

Module 3 – Build Your Confidence

Exercise 5: Star in Your Own News Report

Imagine you're reporting on your own success.

You're a reporter from the community press describing a local business celebrity (yes, that's you!).

You have to write a 1000-word profile of this person that you admire for the achievements they've created in their life and the inspiration they provide for others in the neighborhood.

Come up with an eye-catching headline.

You could place the article at a time 3 to 6 months from now to give you the chance to become that person.

Headline:

Overcoming Imposter Syndrome

Profile:
