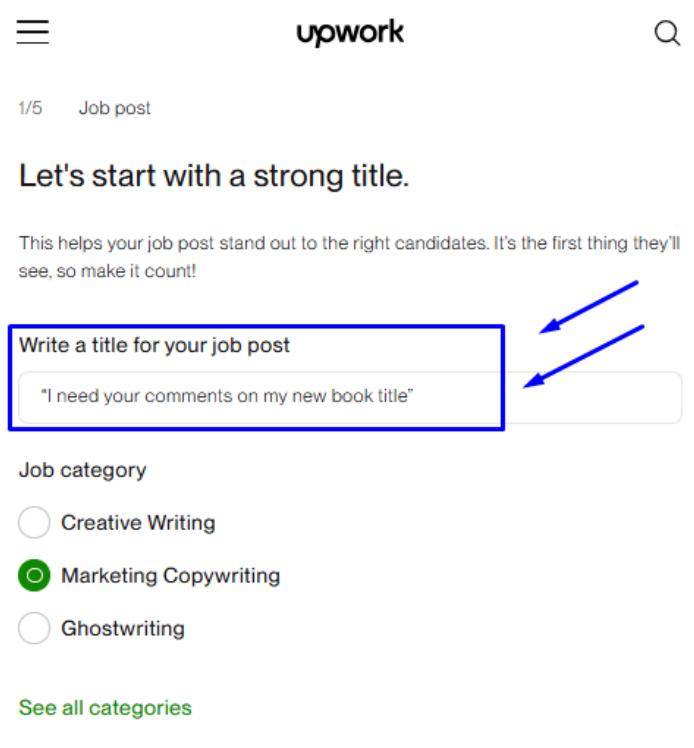

If you're great with what AI came up with, great. If not, give a bit more information about what this "product" is about and what you liked or didn't in the new titles it gave you.

Repeat the process until you feel good with the new title.

Next go to upwork.com and put a job there for copywriters: “I need your comments on my new book title.” Don’t pay more than $10 for this.

1/5 Job post

Let's start with a strong title.

This helps your job post stand out to the right candidates. It's the first thing they'll see, so make it count!

Write a title for your job post

"I need your comments on my new book title"

Job category

☐ Creative Writing

☒ Marketing Copywriting

☐ Ghostwriting

See all categories

Really that's enough.

You don't need at this stage copywriters who charge $500 per hour.

I can assure you that you'll get many applications to do the job and most probably many will give suggestions for free.

Next, go to Fiverr.com and search for “EBook cover design” or “Digital product mockup”. Just choose a freelancer based on which designs you like.

The job should not cost much more than $5–$10.

I don't think all this should take more than 30–60 minutes overall to manage.

That's exactly how long it took me to change my first PLR report.

And it was worth tens of dollars (and later on tens of thousands of dollars).

Let's assume you got only 5% or 10% of what I achieved (use a calculator if needed).

Wouldn't those few hours be worth it?

This should inspire you...

This is a $10,000,000 example just by changing
THE TITLE and cover of the book.

...exactly what I'm suggesting you do if you don't have much time.

Remember, this has been done for tens of years if not hundreds ... and it is NOTHING new.

It's just that most people don't know it is possible.

This is not only relevant online, but things like this are all over and we basically do the same thing here.

To show just how transformative a title can be—and how buying the rights to a product can turn it into a hit—let me tell you a quick story.

In 1982, Naura Hayden released a book titled Astro-Logical Love. Now, take a moment to think about that title. What do you expect it to cover? Does it stand out and make you feel like you have to pick it up? For most, it didn't resonate enough and, as a result, the book struggled to sell. Out of the 5,000 copies printed, only 2,000 found their way to readers.

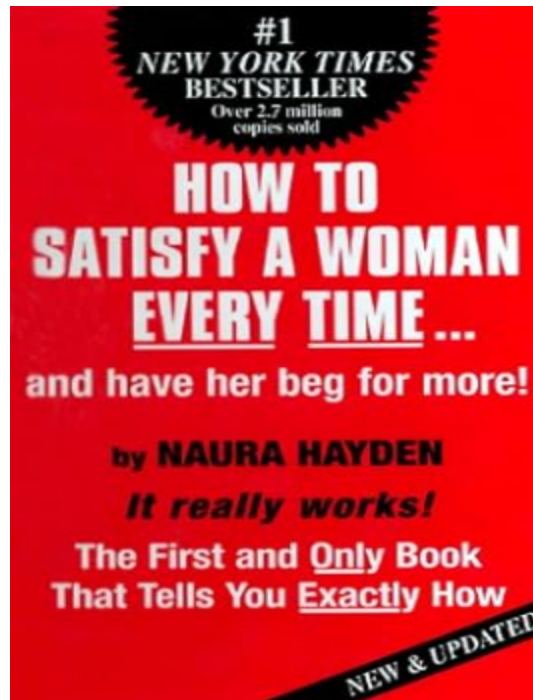

Naura ended up selling the remaining stock to discount book shops and flea markets, where it was priced at 99 cents. It was in one of these places that a New York publisher happened to notice the book. After reading it, he thought, This is actually a fantastic guide on seducing women!

Seeing its potential, he bought the rights from Naura, republished it, and kept every word inside exactly the same.

The only thing he changed?

The title.

He rebranded it as How to Satisfy a Woman Every Time ... and Have Her Beg for More!

So, here's the million-dollar question: if you were looking for a book in that category, which title would draw you in more?

The results speak for themselves.

In just 18 months, the newly titled book sold a staggering 2.3 million copies!

It became a massive cultural phenomenon, reaching #1 on the New York Times bestseller list.

The content was identical; not a single word inside had been changed.

P.S. YUP, exactly what I ask you to do if you have no time to do anything else.

There wasn't even a picture on the cover.

The magic was entirely in the new title—and, more specifically, in the promise that title made.

The difference?

The new title spoke directly to what people actually wanted. It offered something irresistible, transforming the book into a must-have sensation.

Don't tell me you can't do that.

At least try, and by having all the tools we have today and the small investments this requires, you should be insane NOT to try, right?

“What about if I only got my money back and this ‘just’ paid for my time?”

But that would mean that now you know how to make money online!

You ‘ungrateful’ bastard, LOL!

"While you sleep, date, watch movies, do hobbies, go outside with family, do your workouts, go on vacation, work at another job, etc..."

And all that should add new ideas about what is possible for you, right?

You just got a hint of proof that it worked and that's what you were so keenly looking for, right?

Believe me this is an amazing feeling.

But who will buy from me?

Acquiring an audience (nr.5)

When I started back in 2012, I started with email marketing and that's led me to understand the following.

To me, there is absolutely zero point in getting a prospect in front of your offer yet not gathering their contact details so you can market to them over and over.

So you need an audience you can contact any time you wish, any time.

Depending on how you choose to do it, it might cost you money or it might cost you time.

But after that, anytime you want to contact your audience it should be almost for free with their permission to do so.

I do email marketing as a base and that's something I suggest you do also and or/ implement into your marketing activities.

For example, my niche is more about generically making money online and I buy ad placements in newsletters that talk about those things.

It really doesn't matter how you get people into the sphere of your influence unless you are sure you can contact them over and over for free.

I do it in two ways.

Nr.1)

I have made this kind of website where people need to enter information to get access to something and I tell them why I need this.

It's that simple.

I don't know why it works so well, but I assume it's because people need what I promote.

If that helps, here are a few of my pages for you to see.

It's so easy today, you lucky bastards :)

Nr.2)

The second option is almost the same as the first one, except instead I offer them something for free and then show them related products.

