

Embrace 'Subscription'

Overview:

In the competitive world of talent acquisition, traditional recruitment methods are becoming increasingly burdensome and costly. Jonothan Bosworth presents an innovative solution: a subscription-based recruitment model designed to save you time, reduce expenses, and enhance the quality of your hires.

Key Findings:

Recruitment agencies charge an average of 18% of an employee's salary, with fees rising to 25%–30% for senior headhunting roles. For instance, hiring an employee with a £74,000 salary could cost over £18,500 +VAT for a single role. If you need to fill multiple positions, the costs escalate exponentially. Imagine the expense of filling 7 roles under this traditional model – a staggering £129,500!

Information:
