Display Basics

0:02

We're gonna go over some display basics in your Beauty Base. So one of the main things, when viewing the Database View, that you can do is to change the row height. So right now I have it set to extra tall, you can change it to short, medium or tall. And there are certain fields that you know are not applicable and they're kind of getting in the way you can choose to uncheck them. If this helps you with concentration, or you're just overwhelmed with all of the information and to just get it down to something that works for you. That is completely up to you.

I'm going to click on over here to the Snapshot View. In the Snapshot View you really don't have many options as far as how you're going to view this page. I have found kind of a little trick in your browser. If you want, you can click on the settings and you can zoom in a little bit. And as you zoom in, it's gonna limit you know what you see. Right now it's showing three, but then if you want to zoom back out, and you actually want to see more, you can use the zoom settings on your browser. And that's going to help you with how your results are displayed in the Snapshot View. So those are the main display basics in the Beauty Base. In the next video, we're going to talk about grouping and sorting.