Here's a quick example of a product that helped people to make money with my Fiverr.com product back then when I started.

It was something new when being a freelancer started to become popular. So I got the rights to the product and sold it for $17–$27.

But to get people to subscribe to my page, I took one section of that paid report, which was about why you should consider being a freelancer and how you can make two to three times more of your salary and enjoy freedom at the same time, and made it free if you subscribed with me.

This was the website I used for my FIVERR report (copy if you want).

You can do this in different ways. And, as I said, either you can place an ad or it might cost you time.

I prefer to pay for the ads.

Why?

Because it's much quicker.

You can pay $3 to $5 per day to get visitors to your site.

You don't need to know how to set up, for example, Facebook ads. Pay someone a few dollars and they will do it for you (set-up FB ads).

It is that simple if you don't oversee it. (Guess how I know this?)

Here are some real-life examples:

- You can go to some Facebook group and say you will give them some money if they can post your advertisement on that group related to your PLR white label report.

You don't need any special skills to write to someone on Facebook, right?

And if you are unsure what the post should be about, just ask Facebook group owners if they can come up with something interesting based on your report and you'll be amazed what good ideas they'll suggest!

- I like to advertise in newsletters. You can do the same. The easiest way is to find your niche blogs or websites and reach out to them to find out if they have a newsletter and ask them if you can promote your product there. It's THAT easy.

Or put a banner on your niche sites.

If you are wondering which option to start with, then choose whichever you think is the easiest; for example, finding Facebook groups or your niche sites.

Here is a tip.

Go to fiverr.com and hire someone for $10–$20 to do the job.

The title should be something like "Help me reach out to Facebook groups in {your niche} and ask them if they would allow sponsored posts."

Look out for people who do administrative tasks or call themselves a VA (virtual assistant).

They are people who will help you.

I have used them for numerous reasons. The only drawback will be that you'll need to fire some of them quite quickly so ... get ready to do that :)
(A glass of wine should help if you're doing this for the first time, huh? :))

People from Asia will be happy to help you for "cheap" if you ask them.

If you are looking to find excuses for why you CANNOT do anything, you are lying to yourself.

Really, you are lying to yourself (and me too).

I'm showing you simple and proven things that I have done in my business and seen how many other people succeeded with this information (and a bit of my accountability).

Here it is.

Choose how you want to gather an audience and do it yourself or ask for cheap help. Hopefully, cheap help.

You will feel so good when you have done something instead of thinking.

Just send your audience to the squeeze page and things will start rolling. This is another one to two hours where you could move yourself closer to something you dream.

Do it.

Put a task on your calendar to do something and Get It Done.

Or say to your wife, husband, friend, FB wall, etc. that you're going to take some action and not only read.

Get accountable. You'll do better than ever. Impress yourself.

P.S. Just reading and skipping action points. Huh? You'll fail, sorry.

There is a pile of money to be taken

(The processes in place)

If you are used to only earning money only when you work, be prepared to see how waking up in the morning is much nicer because you are going to make money while you sleep.

With the system laid out here, you literally will not be able not to generate money. You just need to set up everything correctly.

In a nutshell, all you do is just tell freelancers what they need to do and that's it.

Up until now, we have talked about choosing your niche, finding out what interests you, finding white label product reports and gathering an audience. Something you can do in a few evenings, right?

Now we need your audience to buy what you have (guaranteed?)

I will show you why you don't need to worry even if no one buys from you.

It's not because they are not interested in what you have. They just need time to think about it (but we'll get to this).

So, how do you introduce your product to your audience?

People need somewhere to read/see what you have, right?

And the easiest way to do this is to have a sales page.

You know me; I don't mention something if I'm not sure you can do it easily. And here's a trick.

You do not only buy PLR but look if there is a sales page included so you don't need to do the job.

You just buy those that have a sales page and use it for your needs.

Some PLR white label products are sold without a sales page already, but for some, it is there. Usually, those are not the ones some guru has written the sales copy for, but they are good to start with.

In the past I also used an option where I bought whatever product it was but I just looked to see if they had a sales page and used that for another product.

Just be sure those websites are fixed to work on mobile and desktop.

You are not here for a perfect solution but to make a start.

Do you get me?

Remember, often you can use other product sales pages and all you need to do is customize them for your new product.

(Again, just pay a freelancer $10–$20 for this task, don't do it yourself!)

That's more important than thinking and dreaming.

Start and do something to get it out; believe me, that is the only way to see any results (been there, done that).

You think you're super productive and you have a bit more time than the average person?

Or it's simply motivation for a better life that keeps you finding the time, huh?

To be honest, you MUST find time for this. Sorry.

You need to do a bit more—and it will not harm at all.

However, if you find yourself stuck on this for a few days or even more, dump everything ASAP and save this for later.

Anyway...

It's always recommended to customize your PLR product (redesign the cover and make some small changes in your sales letter, adding a bit more personality, and so on).

Doing those things makes your PLR different. Adding your own personality there is what makes it much more unique.

If you decide not to change anything, that's fine.

But I do not recommend going down this path.

If you skip this part you'll be “shooting yourself in the leg”.

Really, imagine hundreds of people selling the same item...

Nope, you don't want to do that.

And when I look at my success with my FIVERR product and some other ones I have been involved with, the only time they crushed was when there was added “personality”.

There are two easy ways to make your white label sales page look authentic.

1. Hire someone to make it different.

I would usually pay $50–$100. It wouldn't surprise me if you can easily find someone to make changes in your sales letter for much less.

(People in Nigeria seem keen to do this.)

2. Ask AI to do the work for you.

This does not cost much at all and it's really simple to try.

Go to ChatGPT and write like this:

"Rewrite my sales letter based on what Gary Halbert (copywriter) and Dan Kennedy (copywriter too) teach. And also add citations and quotes from some well-known people in a particular niche. Write it as if from my personal experience. Here is a bit more about myself: I am XY years old [change to the age you want]. I have three children, two grandchildren. I love watching sports and helping homeless people by making hot meals for them every Monday. And here is my sales letter, which needs to be rewritten: [[copy your sales letter here]] (or parts of your sales page if chatgpt says it's too long).

Just copy what I wrote, adjust for yourself (e.g. whether you have children or not, etc...) and in five to 10 minutes you will have something unique to start with.

As you can see, you don't need special skills, right?

I have found some people have problems that follow, hopefully this will not be an issue and you can get this task done in a timely manner :)

Really, just five to 10 minutes is all you need. If you're coming up with any excuses you're just a lazy bastard :)

It is as easy as it looks.

Try it.

I'm giving you copy/paste solutions.

If I could get my grandma to follow the steps I outlined for her countryside small bee therapy business, and she's 84 now, I feel I know what I need to give you guys to get you results.

Try it and you will see how easy it is.

You can find 10 minutes ... or just start with what you bought and go without any customization if you have no other option...

(not suggesting, but it is better than not doing anything, right?!)

Check this page for ready made templates...

The beauty of this email is most people will open it as if they are in a stage where they are engaged with what you have to show them.

I usually want to keep impressing them and in this welcome/thank you email I will give them a link to a page where they can download that free report they signed up for (if that was the case).

It's important not to waste the page where you send your visitors from this welcome email because instead of just giving them a free report, you want to present another offer too.

(See below the example of this thank you page)

Thank you!

Here's your 2 page report you requested

Why Not Upgrade And Let Me Help To Do The Work Required?

Congratulations on Taking the First Step!

