Peptides

What you need to know!

Why Peptides?

- Peptides = messenger molecules that tell your body to heal, burn fat, build muscle, improve skin, balance hormones, and more.
- They're already found in your body—but decline with age.
- Supplementing with peptides = targeted biohacking to optimize energy, performance, metabolism, recovery, and aging.

What You Need to Know:

- Not all peptides are the same—some target fat loss (like GLP-1), others focus on inflammation, sleep, or muscle repair.
- Quality + medical guidance matter. Look for clean ingredients + legit sources=XMD Wellness.
- Peptides work best when paired with healthy habits: protein, movement, hydration, gut support, sleep.

Peptides are NOT magic shots.

Peptides ARE powerful support tools for the right lifestyle.

Peptides

What they ARE

- Short chains of amino acids (smaller than proteins, fast-acting)
- Naturally occurring messengers your body already makes
- "Instructions" that tell cells to repair, regulate, and optimize
- Precision tools that target root functions: energy, healing, mood, metabolism, immunity, longevity
- The best of holistic wellness + clinical medicine

The X Collective

Peptides

What they NOT

- Steroids → don't bulk or override your body
- Synthetic hormones → don't replace what your body makes
- A quick-fix → they're tools for better cellular communication
- One-size-fits-all → different peptides = different signals and benefits
- "Experimental hype" → decades of clinical research already behind many of them

Why You Need Peptides

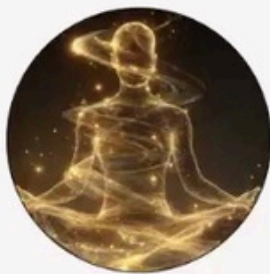

Peptides are the next evolution of wellness!

Peptides help your body remember how to perform at its best from the inside out.

GUT-BRAIN RESET

Peptides optimize the gut-brain axis to help stabilize blood sugar, calm cravings, and enhance metabolic function.

ENERGY BOOST

Microdosed peptides reignite cellular energy, accelerate recovery, and promote sustainable fat metabolism for long-term results.

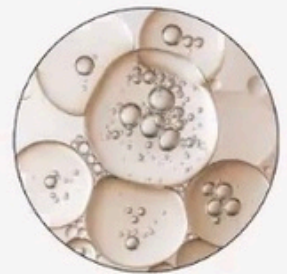

CELLULAR COMMUNICATION

Peptides act as messengers, guiding cells to repair, renew, and keep your body running efficiently.

MUSCLE, MIND, & MOOD

Peptides help preserve lean muscle, support metabolism, recovery, cognition, skin health, and long-term vitality.

CELLULAR RENEWAL

Peptides strengthen cellular function, powering mitochondria, energy, and overall resilience.

Compounded peptide therapies are available only by prescription through a licensed provider and prepared by licensed pharmacies. These compounded versions are not FDA-approved. All medical guidance comes from healthcare professionals, not Xyngular or its distributors.

glp What?

Your Telehealth professional will help you determine which GLP is best for you, but in the meantime, let's learn about them!

GLP-1 & GLP+GIP = Dual Action Power

- Semaglutide = GLP-1 only
- Tirzepatide = GLP-1 + GIP (extra metabolic support)

- ⚡ GLP-1s = Slows digestion, curbs appetite, lowers blood sugar
- ⚡ GIP = Enhances insulin response + improves fat burning

✨ Why Micro-dosing Matters-smaller dose of medication

- Eases side effects (less nausea, less fatigue)
- Helps you stay consistent without burnout
- Allows your body to adjust gradually while still getting benefits
- Promotes longer-term success with fewer plateaus

Micro vs Macro

MICRO-DOSING VS WEIGHT LOSS THERAPY

Depending on dose (macro or micro), GLP-1s can assist your body with what it was already created to do.

Micro- dosing benefits

(NOT for weight loss)

- Inflammation
- Blood sugar balance
- Gut motility + digestion
- Calms mast cell chaos
- Hormonal imbalances
- Metabolic repair
- Nervous system regulation
- Overall calm + clarity

Macro Dosing Benefits

(FOR weight loss + all the benefits of micro-dosing)

- Reduce appetite + food noise
- Improve insulin sensitivity
- Slow gastric emptying (you feel full longer)
- Support steady blood sugar
- Reduce inflammation
- Gauranteed weight loss

At either dose, GLP-1s work through:

- ✓ Appetite regulation
- ✓ Gut-brain signaling
- ✓ Blood sugar stabilization
- ✓ Inflammation support
- ✓ Improved metabolic function

Menopause hit me like a ton of bricks! Besides cutting calories and doing water aerobics for an hour 4/5 times a week i was steadily gaining weight! About a year ago i started on a low dose semaglutide and have went from 203 at my highest, to 155! Down 13 inches in my lower stomach and 9 inches in my hips!

-Teresa

The Project X Society
Teresa W. Rose

June 2025 - September 2025 I changed nothing in my normal routine other than adding in a micro dose.

