

attract & repel social media spell

Suggested Ritual:

- do the spell in the evening
 - light a candle (preferably white for clarifying energy)
 - journal about your ideal client, write them a love note
 - journal about the wrong fit people your social media is currently attracting, write them a breakup letter
 - read the attached spell aloud
 - once you read the spell, close social media for the night, only open again in the morning
-

the spell

O Light, let me be luminous and illuminated, let me shine without apology or reproach, let all who see my light recognize it for the good it is.

O Dark, let me be whole, including my pain and shadow and harm done unto others. Never allow me or anyone else to sever my connection to all of who I am, even if I'm not always proud of each and every part.

O Self, be yourself. Fully, and in all your glorious complications and contradictions. You are guided, you are protected in the online realm. Only those who can witness you in your fullness will find their way to you now.

O Hatred, be gone. You have no space here, there is no room for your mangled shape. You are not the same as criticism or accountability. You are cruelty, and I reject you, roundly.

And So It May Be.