By now, you've had a chance to dive into the free 2-page report and see how 1 hour per day work online can transform your results.

You're already ahead of most people who never take action toward their goals.

But let me ask you this:
Why stop at just learning the strategy when you can have it fully set up and ready to go—without lifting a finger?

Imagine this:
Within the next 72 hours, you could be completely ready

All the moving parts handled, optimized, and ready to start working for you—whether you're still figuring things out or don't have the time to do it yourself.

This is your chance to skip the overwhelm, save time, and fast-track your success with my Done-With-You Service.

I do this by showing a simple thank you page with some engaging words and at the end (or at the start) they can get access to the report they subscribed for; plus, I put my offer with a strong call to action where people can easily navigate.

I would include in this thank you page anything that is congruent to my free report just to show them an option to buy something.

Quick random example of how this would look with with someone selling fishing gear:

Imagine you've just started an online business selling fishing gear. A new angler signs up for your newsletter, eager to get their hands on your free guide about catching the biggest bass. The first thing you do is send them a welcome email, but instead of just handing over the guide, you send them to a special page on your site. There, they can download the guide and also see an irresistible offer for a discounted fishing rod. It's like walking into a bait shop where the owner not only gives you what you came for but also shows you that perfect lure you didn't even know you needed.

And let's be honest—we all do this all the time.

You go to the store for “just one thing” and end up with a cart full of goodies you didn't plan on buying. It's completely natural because it's all about convenience and how well those extra products fit together.

The same happens in digital marketing.

And DON'T WORRY, you don't even need your own product.

You could easily include a screenshot of some affiliate product website—and you're ready.

Interesting, huh?

Let me provide a quick example for you to understand it better.

Here it is. Just 10 minutes and you're good to go!

Thank you!

That's how you present additional offers to your audience when they reach out to download the product you're giving away for free as a lead magnet.

(Remember, this was an option when I gave away a sample report from the product itself.)

So I hope you are starting to see the power of all this.

Alright...

Our subscriber gets the report and hopefully checks the offer.

I move on to the ongoing followup process.

I usually follow up on a daily basis once per day and it works really well.

Most people think that is too much, but I usually argue it's not really true.

See, maybe 20 years ago, this was true when we all were focused elsewhere.

But today, most of us open Instagram, Facebook, or some news site every day.

(To be honest, a "few" times per day because we are used to new information every day or even every hour and our fucked-up brain just asks for this kind of dopamine.)

One email sent by you per day is nothing compared to what most people consume every day.

The point is to constantly follow up.

The beauty is you don't need to provide some special content, it's more like an update on what you like, why, what you experienced, what you are thinking of doing next, some review of your last purchase, what you are reading, asking your subscribers what they are up to, and so on.

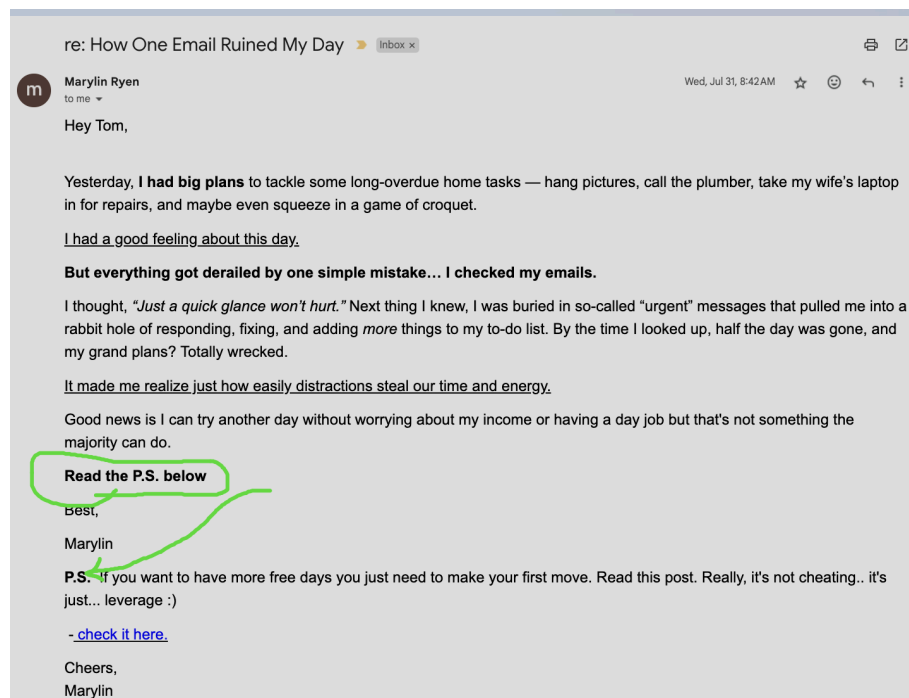

Just come up with opinions, comments, and so on.

Really, constant follow-up is one of the main reasons (to be honest, the main one) why people don't make enough money online.

It's the same with uploading new YouTube videos or Facebook posts, etc.

Just be consistent with good followup every day.

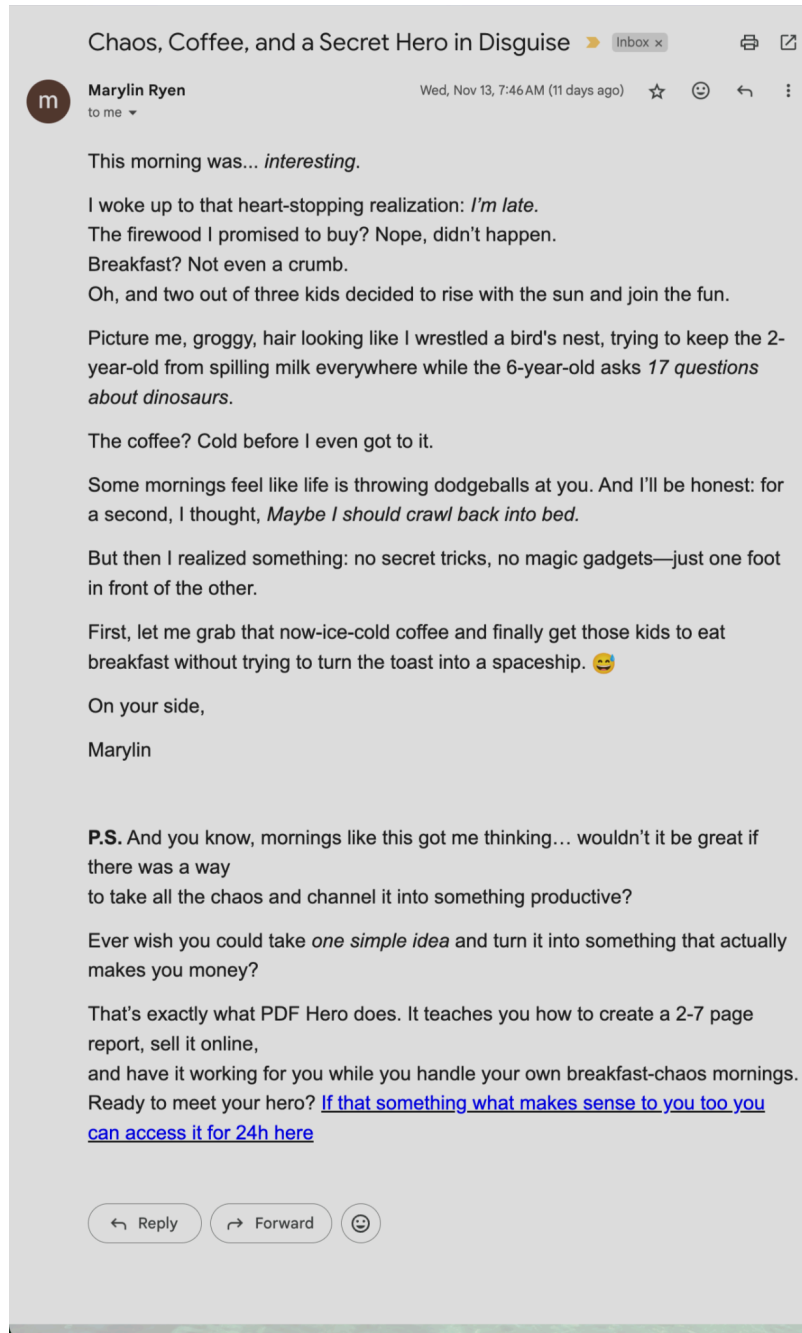

See a simple example I have used with my subscribers.

