

Divinely[™] EMPOWERED

OVERCOMING IMPOSTER SYNDROM

Taking back control of your life and allowing
God to lead

Reinvention,
Faith & Financial Freedom: Your Guide to Thriving

Spotlight:
Inspiring Voices
of Women in Leadership

*Your Next
Step Toward
Purpose &
Financial Freedom
Starts Here*

Exclusive
Interviews with Sarah, &
Kelly Flowers

54698726114

Be a guest on the Divinely Empowered Show and share your story to success

In this edition

2 Editor's Note

A personal message from our editor, setting the tone for this issue and highlighting key articles.

3 Reinvention: Losing Your Life to Find It

By Sarah, The Reinvention Coach
Discover how surrendering to God's will can lead to a powerful transformation. Sarah shares her personal journey of letting go, stepping into divine purpose, and embracing a life of faith-driven reinvention.

9 A Solopreneur's Guide to Smart Money Management Kelly Flowers, Financial Coach

By Kelly Flowers, Financial Coach
Money mindset meets faith-based strategy in this empowering feature. Kelly Flowers reveals how entrepreneurs can break free from financial stress, build confidence with money, and align their finances with their God-given vision.

16 Step Boldly: Align Your Purpose and Finances with God's Plan

Learn how to take faith-fueled action in every area of your life. This guide will help you connect purpose with stewardship, embrace bold confidence, and walk in alignment with God's perfect plan for your future.

17 Upcoming Opportunities and Announcements

Stay connected and informed! Discover upcoming interviews, networking events, and features designed to help you grow in faith, confidence, and purpose as part of the Divinely Empowered community.

20 Final Reflections

A heartfelt message and guided reflection to inspire you as you step boldly into your next season. Take a moment to pause, journal, and invite God's wisdom into your personal and financial journey.

21 Divinely Empowered Media Community & Resources

Explore resources, collaborations, and opportunities to connect with like-minded believers who are walking boldly in their callings.

Editor's Personal Note

Welcome to the fourth edition of Divinely Empowered Media! This issue is close to my heart because it focuses on stepping boldly into your God-given purpose while embracing financial wisdom—two pillars that truly empower you to live your best life.

As I curated these stories, interviews, and reflections, my prayer has been that every page inspires you to take confident steps in your calling, manage your resources with intentionality, and trust God's plan for your life. From Sarah's powerful insights on reinvention to Kelly Flowers' expert guidance on money mindset, this edition is packed with tools, encouragement, and actionable steps to help you thrive spiritually, personally, and professionally.

My hope is that as you turn each page, you feel equipped to rise above doubt, embrace your purpose, and steward your life and finances in alignment with God's plan.

Thank you for trusting me to walk alongside you on this journey. Keep stepping boldly, keep praying faithfully, and keep living empowered in the calling God has placed on your life.

With gratitude and faith,

Anastasia

Editor-in-Chief, Divinely Empowered Media

Remember, bold confidence doesn't come from perfection—it comes from faith, action, and surrender.

@Divinelyempoweredmedia

@Divinelyempoweredmedia

@Divinelyempoweredmedia

Reinvention: Losing Your Life to Find It

How surrender and faith can unlock the life you were created to live.

Reinvention is not about becoming someone new—it's about becoming who you were always meant to be. Many of us walk through seasons of life carrying labels, expectations, and even fears that were never ours to begin with. We cling tightly to careers, relationships, or identities that no longer serve our divine calling. And yet, Jesus reminds us in Matthew 16:25: "For whoever wants to save their life will lose it, but whoever loses their life for me will find it."

At first glance, this sounds like loss. But true reinvention is not about losing—it's about surrender.

It's laying down the weight of the old self so that the new, faith-filled you can emerge.

