WELCOME

Welcome to Your Wealth Experiment

You're about to dive into the magic of your unique wealth theme. Whether you're a Generator, Manifestor, Projector, or Reflector, this is all about experimenting with what works for you.

Aligning with your wealth theme makes abundance flow with ease. But here's the truth: not everything will fit perfectly—and that's okay! Take what lights you up and leave the rest.

This journey is about you finding your flow and creating wealth in a way that feels natural and joyful.

So, get playful, trust the process, and let your energy guide you. You've got this!

Generators: Lit Up by Life

Generators, your wealth theme is all about being lit up by life. The more you lean into what excites you and step away from what drains you, the more abundant and energized you become. When you're aligned, you'll have more than enough energy for all the things that matter. Whether it's in your business, relationships, or everyday life, when you're fueled by that "hell yes" energy, everything just flows.

But here's the thing: your power lies in responding, not forcing. You're designed to wait for the right opportunities to come your way—those moments when your sacral lights up and your whole body screams “YES!” That's when you know you're in alignment and on the right track. And trust me, when you're lit up by what you do, wealth follows naturally. You feel energized, fulfilled, and pretty much unstoppable.

Generators: Lit Up by Life

Now, let's talk about frustration because it's a real thing. When you hit a plateau or start to feel burned out, it's easy to get stuck. And when you're stuck, you might find yourself overspending or searching for quick fixes to fill the void. The secret to avoiding this? Stay tuned into what fuels you. Pay attention to the things that bring you joy and light you up, and be brave enough to walk away from anything that doesn't. It's simple, but it's powerful.

Patience, passion, and purpose are your keys to creating sustainable wealth. When you're aligned with those, you become a magnet for opportunities, energy, and abundance. So, stay the course, trust your sacral, and let life light you up. And if you're ready to go from half-assed to hell yes, I've got a class to help you make that shift [\[link\]](#).

THE WEALTHY MANIFESTING GENERATOR

Manifesting Generators: Master the Momentum

Manifesting Generators, you are an unstoppable force when you're responding to your sacral and using your energy wisely. Your superpower? Momentum. But here's the catch—knowing when to respond and when to put the pedal to the medal is a lifelong journey into your own embodied wisdom.

Frustration is real, especially when you hit a wall. And let's be honest, many quit just before they hit that next level of mastery.

The key is to experiment, tune into your body, and respond to those universal nudges that guide you. Learning to wait and manage frustration in healthy ways is crucial. That's how you move from half-assed to hell yes and become the true master of your life.

Manifesting Generators: Master the Momentum

The more you love your work and feel fulfilled by sharing your gifts, the easier it is to create and maintain wealth. When you're lit up, abundance flows effortlessly. But here's where you need to be mindful—your natural urge to move fast can sometimes lead to looking for shortcuts. You know, skipping steps only to realize you've got to go back and fix things later. This is your process and part of your genius, give yourself some grace, I know you have 50 tabs open on your computer (your mind as well) and you holding a lot of energy!

Remember, patience, passion and purpose are your secret weapons for building true wealth. And don't forget—your health is your wealth. When you're aligned, energized, and tuned into your sacral, there's no limit to what you can create. So, keep moving with intention, trust your gut, and know that abundance is always on the horizon when you're living in alignment with your true power.

THE PROJECTOR

Focus

Guidance, Wisdom, Intuitive, Sensitive, Sharing

Life Purpose

Guide, Lead & Manage others

Strategy

Wait to be invited or recognized

Emotional Theme

Bitterness/depletion (low energy)

Wealth Theme

Self- mastery upon receiving invitation

Challenges

Waiting to receive the right invitation, giving away intellectual property

20% of the population are projectors

THE WEALTHY PROJECTOR

Projectors: Be the Invitation

Abundance for you, darling, is all about two key things: knowing your worth and working smarter, not harder. When you truly value yourself and your gifts, you become a magnet for all the right opportunities. Your power lies in waiting for recognition from those who see your brilliance—don't waste time or energy on those who don't get it.

But here's the catch: while you're waiting for that golden invitation, you've got to prepare. This means creating systems in your business so you don't always have to be "on." Work on your offers, build your funnels, and create automated processes that work in the background. That way, when the recognition (and opportunities) come, you're ready to roll.

THE WEALTHY PROJECTOR

As a Projector, you're here to guide, coach, and nurture others while they do the building and initiating. Your job? Be the wise soul who knows when to step in and when to step back. And when you're aligned with that role, bam—you become a beacon for abundance.