The above example is from one of the pen names I use :)

See how you could easily do the same?

You just write as you would talk with a friend

Our friends like who we are because what we say and how we say it resonates with them. They listen to your opinion (maybe they don't always agree) and value it. You are unique. Don't try to be someone else. It will be hard.

So back to your follow-up process...

Look at this picture below. It's all automated. How cool is that?

It's all a pre-scheduled autoresponder sequence.

You just do it ONCE.

The beauty of it?

You can do a job once and get paid every day.

You can pre schedule emails once and get paid every day.

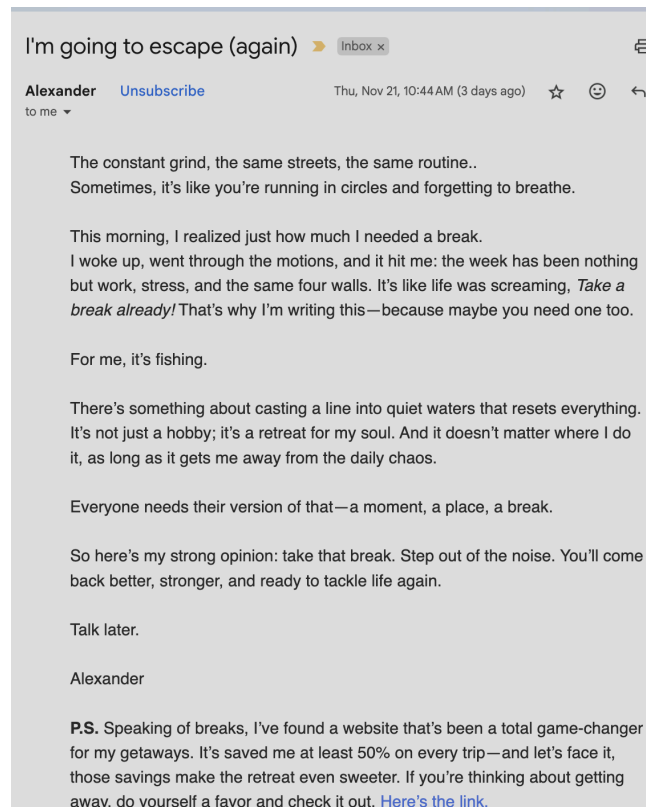

When starting out, don't try to write emails for 365 days.

I always suggest starting with 15–20 emails so you have enough time to write new ones.

If you are still worried that you can't write, you are wrong.

See this other example from one of my clients

(He gave a prompt to AI and this email was generated within two to three minutes)

You really think you can't tell an opinion like that?

Let me surprise you.

He made approximately $150+ in commissions from this email.

Nice, huh?

It is so easy if you just put one to two hours of focus onto your work
(or five minutes to generate an email like this).

Let's be honest. You have opinions about the government, teenagers, certain people and companies, your boss, your hobbies, electric cars, and so on.

Just put that on 'paper' and get paid. Or ask for the help of your new friend AI.

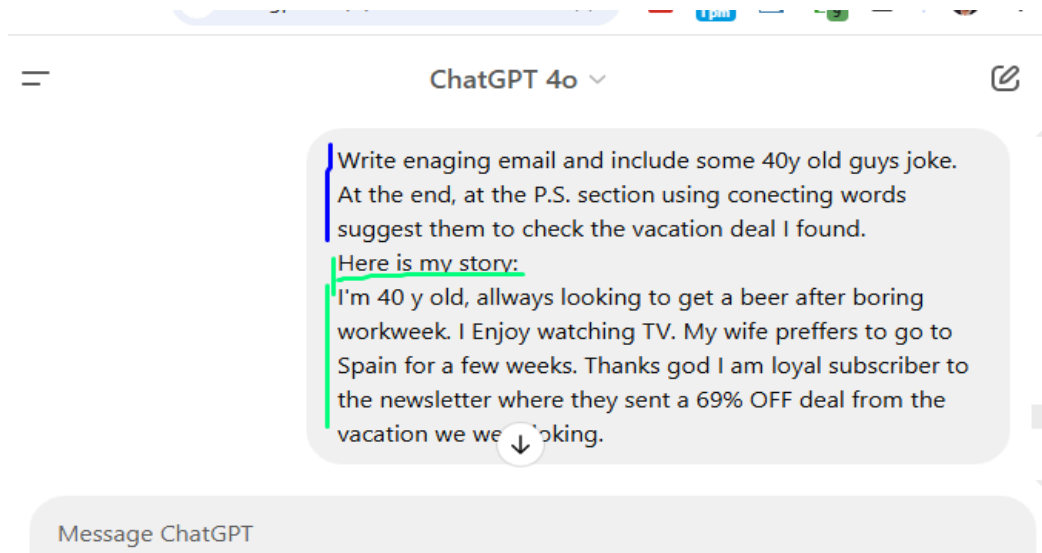

See the example below and tell me how long it takes to copy what I do.
10 minutes? 15 minutes? Five minutes?

All I did was write a prompt and tell my story.

Nothing else...

Can it be easier? I don't think so.

See what prompt I gave.

Do you need to be a smart ass to write this prompt?