-Michelle

I was on a Tirzepatide, i lost 58lbs in 4 months That was over a year ago I ended up losing additional 20 pounds after for a total of 70lbs!

-Joanne

As a perimenopausal woman who couldn't lose weight and whose blood pressure was climbing, I decided to give semaglutide a try. In 5½ months, I've lost 51 pounds and am off my blood pressure medication.

Gut Health

Why Gut Health?

Gut + Collagen = Glow + Flow

- GLP-1 side effects = bloat, nausea, constipation.
- Gut support = smoother digestion + better absorption.
- Keeps your body feeling good + looking amazing.

Why You Need Supplements

Supplements help fill nutritional gaps, support lean muscle preservation, and sustain energy, hydration, and metabolism as appetite naturally shifts.

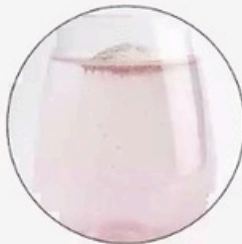

Protein

helps preserve lean muscle, supports metabolism, and helps ensure the body burns fat —not muscle during weight change.

Probiotics

help balance the gut microbiome, which can shift with lifestyle or GLP-1 use, supporting healthy digestion, mood, and immune function.

Glucose Support

helps moderate blood sugar spikes and promotes steady energy, curbing cravings and supporting balanced metabolism.

Complete Collagen

supports skin elasticity, joint health, and lean body composition for improved strength and recovery.

Multi-Vitamin

fills essential micronutrient gaps that may occur with smaller meals or reduced food variety.

Electrolytes

Replenish hydration and maintain balance as the body adjusts to new metabolic and fluid shifts.

Protein

Why Protein?

Protein = Your Weight Loss Insurance Policy

- GLP-1 slows digestion + cuts appetite = you eat less.
- Without enough protein → muscle loss + slower metabolism.
- Protein protects muscle, keeps metabolism strong, and boosts hair, skin, nails + energy.

Fiber, Prebiotics, Probiotics, Hydration & Collagen

Why these 5 matter most on GLP-1s:

GLP-1 meds slow digestion, which can lead to bloating, nausea, and constipation.

These 5 support smoother digestion, better nutrient absorption, and a healthier metabolism.

Fiber = Nature's Scrub Brush

- Keeps digestion moving
- Helps regulate blood sugar
- Supports satiety and weight loss

Aim for 25–35g daily from veggies, chia, flax, oats, etc.

Prebiotics = Gut Food with 4g per serving

- Feed the good bacteria
- Found in garlic, onions, bananas, asparagus, oats
- Crucial for gut balance + immune health

Probiotics = Good Bacteria

- Restore and balance gut flora
- Help reduce bloat, improve digestion, boost mood

Consider supplementing if you're on medication or struggling with constipation

Hydration = Digestion's Bestie

- GLP-1s slow gastric emptying = more water needed
- Helps fiber work better
- Reduces nausea + supports energy

Aim for 80–100 oz daily minimum

Collagen = strengthens gut lining & Digestion

- Preserves Skin & Hair Health
- GLP-1s can lead to rapid weight loss, which may cause loose skin or hair thinning. Collagen supports skin elasticity and strengthens hair from the inside out.
- Protects Joints & Muscle Tissue
- As you lose weight, collagen helps cushion joints, maintain muscle recovery, and prevent aches as your body adjusts.

Blood Sugar Regulation

Why Blood Sugar Regulation Still Matters on a GLP-1

Even though GLP-1 medications help regulate blood sugar, it doesn't mean your body is off the hook. Here's why blood sugar balance is still essential:

GLP-1s slow digestion + reduce appetite...

But if you're skipping meals, undereating, or choosing high-sugar "quick fixes," your blood sugar can still crash—leading to:

- 🌀 Fatigue & brain fog
- 😞 Cravings & mood swings
- 🍰 Binge episodes after restriction
- 🧬 Muscle loss + metabolism issues
- 👩 Hair loss or hormonal disruption

This is where Trimstix come in!

Why Prepping Your Gut Before Starting GLP-1s Matters

Before starting any GLP-1 medication (like semaglutide or tirzepatide), it's crucial to get your gut health in check first.

Here's why:

When your gut is sluggish, inflamed, or imbalanced, your body can't properly absorb nutrients, regulate blood sugar, or process toxins — all things GLP-1s are designed to support.

If your gut isn't ready, you might experience more nausea, constipation, bloating, and fatigue as your body adjusts.

By prepping your gut first, you're essentially priming your system for success:

- 🌿 You'll support smoother digestion and nutrient absorption
- ⚖️ You'll balance your gut microbiome, improving blood sugar and hormone regulation
- 💧 You'll reduce inflammation and bloating
- 🐍 You'll help your body respond more efficiently to GLP-1s and experience better results

Think of it like tilling the soil before planting — a healthy gut creates the foundation for your GLP-1 journey to actually work the way it's meant to.

✨ Pro Tip: Start with gut-supporting essentials like prebiotics, probiotics, digestive enzymes, and clean protein to build that strong foundation before introducing and starting any GLP-1s.