The Power of Letting Go

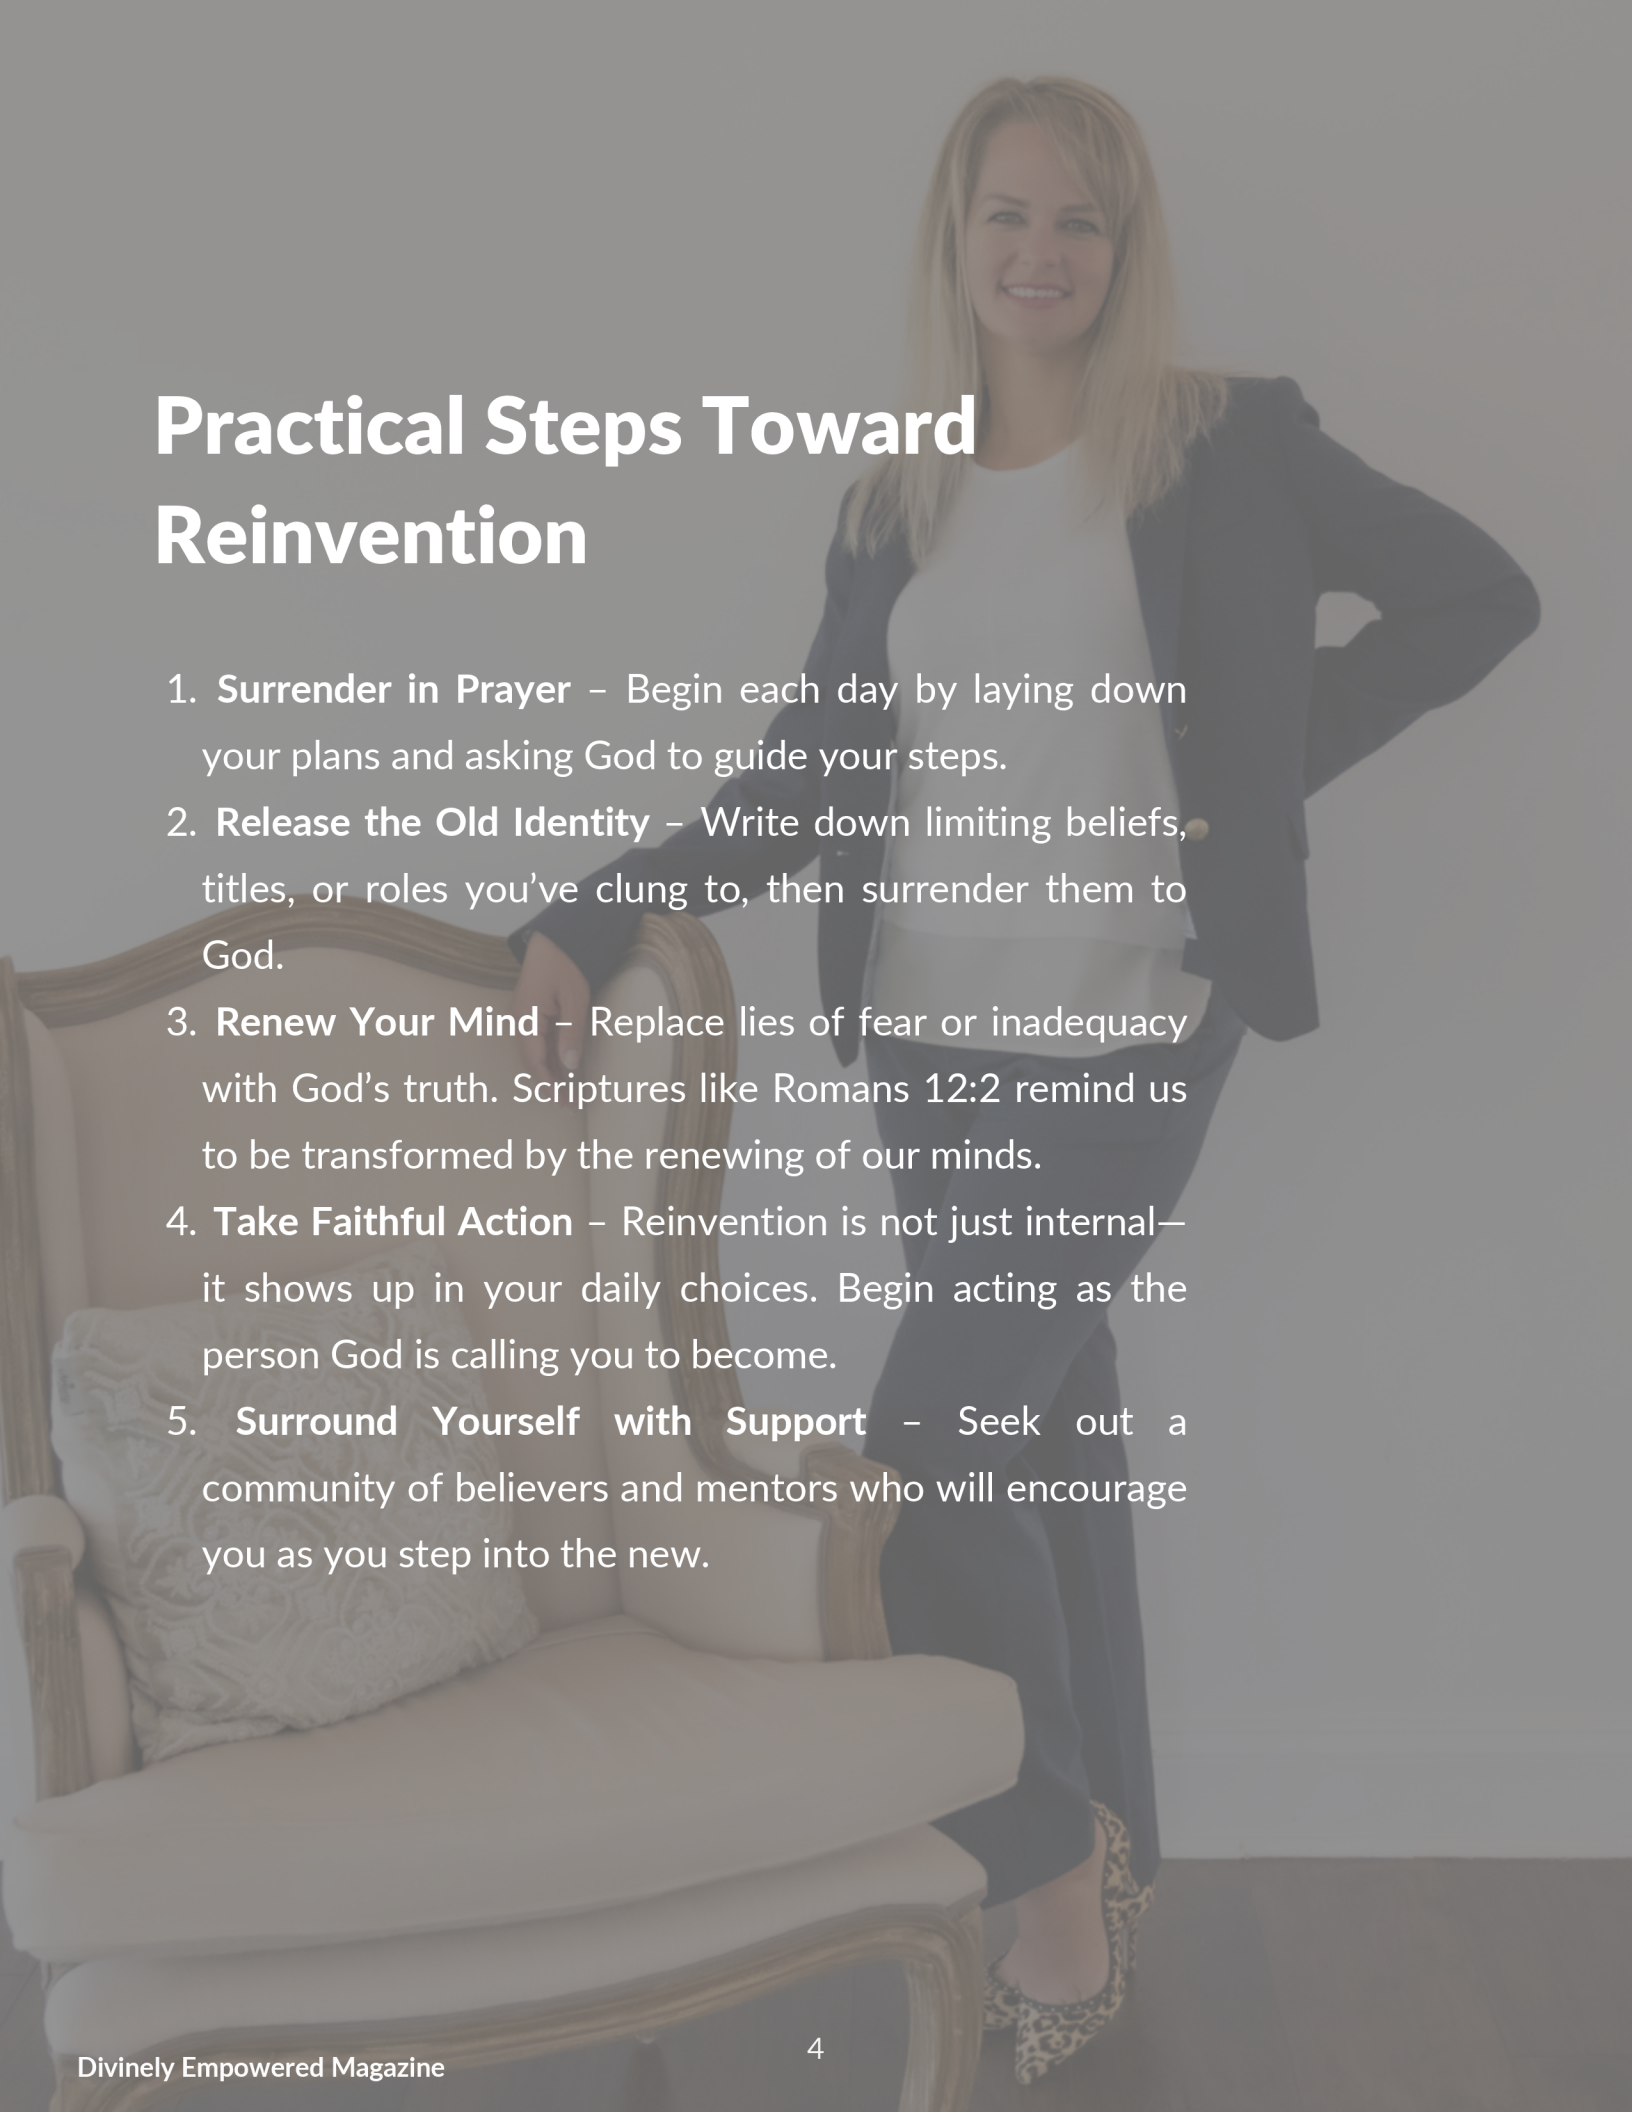

So often, we resist change because we fear the unknown. Letting go can feel like failure. But in God's kingdom, letting go is where growth begins. Just as a seed must fall into the ground and die before it brings forth fruit, our old ways of thinking and living must be surrendered so we can rise renewed.

When we release control, we invite God's wisdom to take the lead. Reinvention requires us to trade our limited vision for His eternal perspective. That's when clarity comes—not because we forced it, but because we created space for God to move.

Faith as the Foundation

Every reinvention journey requires faith. Faith is what allows us to walk away from what feels safe into what is truly purposeful. Hebrews 11:1 defines faith as "confidence in what we hope for and assurance about what we do not see."

Reinvention means trusting that God's plan is greater than our own. It means stepping into uncertainty with the confidence that His promises are certain. When you anchor your reinvention in faith, you stop chasing what the world says you need to be, and you start aligning with who God says you already are.

Practical Steps Toward Reinvention

1. Surrender in Prayer – Begin each day by laying down your plans and asking God to guide your steps.