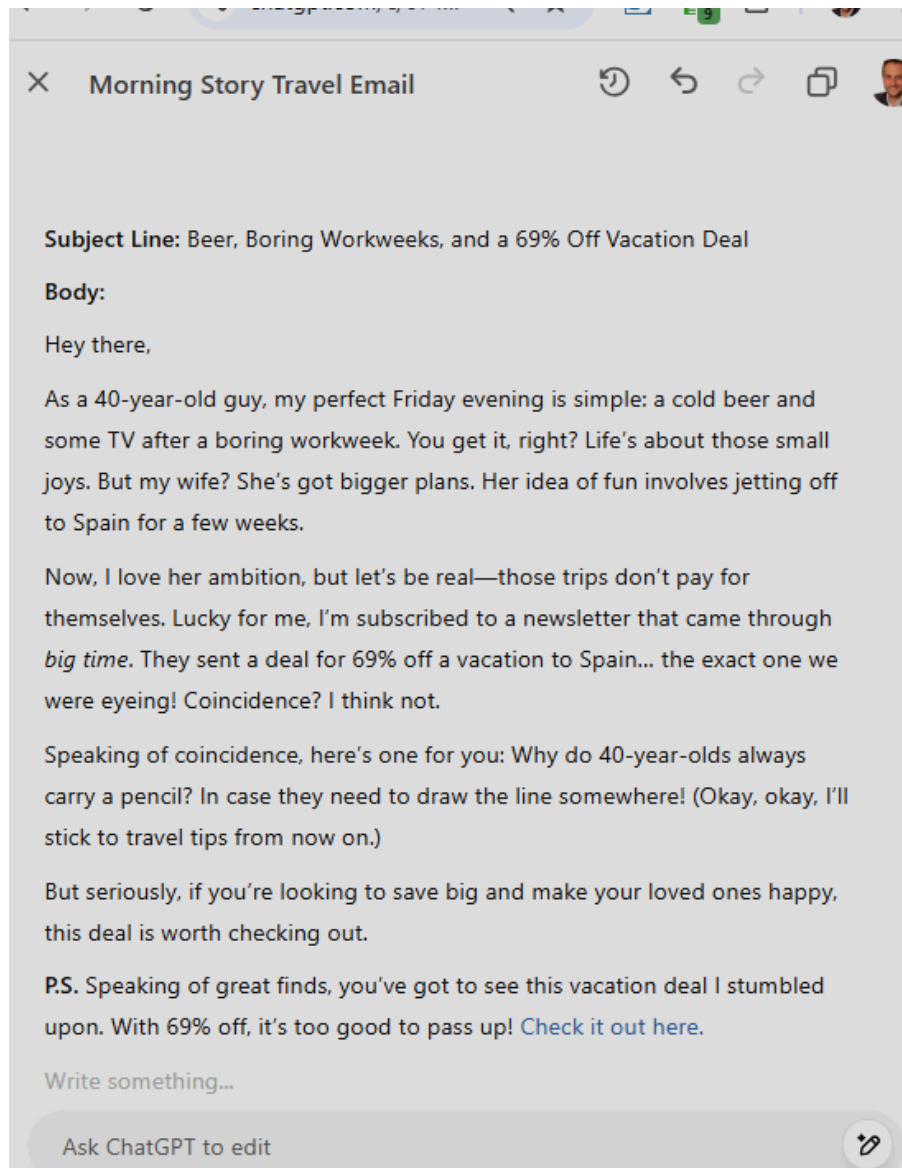

I don't think so.

You can do it EVERY day, just writing what you're up to, what makes you angry, what makes you happy, what you watched, what you're going to do, etc. And ask AI to come up with a story for you.

It's that simple.

Here is what AI wrote for me so I could make a real example for you:

Yep. Ten minutes and you have something quite good to start with.

I don't think I understood the joke about that pencil, but anyway, pretty good email, right?

You can always hire someone to write follow-up for $5–$10 per email.

But hey, why not start with AI just to get things done quickly for free and later optimize as you go?

Not a bad strategy at all, huh?

And it costs next to nothing.

I couldn't come up with an even simpler way to get you results :)

Don't believe it IS so easy?

Try yourself by going to CHATGPT and just write something similar to what I gave you.

Really, try and you'll see I'm giving you something that you can do really fast.

This is just a really good example of how you can do it.

DO NOT READ FURTHER WITHOUT DOING THIS MINI three-min ACTIVITY.

There is NO point in only reading; you must DO also.

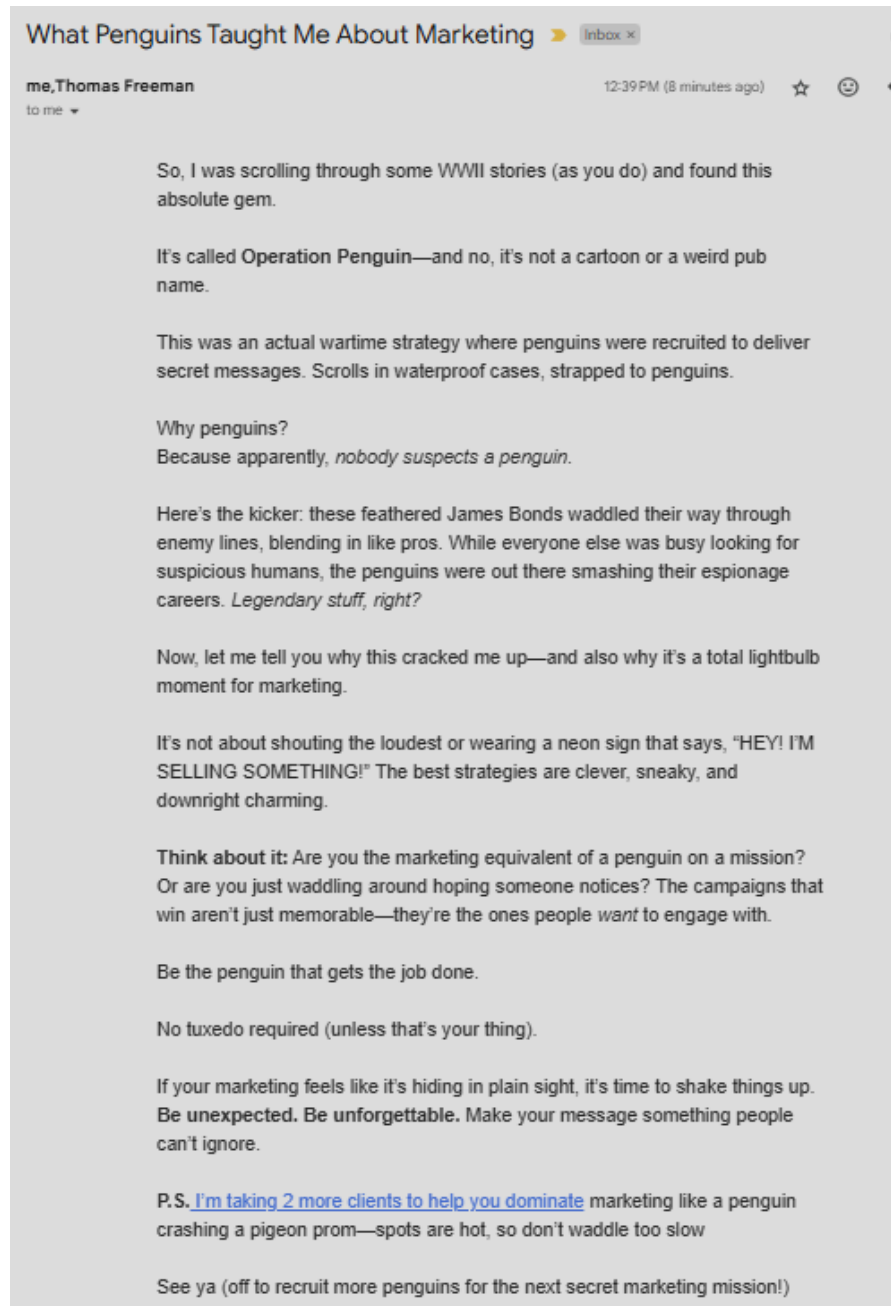

Please, just three minutes :)

P.S.

