Don’t where to start?
Is your child still struggling?

We’re here to help! Join our community where we dive deep into how to teach your child to read. In our comprehensive lessons, we cover:

- Which sounds to start with first
- How to get your child to catch on quick
- How to teach letters that make two sounds (e.g., 'c' as in 'cat' and 'c' as in 'city,' or 'g' as in 'go' and 'g' as in 'gem')
- Common mistakes to avoid that can slow progress
- How to assess your child using the KID Method
- Next steps after learning letter sounds

This course provides in-depth guidance on teaching your child to read in a fun and engaging way that they can easily pick up. It also includes ongoing resources to help you teach and support your practice sessions.

How to Play

On the next page, pick and cut out your play piece.

Put your play piece on start. You will use your play piece to keep track of where you are.

Say the sound of each letter until you get to the treasure.

Parents: If your child still has a hard time with letter sounds, we have a full lesson that will show you how to teach letter sounds in a way your child will remember.

Level 2: Blending Sounds

Our video course and Blending Sounds Workbook will guide you in teaching your child to read simple words with up to five letters.

While blending sounds can be challenging for many kids, this course will provide strategies to help your child combine sounds independently to read new words.

By doing so, it will reduce their reliance on memorizing long lists of sight words and enable them to confidently read words they've never encountered before.

KIDS SPARK HOUSE

Thank you

For choosing the Kids Spark House Letter Sounds Workbook

We are honored to be a part of your child's reading journey. Your dedication to their education is truly inspiring, and we hope this workbook has been a valuable resource in helping your child learn and grow.

Remember, learning to read is a magical adventure that unfolds one step at a time. Celebrate each milestone, no matter how small, and enjoy the precious moments of discovery and joy with your child.

We look forward to continuing this journey with you. Keep up the great work, and don't hesitate to reach out if you need more support or resources.