2. Release the Old Identity – Write down limiting beliefs, titles, or roles you've clung to, then surrender them to God.
3. Renew Your Mind – Replace lies of fear or inadequacy with God's truth. Scriptures like Romans 12:2 remind us to be transformed by the renewing of our minds.
4. Take Faithful Action – Reinvention is not just internal—it shows up in your daily choices. Begin acting as the person God is calling you to become.
5. Surround Yourself with Support – Seek out a community of believers and mentors who will encourage you as you step into the new.

A Life Found in Christ

When we talk about reinvention, the world often paints it as a makeover of the outer life—new goals, new career, new image. But true reinvention is deeper than self-improvement. It's a spiritual awakening. It's the moment we realize that who we are apart from Christ will always feel incomplete.

Jesus tells us plainly in John 10:10, "I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full." A life found in Christ isn't about half-living or merely surviving. It's about thriving in abundance—peace that calms storms, joy that cannot be shaken, and purpose that gives meaning to every step.

What It Means to Find Your Life in Him

- Identity Restored – In Christ, you are no longer defined by your past mistakes or limitations. You are a new creation (2 Corinthians 5:17).
- Purpose Revealed – Instead of chasing worldly success, you discover a God-given assignment that brings fulfillment beyond titles or possessions.
- Strength Renewed – Life in Christ doesn't remove struggles, but it equips you with supernatural strength to rise above them (Philippians 4:13).
- Freedom Secured – You are free from the need to perform for approval, because your worth is anchored in His unconditional love.

The Exchange of Reinvention

When you "lose your life" for Christ, you exchange:

- Fear for faith
- Anxiety for peace
- Aimlessness for direction
- Striving for rest
- Emptiness for fullness

This is the essence of divine reinvention: you're not just starting over—you're stepping into the life you were created for all along.

A Testimony of Transformation

Think of the woman at the well in John 4. She came searching for water but left with living water—her entire identity transformed by one encounter with Jesus. That's what happens when we lose the life we think we need, and find the one only Christ can give.

UNLOCK THE FULL EDITION TODAY AND GET EMPOWERED WITH
ALL THE STRATEGIES,
STORIES, AND SUCCESS
TOOLS INSIDE!

@Divinelyempoweredmedia

@Divinelyempoweredmedia

@Divinelyempoweredmedia