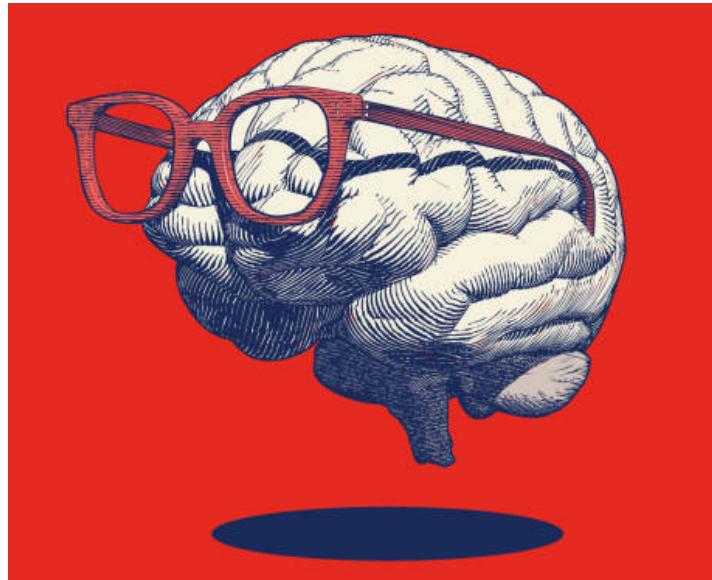

See how that P.S. section works like a charm to connect your story with something you want to sell WITHOUT being a pushy salesperson? I really like it 😊

P.S.2. I was in the middle of writing another email for my subscribers and still testing a few things but thought why not put this example here also to show you that you can talk about anything you want. Even about penguins and World War II.

If you are thinking about what to sell/promote in ongoing follow-ups, this should not worry you at all

Here we'll use other companies' products, which you can easily find and promote in exchange for a commission for each sale.

Basically you have already bought in your life from affiliate links and most probably you didn't know that because it was just a regular link you clicked from some influencer or somewhere else.

You can sell a $50 product and make $25–$100 in commission.
Yes, some will pay you commission at double what the product costs.

Check this page CLICKBANK.

See at the top BLUE rectangle - those are categories.

The screenshot shows the ClickBank Marketplace interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with the ClickBank logo and a user profile for Tomass Freimanis. Below this is a search bar and a category navigation bar. A blue arrow points to a blue rectangle containing the following categories: Health & Fitness, E-Business & E-Marketing, Spirituality, New Age & Alternative Beliefs, Self-Help, Home & Garden, Cooking, Food & Wine, Green Products, and Business / Investing. On the left, a red rectangle highlights the 'Category' dropdown menu, which is currently set to 'Health & Fitness'. Below this, a list of subcategories is shown with their respective product counts: Addiction (3), Beauty (17), Dental Health (14), Dietary Supplements (170), Diets & Weight Loss (84), Exercise & Fitness (48), General (26), Meditation (7), Men's Health (76), Mental Health (13), Nutrition (10), Remedies (72), Sleep and Dreams (5), Spiritual Health (1), Strength Training (7), Women's Health (19), and Yoga (1). The main content area displays 'All Categories / Health & Fitness' with 573 results. It features a 'Sort results by' dropdown set to 'Rank: High-Low'. Two product listings are visible: 'Nagano Tonic - $5 EPCs' with a Gravity score of 364.87, and 'ProstaVive - Powerhouse Prostate Offer' with a Gravity score of 256.20. Each listing includes details about the offer, such as 'Initial $/conversion' and 'Future $/rebill', and a 'Promote' button.

See all those products you can choose to promote?

I just opened the Health & Fitness category and see how many subcategories there are?

Crazy, right?

You can find many other categories for niches like fishing, gardening, gadgets, self-help, business, DIT, etc.

All you need to do is register there and click the PROMOTE button (blue one) and copy your special link into your email.

I'm sure you know how to copy and paste on the computer, right?

Just look at products that make sense to you and have good payouts.

Again, I can assure you that you have bought numerous products online through affiliate links (they are just regular links) not even imagining someone was receiving commission for the purchase you made.

Airbnb, Booking.com, Uber, Nike, Amazon and many more have affiliate links you can promote.

Interesting, right? :).

But you want to sell without selling, right?

Most people hate selling. I get it and I think my solution will help you to sell without selling.

There is an easy way to do this, as I mentioned previously in my examples throughout the P.S. section and using simple connecting words.

(AI is doing all this for you for freeeeeeee!)

You have to entertain them (again, it's not what you think!).

And you need to stop thinking that you need to have highly relative content to write about, like some smart ass with terminology no one understands.

Yes, your email list or Facebook, Instagram, etc. audience thinks this is what they need, but in reality they want entertaining content and they are fine when you add some product links (as promotion, suggestion, etc.).

That's EXACTLY why people can't resist social media because it's entertaining as hell.

Our brain is asking for dopamine.

I learned from one of my mentors that I need to tell awful jokes, including stories about my life, weird facts, funny, sexy, or shocking stories in my emails.

Simply because people respond to those.

And let me tell you a secret. YOU TOO RESPOND TO ALL THAT.

Don't get me wrong. You must teach too. You must inform and help people. But for the most part, entertain. Tell stories and make it interesting and watch the results.

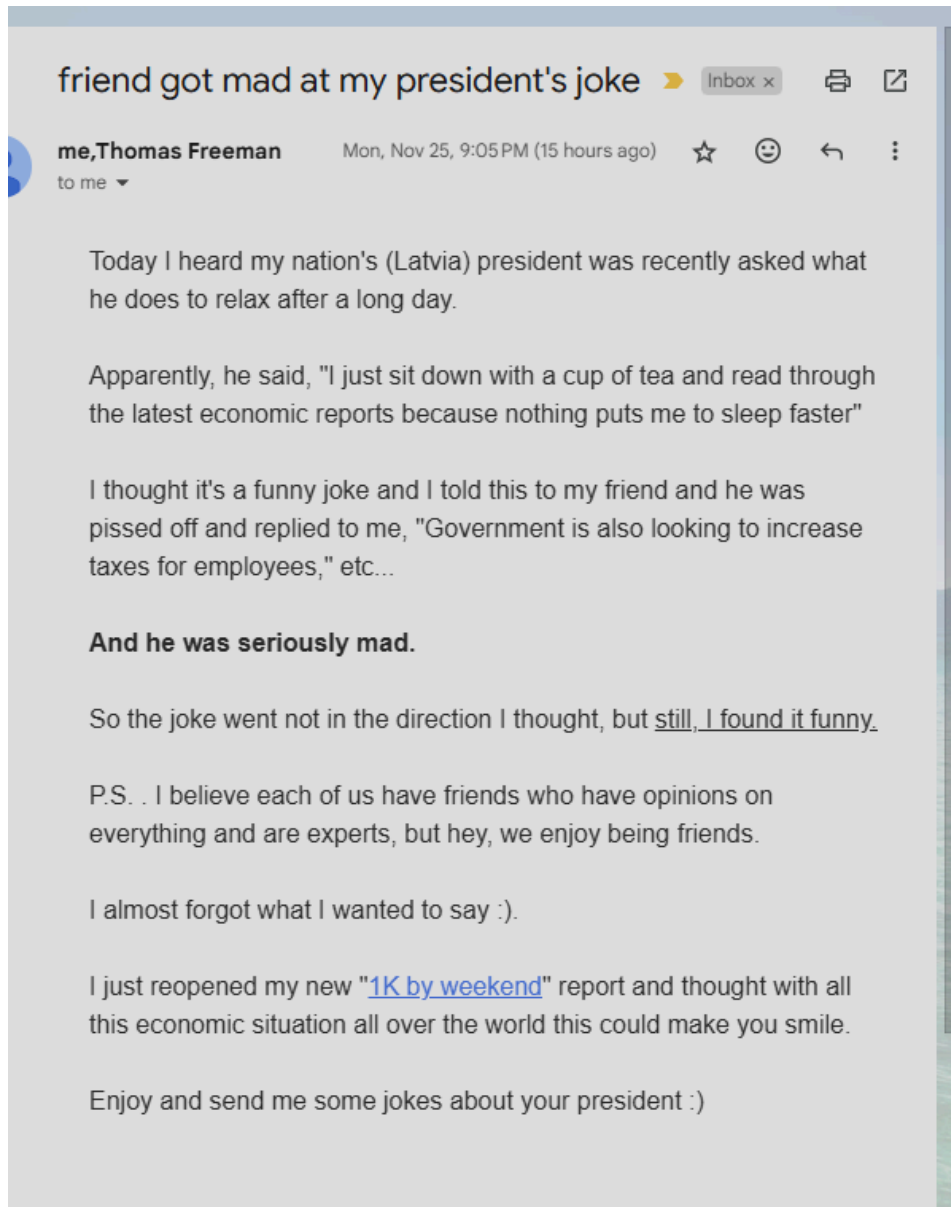

I already showed you numerous examples from my own archive and the archives of some of my consulting customers.