Oh, and about those systems or deep dives you're obsessed with? They're not just hobbies. They're intuitive nudges, guiding you toward what others need help with. Embrace it. Create your own systems and workflows so that when the right people come knocking, you're prepped and primed to shine.

Remember, you don't need to hustle like everyone else. Trust in your power, create the space for abundance, and be the invitation.

P.S. Want more on this? I wrote a blog all about it. Check it out.

THE MANIFESTOR

Focus

Initiator, Innovative, Powerful,

Life Purpose

Lead change by initiating others into action

Strategy

Inform those who will be impacted by their actions

Emotional Theme

Anger due to energy flow disruption

Wealth Theme

Creating multiple revenue streams

Challenges

Sustainable energy, moves faster than others, accessing the right kind of support

9% of the population are Manifestors

THE WEALTHY MANIFESTOR

Manifestors: Nurture Your Creative Spark

Manifestors, you're the trailblazers—the ones with that unique ability to initiate and spark new ideas. But here's the thing: your power comes in creative bursts, not consistent, grind-it-out energy like some others. That's why it's so important to nurture and honor those surges of creativity. One of the best ways to support yourself? Build multiple passive income streams. Investments, collaborations, and affiliates are your best friends here. They give you freedom and flow without draining your energy.

You're not built for traditional, labor-intensive work, and that's okay! If you find yourself in those roles, it's crucial to prioritize rest afterward. Sure, you can work hard in short bursts, but you need to step back, break that auric space, and recharge. Rest is non-negotiable if you want to stay aligned and maintain your well-being.

Manifestors: Nurture Your Creative Spark

Manifestors who master their energetic process are unstoppable. When you honor your rhythm—working in creative surges and resting when needed—you naturally align with abundance. The key is to find healthy, dynamic ways to fulfill your purpose without burning out.

Many Manifestors thrive as creative artists, writers, or visionaries, as long as they have the support structures in place. So, focus on nurturing your gifts, letting your creativity lead, and finding ways to make money that don't require constant output. I work with a lot of manifestors who are photographers, so we create packages that are higher ticket and sell the experience. This is just an example of how this works. # THE REFLECTOR

Focus

Mirror, Community, Right Place, Timing, Sensitivity

Life Purpose

Measure the energy in the community

Strategy

Wait before making decisions (wait 28/29 days)

Emotional Theme

Disappointment

Wealth Theme

Takes time to make choices

Challenges

Needing certainty, truth, and solution are more important than anything else

1% of the population are Reflectors

THE WEALTHY REFLECTOR

Reflectors: The Cosmic Mirrors of Abundance

Reflectors, your experience with abundance is deeply tied to the environment and community you surround yourself with. You are the cosmic mirrors of the world, reflecting the energy of those around you. You know what they say, you are the make up of the 5 people you hang out with the most! Choosing environments that offer vibrant, positive energy is key to unlocking your financial potential.

When it comes to making money, Reflectors thrive when they take their time to make thoughtful decisions. Fast-paced things like day trading or high-pressure environments may not be your vibe. You need time to feel into the right choices. By surrounding yourself with the right community and creating an environment that supports your wellbeing, you can build a solid financial foundation. Slow and steady wins the race, Reflector!

Reflectors: The Cosmic Mirrors of Abundance

Reflectors, you may find that your energy ebbs and flows, which makes it crucial to work with natural cycles—especially the cycles of the moon. Aligning with lunar phases helps you understand when to rest, when to create, and when to take action. By honoring these rhythms, you can build sustainable abundance without burning out. I've got a fantastic resource to help you with this [\[link\]](#).

One of your superpowers is playing the role of the critic in the most helpful, empowering way. Finding communities, both online and offline, where your feedback is valued will not only boost your wealth but also help you feel aligned with your purpose. So take your time, choose your environments wisely, and watch how abundance naturally flows when you're in the right space.

QUANTUM ACTIVATION

I am a Quantum BEing,
Sovereignty is my birthright. I was born to govern my Being and rule my life. I am a powerful magnet when I am in energetic alignment with the truth of who I AM.

I Love

I Serve

I Am Supported

I Choose

I Forgive

I Am Vital

I Am Compassionate

The Quantum Realm is my playground. It is where I attract all possibilities and potential from. I align with intention,
open my heart, practice
gratitude, faith and patiently trust that the universe
will bring me synchronicities that I respond to according to my strategy.