Because THIS works.

Luckily, most people starting on this journey have no idea that this works and I show them a new way to get results.

See one of my emails below.

(It's about how I, Thomas Freeman, told a joke to my friend about our president and how he got mad. Anyway, I like the joke :))

See how I'm not selling anything?

It's that easy and you can do it with ZERO special knowledge.

Let me give you another example of how I will make the same email fit into two totally different niches.

This is crazy when you know this works and it is so easy to set up.

For example, the same email about the joke of the president could be used in one of the niches here: Hiking, traveling, fishing, diet, health, gardening, self-development, etc. REALLY.

So you write your email including the joke about the president and at the end you say:

Almost forgot what I wanted to say!

The next time you are going out, I found this new thing that keeps mosquitoes away from you (like the government or maybe even the president away from your salary).

*Funny how many people find it works.
I'm looking to try it next week.*

Let me know what you think and maybe some of you have any experience with this already? Share, please.

See, this thing for mosquitoes relates also to hiking, traveling, fishing and I could find many other niches where this would fit.

And my tone is really conversational, without even telling anyone to buy something. Just suggesting what I found. That's it. It's that simple.

But the important thing for you is to see how you can use this joke about the president and government basically in any niche.

Another example.

I just gave ChatGPT the right prompt and VOILA—one minute and it's ready.

See? Don't tell me you don't have one minute to do such a simple task.

That took me one minute by asking AI to connect my president's email with my P.S. section but in this case just for the HEALTH-DIET niche.

Maybe for you it will take two to five minutes, but if this is an excuse for you not to work...

FCK! You lovable procrastinator!

You need a real slap on your cozy butt!

(I was just wondering why so often I talk about slapping...)

You can write about what pissed you off today, why you are angry, what you are reading, and what you think about the government, what new things you bought today, which of your children/pets broke your phone, or your negative/positive experience with anything in life and this instantly makes you interesting as a person to your followers.

It's all about getting their attention and redirecting it to your product, which doesn't have to be related at all to what you wrote.

You can link any content to any offer using phrases such as,
"And speaking of interesting items..."

OR

"Here is another thing you should pay attention to..."

Don't worry; as your experience grows you will find connector words that your followers, subscribers etc. will get used to.

To make it easier, I can show you 20 to 30 emails so you can have your own written in five minutes.

It's that simple (or I'm just giving you a simple solution).

Take one of my templates and add your personality and you are ready to send the email.

Five minutes is all it takes

Just simply reach out to me and I will send you the same blueprint I charge my customers thousands for (as part of my mentoring program).

And that's how you get that personal feeling and sell without selling.

Too easy, huh? 😊

P.S. You can find my email address on each of the pages of this report at the bottom in the footer.

Email schedule you need to follow with

I always say to my consulting customers that you need an email schedule, especially when you start. After that, it's just a gut feeling. It does not matter what content exactly, it's about the feel of it.

For example:

Monday, start your email with a joke.

Tuesday, tell a personal story.

Wednesday, tell a story about the niche you are in.

Thursday, make it a motivational email and so on.

Sometimes I like to mix all this from week to week, but don't overcomplicate it.

And yes, in every email you should include a link to click and a product or service they can buy.

But the way you wrap your email/offer must be entertaining

I showed you numerous examples of how easy it is to do it.

Just do that EVERY day.

P.S. Here it is (again) my five-minute shortcut you can use...

Reach out to me and I will give you a full 30day email sequence example and I will even show you how to adjust it to your personality within five to 10 minutes.

Anyway.... I asked my 84-year-old grandma if she could follow this (without prior experience) and she did it.

Really, get in touch with me and I will forward you instructions and, basically, you will be ready to schedule your unique emails after 15 minutes.

It's crazy how fast you can see results when you have the right shortcuts.

P.S. I'm 200% sure I wouldn't be where I am in my life if I had not had mentors who showed me what I needed.

P.S. Don't reject help because that can influence your success, and remember, your success in walking, talking, reading, or even getting a driving license was only possible because you had a mentor who helped you along the way, right? :)

So reach out to me and get that five minute blueprint if you want to move fast and quickly see results or do it on your own because you saw how easy it was.

Really, there is NOT much more you need to know at this stage because that will paralyze you and will make things more complicated. I know.

P.S.

PRO tip

When you have sent those emails for a longer time, all you need to do is to look at the stats and see which are performing the best—open rate, click rate and sales—and you can basically after some time make the best 30 emails and schedule them to be sent out once per day and never write new ones if you don't want to.

Really, that's how I work. That is how many other successful people do too.

You have all the rights to do it the same way and you'll see you'll make money while you sleep, do your hobby or other things, but not working directly as you used to.

Isn't this exactly the reason why you wanted to get this report? 😊

BONUS

You really can be an expert in “two weeks”

If you want and think you need it...

BUT for selling simple PLR report types of products you really don't need anything of this, especially when you're starting out.

However, from time to time, some of you may want to give your advice as an expert, right?

Because it simply feels like the right thing to do, even though your inner voice tells you that you're not quite an expert yet.

Let me calm you down...

Again, you do NOT need to be an expert, but if you really insist...

Remember how you learned from this report how to choose your interests?

Perhaps you are already an expert but you don't realize that you know 10 times more than the average person who is interested in the same.

Think about that for a second.

Let's say you're genuinely excited about all the opportunities this report is showing you! :)

(Or maybe it's just me, feeling a bit nostalgic and clinging to hope? Nah, not quite there yet! ;))

Don't lose this optimism. It's ALL real as you read it :)

To be honest, if you've followed some of the steps outlined in this report and achieved results (even small ones—results are results!) you can start presenting yourself as a knowledgeable person and SELL YOUR RESULTS .

Interesting, huh?

There's nothing wrong with that!

You literally could teach people what you learned FROM THIS REPORT because you're now two steps ahead of them.

Imagine someone who wanted to get healthier, so they researched nutrition and fitness basics.

They lost a few pounds, started feeling more energetic, and gained some confidence.

Now, they might share those simple tips with friends, even if they're not a certified trainer, RIGHT? Because of the results they got. Simple as that.

But they're a step ahead of others just starting out and that experience alone makes their advice valuable.

Let's say you learned how to cook simple meals using just five ingredients in five minutes. Suddenly, your friends are curious to know how you do it and now you're in a position where you've become the go-to expert everyone is paying attention to.

All you need to do is start by reading up on everything you need to know and joining groups and forums related to your niche to find answers to your specific questions.

Remember how Tony in just two weeks became almost an expert on the yacht he was researching?

Answer questions, look for answers, discuss.

It's best if it is related to the report you chose as your product you're going to sell so you not only get better at what interests you but you make your upcoming product better.

It's a win-win.

Here's another example of one of my consulting customers who didn't have any special skills before they met me:

A few years ago, my customer decided to focus on ensuring their cat and dog were on the best diet possible because this was something I found out they were spending a lot of time doing on their browsing history and YouTube 😊

To be honest they never ever thought this was something they could flip as an income because "Hey, it's just about our pets' nutrition..."

So... They wanted to find the most effective nutrition that would cater to their pets' specific needs—something that balanced health benefits with practicality for their busy life.

To achieve this, they dove deep into researching pet nutrition.

They explored a wide range of resources, including articles, scientific studies, and reviews from veterinarians and pet nutritionists.

They joined online forums, attended webinars, and consulted with experts in the field of pet health.

Like any of us would do when we have some problem, we do research.

Within a few weeks, my customer became highly knowledgeable about pet nutrition.

They learned how to identify high-quality ingredients in pet food, recognized the signs of good versus poor dietary formulations, and understood the specific nutritional needs of cats and dogs at various life stages.

They also discovered which brands were considered superior and which ones had potential issues, such as inadequate protein levels or harmful fillers.

In essence, they acquired enough expertise to create a comprehensive guide on healthy eating for pets, detailing the best food brands and their benefits as well as relevant supplement options.

They even identified which brands offered affiliate programs, allowing them to provide reliable recommendations to other pet owners.

By focusing on this specialized area, my customer was able to become an expert quickly.

This approach is exactly what you should consider—develop deep knowledge in the areas that are most relevant to your audience's needs and interests.

And by deep I mean just a bit more and, in most cases, in two to three weeks you can literally be an expert, which is two steps ahead of the majority.

This was a very specific niche and they were able to become experts literally in a few weeks just to write their very first report 😊

Maybe you like fishing in special waters.

Maybe you're a fan of beer and know very specific things about it.

Maybe you recently bought a new car and were doing research.

Or you were looking to travel abroad to see castles or special places.

Maybe you bought a gaming laptop and did some heavy research there.

Or you did some research on balcony gardening.

Or you did some research on baby diapers.

I could go on and on, but you see there is literally no limit.

The more specific and the smaller niche you are in the better (at least when you start).

How great would it feel to be immersed in your hobby or area of interest all day, full-time, for a living?

Some niches can take literally two weeks to learn heavily, some maybe six weeks, but hey, two to six weeks doing research that you enjoy to earn your salary and/or get freedom?

Again, to replicate my mom's and friend's success, to see sales from DAY 1, you don't need to be an expert.

I wasn't.

My mom wasn't.

My friend wasn't.

Many of my consulting customers weren't.

Ready?

Again... This changed my life. Is it going to change your life too?

Do you want it really?

I'm trying to inspire you to at least try before saying, "Oh, this doesn't work."

Well, as I said, it's life-changing; the quickest way to as much wealth as you want and anyone can do it with a slight shift in mindset and little work.

Remember, when I started, I had zero knowledge of what I was doing and all I was doing was following my friend who had made his first $100.

Yes, my mentor had made only $100 when I decided he was worth following.

Because for me it was simply understanding that if someone is even one or two steps ahead of me it's worth learning from that person.

It's that simple.

So now you are following someone (me on this report) who made more than $100 and from now on, you have quite a good edge, right?

I hope this makes sense to you.

Million-Dollar Question

Sell in every email?

You think it's boring? Think again.

I felt you may have this question when I mentioned this previously and this needs to be answered.

How does this help your list stay responsive?

Here's the thing...

If you get the balance between content and entertainment right, people won't mind if there's a sales link in every email.

And I get it; you might feel hesitant about putting a link in every email (I used to feel that way too!).

You might think, But I don't want to come off as pushy or annoy my subscribers.

Totally understandable.

Let me re-ask you...

You saw my previous email examples (mine and my customers') and that was nothing close to pushy or annoying, right?

Here's the good news: as long as you're building a relationship and providing real value, people won't mind!

In fact, they'll actually expect you to include a link in every email.

The key here is connection—if they like you, they'll want to hear more from you, and that means they'll be okay with you showing “what's new there” and how they can “get value out of that”.

The reality is people are drowning in free content these days. DROWNING...

But paid content?

That's where the magic happens.

When someone buys information from you—or acts on something you suggested—they value it more. And that's what drives them to take action.

Action leads to results—results for your followers. And what can be better?

Your subscribers want to see what you have to offer.

That's why they joined your list/group/etc. in the first place, right?

They're eager to see what you've got.

Seriously, keep that in mind. You're doing something most people aren't doing—and, frankly, most won't tell you about—because their approach is different, their expertise is different, or they're stuck in their own ways.

There's no single “right” or “wrong” way to do this. If there were, everything would be wrong eventually, just because it hadn't been done before.

So don't listen but get things done.

.GET

.DONE

At Least Start Something.

Time to start...

(And this is the secret to success online)

It's time to make money.

Doesn't each of us have something we put off starting, thinking it was already too late—only to realize later how happy we would have been if we'd started back then?

Imagine this: if someone who had been mining gold for 15+ years pointed to a spot and said, “Dig here—there’s a 95% chance you’ll find gold,” would you hesitate?

Probably not. You’d grab a shovel and get to work.

Or picture this: if someone like Mark Zuckerberg shared what's working right now in micro-niches like health and beauty, based on his proven strategies, would you pay attention?

Of course you would—it just makes sense to listen to someone with some credibility.

Now, I'm not a gold miner or Mark Zuckerberg—far from it—but those examples make the point clear.

Here's the deal: I followed a friend who was just a little ahead of me (only one or two steps).

He'd made $100 and I thought, I just need to copy what he did and I, too, will make $100.

I copied what he did, step by step and made $100.

That $100 turned into hundreds, then hundreds of thousands.

And guess what.

You have the same kind of opportunity.

You don't need to be an expert if you don't want to.

Just follow the steps and see how it works for you.

AGAIN, I followed a friend who made only $100 and because he was just a couple of steps ahead of me, I just copied what he did and I made hundreds and later thousands.

Can you hear me clearly?

I didn't follow someone who had made tens or hundreds of thousands,
BUT just a newbie friend who had made $100.

How many of you today would open any YouTube video from a guy who is talking about how he made his first $100...? Huh?

I would :)

Because I know the power of it.

It's the same reason I try to keep everything as simple as it was when I first started—because THIS works when you apply it.

I gave you blueprints and shortcuts and now all you need to do is find a few evenings while sitting in a warm place to do a few of those tasks to see some results

(maybe even while you watch TV, put your "FB, IG, etc. scrolling" away and to do the work, huh?).

I gave you shortcuts and even demonstrated how technology can do most of the necessary work for you.

It's your advantage over millions of people who will never get this report and see what's written here.

The work needed to make your first $1,000 online isn't that much compared with a traditional physical offline business, nowhere near actually.

Sure, there is some work involved, but that is to your advantage because you have access to blueprints and shortcuts most will never have.

I have never achieved anything by leaving something half done and abandoning projects.

Sure, I am just human and I have done all the negative things above.

Remember, I just started because I needed money.

It's like you and most people who decide to change their work...

89% of people change their work because they will get a 20% salary increase; Or you may do the work because you need money...

I have worked abroad and, believe me, I know how it is to work a job you may not like, but the salary is what keeps you there and that is totally something I wish I will not need to do again.

I know what a good salary means, but I also know what hard work means.

With just a few hours of your time, you could see the potential of all this and all while working on your day job.

Bloody hell (as my Brit friends say).

Working 30 to 60 minutes on your dream is not too much to ask, especially when you are working on something to make money while you sleep, huh?

This is something that could easily replace your salary over time with 10 x less effort.

The question is will you do it?
